FAILURE BY A PARTY TO OBEY THE ORDER OF THIS COURT TO PROVIDE EACH OTHER PARTY, THE COURT, AND THE STATE CASE REGISTRY WITH THE CHANGE IN THE REQUIRED INFORMATION MAY RESULT IN FURTHER LITIGATION TO ENFORCE THE ORDER, INCLUDING CONTEMPT OF COURT. A PEACE OFFICER WHO RELIES ON THE TERMS OF A COURT ORDER AND THE OFFICER'S AGENCY ARE ENTITLED TO THE APPLICABLE IMMUNITY AGAINST ANY CLAIM, CIVIL OR OTHERWISE, REGARDING THE OFFICER'S GOOD FAITH ACTS PERFORMED IN THE SCOPE OF THE OFFICER'S DUTIES IN ENFORCING THE TERMS OF THE ORDER THAT RELATE TO CHILD CUSTODY. THE COURT MAY MODIFY THIS ORDER THAT PROVIDES FOR THE SUPPORT OF A CHILD, IF:

(1) THE CIRCUMSTANCES OF THE CHILD OR A PERSON AFFECTED BY THE ORDER HAVE MATERIALLY AND SUBSTANTIALLY CHANGED; OR

8. Warnings to Parties
§ 105.006(d)

FAILURE OF A PARTY TO MAKE A CHILD SUPPORT PAYMENT TO THE PLACE AND IN THE MANNER REQUIRED BY A COURT ORDER MAY RESULT IN THE PARTY'S NOT RECEIVING CREDIT FOR MAKING THE PAYMENT.

(1) THE CIRCUMSTANCES OF THE CHILD OR A PERSON AFFECTED BY THE ORDER HAVE MATERIALLY AND SUBSTANTIALLY CHANGED; OR

8. Warnings to Parties
§ 105.006(d)

FAILURE OF A PARTY TO MAKE A CHILD SUPPORT PAYMENT TO THE PLACE AND IN THE MANNER REQUIRED BY A COURT ORDER MAY RESULT IN THE PARTY'S NOT RECEIVING CREDIT FOR MAKING THE PAYMENT.

FAILURE OF A PARTY TO PAY CHILD SUPPORT DOES NOT JUSTIFY DENY-ING THAT PARTY COURT-ORDERED POSSESSION OF OR ACCESS TO A CHILD.

NOT JUSTIFY FAILURE TO PAY COURT-ORDERED CHILD SUPPORT TO THAT PARTY.

FAILURE OF A PARTY TO MAKE A CHILD SUPPORT PAYMENT TO THE PLACE AND IN THE MANNER REQUIRED BY A COURT ORDER MAY RESULT IN THE PARTY'S NOT RECEIVING CREDIT FOR MAKING THE PAYMENT.

FAILURE OF A PARTY TO PAY CHILD SUPPORT DOES NOT JUSTIFY DENYING THAT PARTY COURT-ORDERED POSSESSION OF OR ACCESS TO A CHILD. REFUSAL BY A PARTY TO ALLOW POSSESSION OF OR ACCESS TO A CHILD DOES NOT JUSTIFY FAILURE TO PAY COURT-ORDERED CHILD SUPPORT TO THAT PARTY.

6. the right to consent to the child[ren]'s marriage, enlistment in the armed forces of the United States, medical and dental care, and psychiatric, psychological, and surgical treatment;

7. the right to represent the child[ren] in legal action and to make other decisions of substantial legal significance concerning the child[ren];

8. the right to receive and give receipt for payments for the support of the child[ren] and to hold or disburse funds for the benefit of the child[ren];

9. the right to inherit from and through the child[ren];

10. the right to make decisions concerning the child[ren]'s education; and

11. any other right or duty existing between a parent and child[ren] by virtue of law.

“I have further been informed that if I execute this instrument and do not take the necessary steps to claim the rights of a parent, a court of competent jurisdiction may enter an order that will forever prevent me from asserting any rights I may wish to claim in and to the child[ren]. Understanding all this, I disclaim any legal interest in the child[ren] identified above, and I waive and give up my right to the service of citation in any suit filed or to be filed affecting the parent-child relationship with respect to the child[ren], including any suit to terminate any parent-child relationship that could exist between me and the child[ren] or any suit to terminate any parent-child relationship that could exist between me and the child[ren] joined with a petition for adoption, and I waive my right to have the official court reporter make a record of the testimony in the lawsuit. I also consent to have any suit affecting the parent-child relationship filed or to be filed with respect to the child[ren] identified above be decided by an associate judge appointed under section 201.001 of the Texas Family Code.

“I FULLY UNDERSTAND THAT I MAY NOT BE FURTHER INFORMED OF ANY HEARINGS OR PROCEEDINGS AFFECTING THE CHILD[REN] NAMED IN THIS AFFIDAVIT, INCLUDING ANY TERMINATION SUIT.

“I understand that this Affidavit of Waiver of Interest in Child[ren] may be used in any proceedings in which I attempt to establish an interest in the child[ren] but that it may not be used in any proceeding brought by another to establish my paternity of the child[ren].

“I am not presently obligated by any court order to make payments for the support of the child[ren].

“I have no knowledge of any property owned by the child[ren] or of any guardians of the person or estate of the child[ren].

“If by operation of law I am presumed to be a parent of the child[ren], which I deny, termination of the parent-child relationship between me and the child[ren] would be in the best interest of the child[ren]. I therefore designate [the Texas Department of Family and Protective Services/[name of agency], an agency licensed by the Texas Department of Family and Protective Services/

[name[s]], [a] prospective adoptive parent[s], [address]], as managing conservator[s] of the child[ren] and freely, voluntarily, and permanently give and relinquish to [that/those] managing conservator[s] all parental rights and duties I may be presumed to have. I understand that by executing this affidavit I make this termination possible, and that is my intent and desire.

“If I am in the armed services of the United States at this time, that fact in no way has interfered with my freedom to make my decision to execute this affidavit, and, insofar as this matter is concerned, I waive all rights, privileges, and exemptions existing or that may hereafter exist in my favor under the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act, including the appointment of counsel to represent me in this case.

“I UNDERSTAND THAT THIS AFFIDAVIT OF WAIVER OF ANY PARENTAL RIGHTS I MAY BE PRESUMED TO HAVE IS AND SHALL BE FINAL, PERMANENT, AND IRREVOCABLE.

“I am signing this affidavit today because I want to sign it and not because [[name]/[name of agency]] or any other person or persons want me to sign it. I am signing this affidavit in the presence of the two undersigned witnesses. I am also signing this affidavit before a notary public, who has asked me under oath whether or not each and every statement in this affidavit is true and correct.

“I REALIZE THAT I SHOULD NOT SIGN THIS AFFIDAVIT OF WAIVER OF INTEREST IN CHILD[REN] IF THERE IS ANY THOUGHT IN MY MIND THAT I MIGHT SOMEDAY SEEK TO GAIN CUSTODY OF [THIS/THESE] CHILD[REN]. AT THE TIME OF THE SIGNING OF THIS AFFIDAVIT, I FEEL THAT I AM PHYSICALLY AND EMOTIONALLY PREPARED TO SIGN THIS DOCUMENT. I AM NOT CURRENTLY UNDER

Long form Birth Certificate - Most comprehensive birth record. It is a copy of the original birth certificate. It will also show a history of corrections that have been made to the birth record. This form is often used for requesting passports. Short form Birth Certificate - An abstract of the birth record. This birth certificate will only show current information for the child's name, date of birth, place of birth, sex, and name of parent(s). This form will not show a history of corrections. This form is often used for school records and is acceptable for most purposes. Heirloom birth certificate - Heirloom birth certificates are abstracts of the birth record. They are primarily used for framing and display. The information on an "heirloom birth certificate" is similar to a "short form". Examples of heirloom birth certificates can be seen on our website at http://www.dshs.texas.gov/reqproc/heirloom.shtm. Verification Letter - A verification letter will include the child's name, the date of birth, and the county where the birth occurred. Verification letters are available for births that have occurred since 1903. Verification letters are not considered legal substitutes for certified copies of birth certificates. The VSS strongly recommends that applicants ensure a verification will satisfy its intended use. Military Personnel with current deployment orders - Texas Government Code 437.217. EXEMPTION FROM FEES FOR MILITARY PERSONNEL. A member of the National Guard on federal active duty, or a member of the armed forces of the United States on active duty, who is preparing to be deployed to serve in a hostile fire zone as designated by the United States secretary of defense is exempt from paying the following state or local governmental fees the member incurs because of the deployment to arrange the member's personal affairs: (1) fees for obtaining copies of: (A) a birth certificate. MILITARY ID AND MILITARY ORDERS ARE REQUIRED. Foster or Homeless child or youth - Texas Health and Safety Code 191.0049. BIRTH RECORD ISSUED TO FOSTER CHILD OR YOUTH OR HOMELESS CHILD OR YOUTH. On request of a child or youth described by this section, the state registrar, a local registrar, or a county clerk shall issue, without fee or parental consent, a certified copy of the child's or youth's birth record to: (1) a homeless child or youth as defined by 42 U.S.C. Section 11434a; (2) a child in the managing conservatorship of the Department of Family and Protective Services; and (3) a young adult who: (A) is at least 18 years of age, but younger than 21 years of age; and (B) resides in a foster care placement, the cost of which is paid by the Department of Family and Protective Services. DOCUMENTATION OF STATUS IS REQUIRED. Copies of birth certificates for births that occurred within the past 75 years can be requested only by the immediate family of the person whose name is on the birth certificate. See Section 181.1(13) of the Texas Administrative Code for who qualifies as an immediate family member. An immediate family member is the child, their guardian, their children, spouses, parents, siblings, or grandparents. Applicants who are not immediate family members must provide legal documentation (such as a court order establishing guardianship) that demonstrates a direct, tangible interest in the birth certificate. The applicant must include a photocopy of his or her valid photo ID issued by a governmental entity. See Section 181.28 of the Texas Administrative Code for a complete list of acceptable forms of identification. You also can see VSS's page on acceptable identification in English (http://www.dshs.texas.gov/vs/reqproc/Acceptable-IDs/) and Spanish (http://www.dshs.texas.gov/vs/reqproc/Acceptable-IDs-(Spanish)/). If a record is not on file, our office will issue a "not found" letter.

Tex. Fam. Code § 105.007\(c\) provides for waiver of the requirement of notice of change of information on motion by a party if the court finds the giving of notice would be likely to expose the child or the party to harassment, abuse, serious harm, or injury. See also Tex. Fam. Code § 105.006\(c\).

EACH PERSON WHO IS A PARTY TO THIS ORDER IS ORDERED TO NOTIFY EACH OTHER PARTY, THE COURT, AND THE STATE CASE REGISTRY OF ANY CHANGE IN THE PARTY'S CURRENT RESIDENCE ADDRESS, MAILING ADDRESS, HOME TELEPHONE NUMBER, NAME OF EMPLOYER, ADDRESS OF EMPLOYMENT, DRIVER'S LICENSE NUMBER, AND WORK TELEPHONE NUMBER. THE PARTY IS ORDERED TO GIVE NOTICE OF AN INTENDED CHANGE IN ANY OF THE REQUIRED INFORMATION TO EACH OTHER PARTY, THE COURT, AND THE STATE CASE REGISTRY ON OR BEFORE THE 60TH DAY BEFORE THE INTENDED CHANGE. THE DUTY TO FURNISH THIS INFORMATION TO EACH OTHER PARTY, THE COURT, AND THE STATE CASE REGISTRY CONTINUES AS LONG AS ANY PERSON, BY VIRTUE OF THIS ORDER, IS UNDER AN OBLIGATION TO PAY CHILD SUPPORT OR ENTITLED TO POSSESSION OF OR ACCESS TO A CHILD.

FAILURE BY A PARTY TO OBEY THE ORDER OF THIS COURT TO PROVIDE EACH OTHER PARTY, THE COURT, AND THE STATE CASE REGISTRY WITH THE

CHANGE IN THE REQUIRED INFORMATION MAY RESULT IN FURTHER LITIGATION TO ENFORCE THE ORDER, INCLUDING CONTEMPT OF COURT. A FINDING OF CONTEMPT MAY BE PUNISHED BY CONFINEMENT IN JAIL FOR UP TO SIX MONTHS, A FINE OF UP TO $500 FOR EACH VIOLATION, AND A MONEY JUDGMENT FOR PAYMENT OF ATTORNEY'S FEES AND COURT COSTS.

Include the following paragraphs in all orders.

NOTICE TO ANY PEACE OFFICER OF THE STATE OF TEXAS: YOU MAY USE REASONABLE EFFORTS TO ENFORCE THE TERMS OF CHILD CUSTODY SPECIFIED IN THIS ORDER. A PEACE OFFICER WHO RELIES ON THE TERMS OF A COURT ORDER AND THE OFFICER'S AGENCY ARE ENTITLED TO THE APPLICABLE IMMUNITY AGAINST ANY CLAIM, CIVIL OR OTHERWISE, REGARDING THE OFFICER'S GOOD FAITH ACTS PERFORMED IN THE SCOPE OF THE OFFICER'S DUTIES IN ENFORCING THE TERMS OF THE ORDER THAT RELATE TO CHILD CUSTODY. ANY PERSON WHO KNOWINGLY PRESENTS FOR ENFORCEMENT AN ORDER THAT IS INVALID OR NO LONGER IN EFFECT COMMITS AN OFFENSE THAT MAY BE PUNISHABLE BY CONFINEMENT IN JAIL FOR AS LONG AS TWO YEARS AND A FINE OF AS MUCH AS $10,000.

THE COURT MAY MODIFY THIS ORDER THAT PROVIDES FOR THE SUPPORT OF A CHILD, IF:

(1) THE CIRCUMSTANCES OF THE CHILD OR A PERSON AFFECTED BY THE ORDER HAVE MATERIALLY AND SUBSTANTIALLY CHANGED; OR

(2) IT HAS BEEN THREE YEARS SINCE THE ORDER WAS RENDERED OR LAST MODIFIED AND THE MONTHLY AMOUNT OF THE CHILD SUPPORT AWARD UNDER THE ORDER DIFFERS BY EITHER 20 PERCENT OR $100 FROM THE AMOUNT THAT WOULD BE AWARDED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE CHILD SUPPORT GUIDELINES.

11. Warnings to Parties
§ 105.006(d)

Warnings

WARNINGS TO PARTIES: FAILURE TO OBEY A COURT ORDER FOR CHILD SUPPORT OR FOR POSSESSION OF OR ACCESS TO A CHILD MAY RESULT IN FURTHER LITIGATION TO ENFORCE THE ORDER, INCLUDING CONTEMPT OF COURT. A FINDING OF CONTEMPT MAY BE PUNISHED BY CONFINEMENT IN JAIL FOR UP TO SIX MONTHS, A FINE OF UP TO $500 FOR EACH VIOLATION, AND A MONEY JUDGMENT FOR PAYMENT OF ATTORNEY'S FEES AND COURT COSTS.

FAILURE OF A PARTY TO MAKE A CHILD SUPPORT PAYMENT TO THE PLACE AND IN THE MANNER REQUIRED BY A COURT ORDER MAY RESULT IN THE PARTY'S NOT RECEIVING CREDIT FOR MAKING THE PAYMENT.

FAILURE OF A PARTY TO PAY CHILD SUPPORT DOES NOT JUSTIFY DENYING THAT PARTY COURT-ORDERED POSSESSION OF OR ACCESS TO A CHILD. REFUSAL BY A PARTY TO ALLOW POSSESSION OF OR ACCESS TO A CHILD DOES

NOT JUSTIFY FAILURE TO PAY COURT-ORDERED CHILD SUPPORT TO THAT PARTY.

Order Validating Gestational Agreement

On [date] the Court heard the Petition to Validate Gestational Agreement.

Appearances

Petitioners, [names of intended parents], appeared in person and through attorney of record, [name].

[Name of gestational mother] [include if applicable: and [name of gestational mother's spouse]] [appeared in person/waived issuance and service of citation by waiver duly filed and, after receiving proper notice, did not otherwise appear].

Jurisdiction

The Court, after examining the record and hearing the evidence and argument of counsel, finds that it has jurisdiction of this case and of all the parties and that no other court has continuing, exclusive jurisdiction of this case. All questions of fact and of law were submitted to the Court. All persons entitled to citation were properly cited.

Record

The making of a record of testimony was waived by the parties with the consent of the Court.

Findings

The Court finds that the gestational agreement on file in this case complies with the requirements of chapter 160, subchapter I, of the Texas Family Code. The Court further finds that [name of intended parent] [will be the mother/is the genetic mother/will be the father/is the genetic father] of the child to be born under the gestational agreement and that [name of intended parent] [will be the father/is the genetic father/will be the mother/is the genetic mother] of the child to be born under the gestational agreement.

The Court finds that [name of gestational mother], the gestational mother, is not the mother of the child and that there is and will be no parent-child relationship between her and the child to be born under the gestational agreement. The Court finds that [name of gestational mother] has had at least one previous pregnancy and delivery and that carrying another pregnancy to term and giving birth to another child will not pose an unreasonable risk to her physical or mental health or to the health of the child.

Include the following if applicable.

The Court finds that [name of gestational mother's spouse], the spouse of the gestational mother, is not a parent of the child and that there is and will be no parent-child relationship between [name of gestational mother's spouse] and the child to be born under the gestational agreement.

Continue with the following.

Voluntary Agreement

The Court finds that the gestational agreement was entered into voluntarily by and between the parties and that they understand the terms.

Home Study

Select one of the following.

The Court finds that there is a home study on file for Petitioners, who are the intended parents, and that they meet the standards of fitness applicable to adoptive parents.

Or

The Court finds that good cause exists to waive the requirements for a home study of Petitioners.

Include the following if one or both of the intended parents is female.

Medical Evidence

The Court finds that there is sufficient evidence that [name of intended mother] cannot carry a pregnancy to term and deliver the child [include if applicable: without unreasonable risk to her physical or mental health or the health of the child]. [Repeat for second intended parent if each intended parent is female.]

Continue with the following.

Health-Care Expenses

The Court finds that the gestational agreement adequately provides which party is to be responsible for all reasonable health-care expenses associated with the pregnancy, including provisions for who is responsible if the agreement is terminated.

Validation of Gestational Agreement

Based on the evidence presented, IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that the gestational agreement entered into between [names of intended parents] and [name of gestational mother]/[names of gestational mother and her spouse] is valid and that [names of intended parents] will be the parents of the child born under the agreement.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that [names of intended parents] shall be named as the parents of the child on the birth certificate of the child and on all forms and other documents to be completed by the hospital or place of delivery of the child.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that hospital policy shall be followed regarding wristbands. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that [names of intended parents] shall be designated by the hospital as the people to be issued wristbands identifying them as parents of the child and that [name of gestational mother] shall not receive such a wristband unless it is medically necessary for the child's welfare.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that [name of gestational mother] shall immediately surrender the child to [names of intended parents] following birth of the child.

File Sealed

IT IS ORDERED that the clerk of this Court shall seal the file and the minutes of this Court in connection with this case.

FAILURE OF A PARTY TO MAKE A CHILD SUPPORT PAYMENT TO THE PLACE AND IN THE MANNER REQUIRED BY A COURT ORDER MAY RESULT IN THE PARTY'S NOT RECEIVING CREDIT FOR MAKING THE PAYMENT.

FAILURE OF A PARTY TO PAY CHILD SUPPORT DOES NOT JUSTIFY DENYING THAT PARTY COURT-ORDERED POSSESSION OF OR ACCESS TO A CHILD. REFUSAL BY A PARTY TO ALLOW POSSESSION OF OR ACCESS TO A CHILD DOES NOT JUSTIFY FAILURE TO PAY COURT-ORDERED CHILD SUPPORT TO THAT PARTY.

Include the following in all orders that contain any of the foregoing provisions under Tex. Fam. Code §§ 153.501–.503 .

Although the statute does not say so, presumably the underage party could sue after coming of age if he had not ratified the marriage by voluntarily cohabiting after age eighteen.

7.C. Impotency

7.D. Fraud, Duress, or Force
§ 6.107

Petitioner and Respondent were married on [date]. Respondent induced Petitioner to enter into the marriage by [fraud/duress/force]. Petitioner has not voluntarily cohabited with Respondent since [learning of the fraud/being released from the duress/being released from the force].

7.E. Petitioner's Mental Incompetency
§ 6.108

Petitioner and Respondent were married on [date]. At the time of the marriage, Petitioner did not have the mental capacity to consent to marriage or to understand the nature of the marriage ceremony because of a mental disease or defect. Since the marriage ceremony, Petitioner has not voluntarily cohabited with Respondent during any period when Petitioner possessed the mental capacity to recognize the marriage relationship.

7.F. Respondent's Mental Incompetency
§ 6.108(b)

Petitioner and Respondent were married on [date]. At the time of the marriage, Respondent did not have the mental capacity to consent to marriage or to understand the nature of the marriage ceremony because of a mental disease or defect. 7.G. Concealed Divorce
§ 6.109

Petitioner and Respondent were married on [date]. Respondent was divorced from a third party on or about [date], which was within thirty days preceding the date of the marriage ceremony of Petitioner and Respondent. Living Expenses

5.1 Payment of Household and Personal Expenses and Purchases Made from Account

Select one of the following.

[Name of party A] agrees to pay [percent] percent and [name of party B] agrees to pay [percent] percent of the parties' living expenses while they are living together. [Name of party A] agrees to deposit [number] dollars ($[amount]) and [name of party B] agrees to deposit [number] dollars ($[amount]) monthly into a special joint checking account on which either party can draw for living expenses.

Expenditures for living expenses or for the common benefit will be made from the joint account. Neither party may draw on the joint account for any purpose other than such expenses, and each party must keep the other informed of all withdrawals. Each party must, from [his or her/his/her] sole funds, defray [his or her/his/her] personal expenses, pay for [his or her/his/her] purely personal expenses for clothing and otherwise, and maintain or provide for [his or her/his/her] sole property and investments.

All property or household goods purchased from the joint account and any balance in the joint account will be owned in the same percentages as contributions to the account. All other bank accounts will be kept separately by the parties, and each must maintain [his or her/his/her] other accounts free from commingling of funds.

Or

Except as otherwise specifically stated, the funds on deposit in the account will be used for payment of the mortgage payment (principal and interest), rent, groceries, utilities, maintenance and repairs, and all other miscellaneous household expenses (collectively called “living expenses”) that may arise during the term of this agreement. The payment by one party of all or a majority of any living expenses will not create a right of reimbursement by the party paying those living expenses, affect the character of any property currently in existence or property that may be acquired in the future, or create an ownership interest in any property by a party that the party does not already have and does not acquire in the future by other means.

To the extent the parties elect to open and maintain one or more joint bank accounts, each party will have an undivided one-half interest in the funds on deposit in the account(s) as [his or her/his/her] sole property. If either party dies, all funds remaining in any joint bank account(s) will be the sole property of the surviving party.

This example is furnished merely for illustration and should not be used as a standard form. The nature of premarital agreements, especially their tax aspects, makes the variables so numerous as to defy the use of simple forms. The tax consequences of the agreement must always be given careful consideration.

This form is designed to be used by persons contemplating marriage to generally confirm each party's separate property, make an agreement with respect to future property, and make an agreement with respect to future earnings from separate property, as well as personal earnings.

Premarital Agreement

The parties to this Premarital Agreement are [name of party A], a single [man/woman] of [city], [county] County, Texas, and [name of party B], a single [woman/man] of [city], [county] County, Texas.

Stipulations

1. [Name of party A] and [name of party B], who are not now married, intend to become spouses [include if applicable: by ceremony to be performed in [city, state]].
2. The parties are entering into this agreement in accordance with article XVI, section 15, of the Texas Constitution, as amended, and relevant sections of the Texas Family Code, altering by agreement what their marital property rights would be in certain property on and during their marriage and determining, in part, the claims each may lawfully assert against the other party and the other party's estate, if and when the marriage is dissolved by judicial act or death. Section 3.001 of the Texas Family Code defines a spouse's separate property as the property owned or claimed by the spouse before marriage; the property acquired by the spouse during marriage by gift, devise, or descent; and the recovery for personal injuries sustained by the spouse during marriage, except any recovery for loss of earning capacity during marriage. Section 3.002 of the Texas Family Code defines community property as the property, other than separate property, acquired by either spouse during marriage. Texas law provides that income from separate property during the marriage is community property. A prenuptial agreement can and very often does make what would otherwise be community property instead be separate property.

3. The Texas Family Code provides that the parties to a prenuptial agreement may contract concerning any matter, including personal rights and obligations, not in violation of public policy or a statute imposing a criminal penalty and as long as the rights of a child to receive support are not adversely affected.

4. Each party presently owns real and/or personal property as described in Schedules A and B. Schedule A contains the property of [name of party A], and Schedule B contains the property of [name of party B]. The schedules are attached to this agreement and made a part of it for all purposes.

5. The parties, by entering into this agreement, are not attempting to prejudice the rights of preexisting creditors.

6. The parties do not intend by this agreement to make a gift from one party to the other party, but rather to enter into an agreement that will control their marital property rights and other spousal rights in a manner that is in important respects different from the manner in which the separate and community property rights or spousal claims would arise by operation of law in the absence of this agreement.

7. The parties intend to clarify their respective property rights to eliminate any uncertainty about those rights.

Furthermore, and before their execution of this agreement, each party has previously offered to provide, or has provided, to the other party all information and documentation pertaining to all income, all property and its value, and all financial obligations that have been requested by the other party. The parties specifically agree that neither party will be responsible for or be required to pay any expenses for education, including college, for the other party's child or children, as the case may be. Each party agrees to indemnify and hold the other party and the other party's property harmless from the assertion of any such claim or obligation now or in the future, except that if either party voluntarily pays or advances any money for educational or other expenses of the other party's child, no obligation of indemnification or reimbursement will arise unless an explicit written understanding to indemnify or reimburse is executed contemporaneously with the payment or advance.

3.6 Asset Descriptions

The parties have tried to use the correct legal description for each asset listed in any schedule attached to this agreement. 6. any written statement by either party, other than a written agreement signed by both parties to convert separate property to community property pursuant to the Texas Family Code;

3.12 Other Temporary Orders during Dissolution

If either party files a dissolution proceeding, the parties agree that during the pendency of the action neither party will request or seek to enforce any restraining order or injunction that could have the effect of inhibiting or prohibiting a party from making decisions concerning or disposing of [his or her/his/her] separate property. Further, neither party will have the right to the temporary use or possession of any separate property owned solely by the other party, either real or personal. Nothing in this section 3.12 affects the ability of either party to request or seek to enforce any order for the benefit of a child of both parties.

Future Credit Transactions

5.1 Future Credit Transactions of Parties

If either party enters into a transaction wherein either party becomes obligated on any debt, and unless a contrary intent is specifically and expressly stated, the obligation must be satisfied by the party incurring the obligation or liability wholly from that party's separate property, and that party must hold the other party and the other party's property harmless from the obligation and indemnify the other party if the other party is ever required to satisfy the obligation. The assets, if any, acquired through any such credit transactions will be and remain the separate property of a party to the extent the party obligates [his or her/his/her] separate property for the credit extended in acquiring the assets or resulting in the acquisition of the assets. Similarly, any business failure of the parties or any bankruptcy, reorganization, composition, arrangement, or other debtor/creditor action of or against a party will in no way affect the other party, and neither party is relying or will rely on the other party for any credit, accommodation, or indulgence in these regards.

Article 6

Household and Personal Expenses

6.1 Household and Personal Expenses

The parties may agree to maintain one or more joint bank accounts, which will be designated as the "[specify] Household Account" or some similar name, and that the account will be used for the purposes described below. In that event, each party agrees to contribute [number] dollars ($[amount]) per month. Except as otherwise specifically stated, the funds on deposit in the account will be used for payment of the mortgage payment (principal and interest), rent, groceries, utilities, maintenance and repairs, and all other miscellaneous household expenses (collectively called “living expenses”) that may arise during the marriage. The payment by one party of all or a majority of any living expenses will not create a right of reimbursement by the party paying those living expenses, affect the character of any property currently in existence or property that may be acquired in the future, or create an ownership interest in any property by a party that the party does not already have and does not acquire in the future by other means.

To the extent the parties elect to open and maintain one or more joint bank accounts, each party will have an undivided one-half interest in the funds on deposit in the account(s) as [his or her/his/her] separate property. Each party will have an undivided one-half interest in all assets acquired with any funds from a joint bank account as [his or her/his/her] separate property.

If either party dies, all funds remaining in any joint bank account(s) will be the sole and separate property of the surviving party.

Article 7

Joint Acquisition of Assets

7.1 Joint Acquisition of Assets

The parties will have the option, but not the obligation, to acquire assets together in their joint names. If the parties jointly acquire assets following their marriage, they will each own an undivided interest in the jointly acquired assets as their respective sole and separate property in an amount equal to the percentage of their respective contributions toward the purchase of the assets. If the parties jointly acquire assets, and to the extent legal title to any or all of the assets can be perfected in their joint names, such as title to an automobile, boat, or real property, they will obtain title in their joint names. However, even though title to an asset acquired by the parties is held in their joint names, the percentage of ownership of such an asset will be controlled by the provisions of this article, and the taking of title in their joint names may not be interpreted to mean that each party has an undivided 50 percent ownership interest in jointly acquired assets. If legal title cannot be obtained in the parties' joint names with respect to a jointly acquired asset, the parties agree to execute a memorandum stipulating that the asset was jointly acquired by the parties. Jointly acquired property may not be deemed to be community property but instead will constitute each party's separate property in proportion to that party's contribution to the purchase price; provided, however, that if there are no records verifying the amount of each party's contribution toward the purchase of an asset, each party will own an undivided 50 percent interest in that asset. [Include if applicable: If the evidence of title reflects both parties' names, the parties will own that property as joint tenants with right of survivorship.]

Article 8

Taxes

Warning: The following language is optional. Consult a qualified tax advisor or certified public accountant before including these provisions.

8.1 Tax Liability

The parties agree to execute separate income tax returns during their marriage unless they agree that it is to their mutual advantage to file a joint tax return for any year.

For each year of the parties' marriage, [name of party A] must report all of [his/her] separate-property income. In calculating [name of party A]'s separate-property tax liability, [he/she] is entitled to use all withholding, estimated tax payments, exemptions, deductions, charitable contributions, and tax credits (sometimes collectively called "adjustments") that are solely attributable to [his/her] separate-property estate and income. [Name of party A] is further entitled to use all current and prior year carryforwards (as well as all carryforwards arising in the future), including but not limited to net operating losses, passive losses, suspended losses, long-term capital losses, and short-term capital losses (sometimes collectively called “carryforwards”) that are strictly associated with [his/her] separate-property estate and income. The income tax liability arising from [name of party A]’s separate property is the sole liability of [name of party A], who agrees to fully discharge that tax liability, including penalties and interest, if any, out of [his/her] separate-property estate. [Name of party A] further agrees to indemnify and hold [name of party B] and [her/his] separate property harmless from (and [name of party A] releases [name of party B] and [her/his] property from) all such tax liability, including penalties and interest, if any, together with all tax liens of every kind and character that might hereafter arise from the filing of [his/her] separate return or [his/her] failure to file necessary or proper returns or to pay the required taxes with respect to [his/her] separate-property taxable income.

For each year of the parties’ marriage, [name of party B] must report all of [her/his] separate-property income. In calculating [name of party B]’s separate-property tax liability, [she/he] is entitled to use all withholding, estimated tax payments, exemptions, deductions, charitable contributions, and tax credits (sometimes collectively called “adjustments”) that are solely attributable to [her/his] separate-property estate and income. [Name of party B] is further entitled to use all current and prior year carryforwards (as well as all carryforwards arising in the future), including but not limited to net operating losses, passive losses, suspended losses, long-term capital losses, and short-term capital losses (sometimes collectively called “carryforwards”) that are strictly associated with [her/his] separate-property estate and income. The income tax liability arising from [name of party B]’s separate property is the sole liability of [name of party B], who agrees to fully discharge that tax liability, including penalties and interest, if any, out of [her/his] separate-property estate. [Name of party B] further agrees to indemnify and hold [name of party A] and [his/her] separate property harmless from (and [name of party B] releases [name of party A] and [his/her] property from) all such tax liability, including penalties and interest, if any, together with all tax liens of every kind and character that might hereafter arise from the filing of [her/his] separate return or [her/his] failure to file necessary or proper returns or to pay the required taxes with respect to [her/his] separate-property taxable income.

Each party is solely obligated to pay, from [his or her/his/her] separate-property estate, all estimated tax payments, if any, associated with [his or her/his/her] separate-property tax liability that are required to be paid for all taxable years that the parties are married.

All tax refunds that may be received in the future are the sole and separate property of the party whose separate-property estate generated the refund.

8.2 Joint Tax Returns

Notwithstanding the provisions of section 8.1 above and the intent and desire of the parties to file separate tax returns and to retain the wholly separate character of their respective separate properties, the parties acknowledge that the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, and the regulations thereunder, and similar codes and regulations of other states in certain instances provide, or may provide in the future, savings in taxes for married couples filing joint returns. If that is the case, the parties may file joint returns, but their election to file joint tax returns for any year of their marriage does not constitute a waiver of any provision of this agreement. [Include if applicable: At the option of either party, a party may request individual calculations to determine the pro rata share of any tax liability or tax refund as between each party's separate-property estate and the community-property estate in accordance with section 8.1 above.]

[Name of party B] agrees to release all interests or claims [she/he] may have in [name of party A]’s separate property. 9.2 Property to [name of party B]

In the event of a dissolution proceeding between the parties, [name of party A] agrees that [name of party B] will be awarded all [her/his] separate property, including all property described in this agreement as being the separate property of [name of party B]. [Name of party A] agrees to release all interests or claims [he/she] may have in [name of party B]’s separate property. Warning: No case law is yet available concerning the ability of the parties to waive the spousal maintenance provisions of Tex. Fam. Code ch. 8.

9.5 Waiver of Temporary Spousal Support, Spousal Maintenance, and Alimony

Neither party is entering into the marriage to obtain temporary spousal support, spousal maintenance, or alimony of any kind in the event of a dissolution proceeding. Each party waives any right that may exist under law to seek or obtain temporary spousal support, spousal maintenance, or alimony from the other party. If a court of competent jurisdiction orders either party to pay to the other party, or to a third party on behalf of the other party, temporary spousal support, spousal maintenance, or alimony of any kind during the pendency of a dissolution proceeding, that temporary spousal support, spousal maintenance, or alimony paid by one party to the other in connection with such a dissolution proceeding must be reimbursed to the party paying the temporary spousal support, spousal maintenance, or alimony within five days after receipt by the receiving party. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, thus, for example, if $1,000 in temporary alimony is paid by [name of party A] to [name of party B] during the pendency of a dissolution proceeding, the sum of $1,000 must be reimbursed to [name of party A] by [name of party B] within five days after [name of party B] receives the $1,000 from [name of party A].

The parties agree, in the event the receiving party fails to reimburse the paying party as required above, that the party paying the temporary spousal support, spousal maintenance, or alimony shall be allowed a dollar-for-dollar offset against all future temporary spousal support, spousal maintenance, or alimony payments to be paid by the paying party to the receiving party [include if applicable: or against other existing financial obligations on behalf of the community estate or on behalf of the receiving party]. In the event of a failure by the receiving party to reimburse any temporary spousal support, spousal maintenance, or alimony payment to the paying party within five days as required above, the paying party shall notify the receiving party of the paying party's intent to exercise [his or her/his/her] right to offset all amounts unreimbursed at that point against all subsequent temporary spousal support, spousal maintenance, or alimony payments to be paid by the paying party [include if applicable: or against other existing financial obligations on behalf of the community estate or on behalf of the receiving party]. The paying party shall also notify the receiving party exactly which financial obligations the unreimbursed payments will be offset against. On receipt of that notice from the paying party, the receiving party shall be discharged from the obligation of reimbursement to the extent of the amount of the offset.

9.6 Waiver of Right to Occupy Separate-Property Residence

In the event of the filing of a dissolution proceeding, and in the event the parties' marital homestead is owned by one party as [his or her/his/her] separate property, the nonowner spouse agrees to waive all right [he or she/he/she] may have to continue residing in the marital homestead, both during the pendency of the dissolution proceeding and following the dissolution of the parties' marriage. In that event, the nonowner spouse agrees to vacate the marital homestead no later than [number] days following [his or her/his/her] receipt of notice of the filing of the dissolution proceeding.

9.7 Release and Waiver

If either party files a dissolution proceeding, neither party may seek a division of the property of either or both parties in a manner contrary to the terms of this agreement.

Each party relinquishes, disclaims, and waives all rights, title, and interest that [he or she/he/she] may have to seek a division of property and liabilities in a dissolution proceeding contrary to what is provided for in this agreement.

Include either or both of the following if applicable.

9.8 Division of Community Estate

If the parties cannot agree on the fair market value, the fair market value will be determined by appraisals. The division of the community property may be made by distribut-

9.9 Attorney's Fees

Each party further agrees to pay [his or her/his/her] own attorney's fees, costs, and other expenses on final hearing of any dissolution proceeding.

Gifts

12.1 Gifts

The parties acknowledge that during their marriage each party may, from time to time, make gifts of property to the other party. These interspousal gifts may be made on a special occasion, such as a birthday or anniversary, or on any other occasion a party may choose. The parties recognize that frequently claims of “gifts” are alleged in the context of a dissolution proceeding. To remove any uncertainty about the issue of interspousal gifts, the parties agree that:

1. Gifts of wearing apparel, jewelry, and athletic equipment may be established by parol testimony if the item or property is customarily used and enjoyed exclusively by the party claiming it as a gift to him or her;
2. Gifts of other items of personal property not covered by item 1. above, such as furnishings, artwork, cash, and collections, must be established by clear and convincing evidence; and

3. Any property that is held by title, as in a deed, in a certificate, or by account name, may not be effectively transferred to the party claiming it as a gift unless, in fact, the deed, certificate, or account is transferred by name to the party claiming the gift.

12.2 Gift Tax Consequences

Each party retains the right to make gifts of [his or her/his/her] separate property without regard to blood or other relationship of the donee. Conditional on any such gift being made from the separate property of a party, the party making the gift may deem the other party as the donor of one-half of the gift for federal tax purposes, if allowable under the relevant law, but without personal liability to the deemed donor. If the deemed donor is held responsible for the payment of federal gift tax, the actual donor must indemnify and hold harmless the deemed donor and [his or her/his/her] property from the liability and must reimburse the deemed donor the amount of the tax, including all penalties and interest, if any, within ten days after the deemed donor has paid any such taxes, penalties, or interest. Notwithstanding any of the provisions set forth in this section 12.2 to the contrary, the parties agree that any gift in excess of the annual gift tax exclusion that would be applied to either party's unified lifetime credit must be consented to in writing by the parties before the making of the gift.

Article 13

Independent Conveyances or Bequests

13.1 Independent Conveyances or Bequests

If either party voluntarily conveys to the other party an interest in [his or her/his/her] separate property that is declared by law, or by this agreement, to be the separate property of one party, either by will, survivorship agreement, or instrument of conveyance or by document of title signed by the transferring party, the provisions of that will, survivorship agree-

Absent such a will, survivorship agreement, instrument of conveyance, or document of title expressly conveying such property, all properties remain in the ownership of the party owning or designated as owning the property as [his or her/his/her] separate property.

Nothing in this agreement may be construed as prohibiting one party from giving property to the other party by will, survivorship agreement, instrument of conveyance, document of title, or other written instrument between the parties.

Article 14

General Agreements

14.1 General Agreements

Except as specifically set forth in this agreement to the contrary, the parties agree to the following:

1. That the separate property of each party, and the property described or created in this agreement as being the separate property of or belonging to the separate estate of each party, will be free from any claim of the other party that may arise as a result of or during the marriage.
2. That any money used for the benefit of the other party will be presumed to be a gift to the other party, as contrasted with a payment for which reimbursement or repayment is later expected, unless the parties agree otherwise in writing.

3. That this agreement applies during the lifetime of both parties, including on dissolution of their marriage by court order, as well as on the death of either or both parties.

Article 15

Reimbursement

15.1 No Reimbursement Claims

Initials

Initials

The parties agree to submit to binding arbitration any dispute or controversy regarding the validity, interpretation, or enforceability of this agreement, as well as all issues involving its enforcement in connection with a dissolution proceeding between the parties. Each party expressly waives any right to trial by a court or trial by a jury. If a dissolution proceeding or declaratory judgment proceeding is filed in Texas, the arbitrator appointed under this agreement will simultaneously be designated as special master under the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, and the parties agree to jointly apply to the court for any orders that are necessary to vest the arbitrator with all powers and authority of a special master under the rules.

The parties agree to appoint one arbitrator, whose decisions will be binding in all respects. Any arbitrator appointed by the parties must be an attorney who has undergone arbitration training conducted by the American Bar Association or the American Academy of Matrimonial Lawyers and is in good standing with the State Bar of Texas. [Include if applicable: The arbitrator must also be board certified in family law by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization.] The first party requesting arbitration must designate the name of an arbitrator in the request. The other party must then designate the name of an arbitrator. If the parties cannot agree on an arbitrator within fourteen days after either party's written request for arbitration, the two designees must select a qualified arbitrator, who will be designated the sole arbitrator of the dispute. If the parties cannot agree on the ground rules and procedures to be followed during the arbitration proceedings, the arbitrator shall have the sole authority to establish the ground rules and procedures to be followed during the arbitration proceeding. The parties agree to attend the arbitration on the date and at the time and place set by the arbitrator. The cost of arbitration must be borne as the arbitrator directs. The award of the arbitrator will be binding and conclusive on the parties, and a judgment setting forth the arbitration award may be entered in any court of competent jurisdiction.

Article 17

General Provisions

17.1 When Effective

The parties are executing this agreement before their marriage, to be effective on the date of their marriage, and it will exist through the whole of their marriage and thereafter, until it is fully performed, amended, or revoked. This agreement is void following its execution if the parties are not married within ninety days.

17.2 Execution of Documents

Each party agrees to cooperate fully with the other in performing all acts and in executing, acknowledging, and delivering all instruments and documents required to accomplish the intent of this agreement.

17.3 Presumption of Separate Property

Any property held in [name of party A]'s individual name is presumed to be the separate property of [name of party A]. Any property held in [name of party B]'s individual name is presumed to be the separate property of [name of party B]. Any property or liability inadvertently omitted from the schedules attached to this agreement is the separate property or liability of the party to whom it belongs or by whom it was incurred.

17.4 Enforceability

This agreement may be enforced by suit in law or equity by either of the parties or by their heirs, executors, attorneys, or assigns. Each party agrees that, by signing this agreement and accepting any benefit whatsoever under it, [he or she/he/she] is estopped and barred from making any claim of any kind at any time to any separate property or the separate estate of the other party or to any property described in this agreement as being the separate property of the other party. Each party waives [his or her/his/her] right to make claims to any separate property of the other party or to any property designated as belonging to the separate estate of the other party, whether the property is acquired before or after this agreement is signed.

17.5 Place of Performance; Governing Law; Application

All rights, duties, and obligations under this agreement are payable and enforceable in [county] County, Texas.

Texas law in effect at the date of the parties' marriage governs the construction, interpretation, and enforcement of this agreement to the maximum extent permitted by law.

The parties expressly intend and agree that this agreement applies to and governs all real and personal property, wherever situated, owned by either party at the time of marriage or acquired by either party after marriage, regardless of any change of domicile of the parties or the location of the real estate. If one or both of the parties ever becomes domiciled in a jurisdiction other than Texas, the status of all property thereafter acquired by that party must be controlled to the maximum extent by the terms of this agreement interpreted under Texas law in effect at the date of the parties' marriage. The desire of the parties that each preserve [his or her/his/her] separate property or separate estate under Texas law and keep it free from the claims of the other party corresponds to their desire that each party should have and hold the property free from the claims of the other party under the laws of all other jurisdictions, even if the other jurisdictions do not recognize community property but instead speak of "marital property" and "nonmarital property" or like terms. For any property of either party whose ownership is not controlled by the marital property laws of Texas, when this agreement speaks of property as being the separate property of a party, reference is made to property acquired in such a manner that it would meet the definition of separate property under the Texas Constitution or the Texas Family Code, as amended.

Initials

17.6 Successors

This agreement binds and inures to the benefit of the parties and their respective legatees, devisees, heirs, executors, legal and personal representatives, assigns, transferees, and successors in interest.

17.7 Waiver of Breach or Term

The waiver of any breach of any provision of this agreement does not waive any other breach of that or any other provision. Waiver of any term of this agreement may be accomplished only concerning future performance and only by a written instrument signed by both parties expressly stating the provisions waived.

17.8 Amendment or Modification

This agreement may be waived, abandoned, modified, amended, discharged, or terminated only by a written instrument signed by both parties that specifically identifies the waiver, abandonment, modification, amendment, discharge, or termination.

17.9 Attorney's Fees and Expenses for Enforcement

If either party brings an action or other proceeding to enforce this agreement or to enforce any judgment, decree, or order made by a court in connection with this agreement, the prevailing party will be entitled to recover reasonable attorney's fees and other necessary costs from the other party. If either party files a declaratory judgment proceeding to determine the enforceability of this agreement, neither party will be entitled to an award of attorney's fees unless a party successfully challenges the validity of this agreement, in which event the court will have the authority to award attorney's fees. If either party seeks to invalidate some or all of this agreement or the related Property Agreement between Spouses or seeks to recover property in a manner at variance with this agreement or the related Property Agreement between Spouses, the successful party will be entitled to recover reasonable attorney's fees and other necessary costs from the other party.

17.10 Exclusive Remedy for Nonmonetary Breach

Except as expressly provided otherwise in this agreement, the exclusive judicial remedy of either party against the other for failure to perform any nonmonetary duty or obligation under any provision of this agreement is judicial enforcement by judgment for specific performance or mandatory injunction and writ of execution to compel performance, plus reasonable attorney's fees. Neither party is entitled to recover any damages, actual or consequential, for any nonmonetary breach. No failure of either party to perform any nonmonetary duty or obligation under this agreement diminishes or impairs the full effectiveness of its provisions.

17.11 Partial Invalidity

If any provision of this agreement is for any reason found to be unenforceable, all other provisions nonetheless remain enforceable.

17.12 Assignment Prohibited

This agreement is personal to the parties, and neither party may assign or delegate any of [his or her/his/her] rights or obligations under it.

17.13 Entire Agreement

Section 3.001 of the Texas Family Code defines a spouse's separate property as the property owned or claimed by the spouse before marriage; the property acquired by the spouse during marriage by gift, devise, or descent; and the recovery for personal injuries sustained by the spouse during marriage, except any recovery for loss of earning capacity during marriage. Section 3.002 of the Texas Family Code defines community property as the property, other than separate property, acquired by either spouse during marriage. Texas law provides that income from separate property during the marriage is community property. A partition and exchange agreement makes what would otherwise be community property instead be separate property.

Form 63-7

This example is furnished merely for illustration and should not be used as a standard form. The nature of partition or exchange agreements makes the variables so numerous as to defy the use of simple forms.

This form is designed to be used by married persons to partition or exchange community property as desired and to agree that all future income and property arising from the property being partitioned or exchanged will also be separate property.

Partition or Exchange Agreement [Complex]

The parties to this Partition or Exchange Agreement are [name of party A], of [county] County, Texas, and [name of party B], of [county] County, Texas.

Stipulations

1. The parties are entering into this agreement in accordance with article XVI, section 15, of the Texas Constitution, as amended, and relevant sections of the Texas Family Code, as amended. Section 3.001 of the Texas Family Code defines a spouse's separate property as the property owned or claimed by the spouse before marriage; the property acquired by the spouse during marriage by gift, devise, or descent; and the recovery for personal injuries sustained by the spouse during marriage, except any recovery for loss of earning capacity during marriage. Section 3.002 of the Texas Family Code defines community property as the property, other than separate property, acquired by either spouse during the marriage. Texas law provides that income from separate property during the marriage is community property. A partition and exchange agreement makes what would otherwise be community property instead be separate property.

2. The parties acknowledge and agree that they are making and entering into this agreement voluntarily and without the intention to defraud or prejudice preexisting creditors.

3. The parties own as community property certain real and personal property as described in Schedules A and B, which are attached to this agreement. The parties intend by this agreement to partition or exchange those properties between themselves.

4. Each party desires to partition or exchange that community property in order for each party, following the execution of this agreement, to hold and possess [his or her/his/her] share of the property as [his or her/his/her] sole and separate property.

5. The parties intend to clarify their respective property rights to eliminate any uncertainty about those rights.

Include the following if applicable.

6. The parties intend by this agreement that no community property will be created during the remainder of their marriage.

Continue with the following.

In consideration of the mutual promises, agreements, partitions, exchanges, releases, and waivers contained in this agreement and in consideration of the parties' desire to establish certain rights and obligations by this agreement, and with the intent to be fully bound by the terms of this agreement, the parties covenant, agree, and contract as follows:

Specifically, [name of party B] agrees that [she/he] is not entitled to, and shall not seek, any temporary restraining order, injunctive relief, receivership, or other legal relief that would in any way restrict, inhibit, or affect the ability of any of the entities listed on Schedule A of this agreement from operating their business affairs as each entity deems appropriate, including each such entity's right to sell, purchase, or alienate property, to transfer or pledge property, to incur or pay debt, to exercise stock options or warrants, to issue stock, to raise capital, to liquidate any assets, to enter into or change any contractual relationships, to make expenditures or incur any indebtedness, or to merge or in any way alter its business organization or form.

Any money used for the benefit of the other party will be presumed to be a gift to the other party, as contrasted with a payment for which reimbursement or repayment is later expected, unless the parties agree otherwise in writing. This waiver applies during the lifetime of both parties, as well as on the death of either or both parties. This waiver extends to any rights, whether choate or inchoate, that may arise under the laws of Texas or any other jurisdiction. Management of Properties

6.1 Management of Properties

Each party has the full, free, and unrestricted right to manage the separate property over which [he or she/he/she] has control under section 3.101 of the Texas Family Code or succeeding provisions of similar import and nature, including without limitation the right to convey or encumber the property; to dispose of it by sale, gift, or otherwise; and to deal with it without taking into consideration any rights or interests of the other party. If the joinder of [name of party A] or [name of party B] (“joining party”) should be required by law in connection with the execution of any document by the other party with respect to the separate property of the other party, on request and from time to time, the joining party must execute all such documents necessary to effect the desires of the other party, including gift tax returns, but without any personal liability of the joining party. Neither party has the authority to encumber or dispose of the other party’s separate property without the other party’s express written consent. Notwithstanding any of the provisions set forth in this section 6.1, the parties agree that any gift in excess of the annual gift tax exclusion that would be applied to either party’s unified lifetime credit must be consented to in writing by the parties before the making of the gift.

Future Credit Transactions

7.1 Future Credit Transactions of Parties

If either party enters into a transaction wherein either party becomes obligated on any debt, and unless a contrary intent is specifically and expressly stated, the obligation must be satisfied by the party incurring the obligation or liability wholly from that party's separate property, and that party must hold the other party and the other party's property harmless from the obligation and indemnify the other party if the other party is ever required to satisfy the obligation. The assets, if any, acquired through any such credit transactions will be and remain the separate property of a party to the extent the party obligates [his or her/his/her] separate property for the credit extended in acquiring the assets or resulting in the acquisition of the assets. Similarly, any business failure of the parties or any bankruptcy, reorganization, composition, arrangement, or other debtor/creditor action of or against a party will in no way affect the other party, and neither party is relying or will rely on the other party for any credit, accommodation, or indulgence in these regards.

Article 8

Household and Personal Expenses

8.1 Household and Personal Expenses

The parties may agree to maintain one or more joint bank accounts, which will be designated as the "[specify] Household Account" or some similar name, and that the account will be used for the purposes described below. In that event, each party agrees to contribute [number] dollars ($[amount]) per month. Except as otherwise specifically stated, the funds on deposit in the account will be used for the payment of the mortgage payment (principal and interest), rent, groceries, utilities, maintenance and repairs, and all other miscellaneous household expenses (collectively called "living expenses") that may arise following the execution of this agreement. The payment by one party of all or a majority of any living expenses will not create a right of reimbursement by the party paying the living expenses, affect the character of any property currently in existence or property that may be acquired in the future, or create an ownership interest in any property by a party that the party does not already have and does not acquire in the future by other means.

To the extent the parties elect to open and maintain one or more joint bank accounts, each party will have an undivided one-half interest in the funds on deposit in the account(s) as [his or her/his/her] separate property. Each party will have an undivided one-half interest in all assets acquired with any funds from a joint bank account as [his or her/his/her] separate property.

If either party dies, all funds remaining in any joint bank account(s) will be the sole and separate property of the surviving party.

Article 9

Joint Acquisition of Assets

9.1 Joint Acquisition of Assets

The parties have the option, but not the obligation, to acquire assets together in their joint names. If the parties jointly acquire assets following the execution of this agreement, they will each own an undivided interest in the jointly acquired assets as their respective sole and separate property in an amount equal to the percentage of their respective contributions toward the purchase of the assets. If the parties jointly acquire assets, and to the extent legal title to any or all of the assets can be perfected in their joint names, such as title to an automobile, boat, or real property, they will obtain title in their joint names. However, even though title to an asset acquired by the parties is held in their joint names, the percentage of ownership of such an asset will be controlled by the provisions of this article, and the taking of title in their joint names may not be interpreted to mean that each party has an undivided 50 percent ownership interest in jointly acquired assets. If legal title cannot be obtained in the parties' joint names with respect to a jointly acquired asset, the parties agree to execute a memorandum stipulating that the asset was jointly acquired by the parties. Jointly acquired property may not be deemed to be community property but instead will constitute each party's separate property in proportion to that party's contribution to the purchase price; provided, however, that if there are no records verifying the amount of each party's contribution toward the purchase of an asset, each party will own an undivided 50 percent interest in the asset.

[Include if applicable: If the evidence of title reflects both parties' names, the parties will own that property as joint tenants with right of survivorship.]

Taxes

Warning: The following language is optional. Consult a qualified tax advisor or certified public accountant before including these provisions.

10.1 Tax Liability

The parties agree to execute separate income tax returns following the execution of this agreement unless they agree that it is to their mutual advantage to file a joint tax return for any year.

For all tax years following the execution of this agreement, [name of party A] must report all of [his/her] separate-property income. In calculating [name of party A]'s separate-property tax liability, [he/she] is entitled to use all withholding, estimated tax payments, exemptions, deductions, charitable contributions, and tax credits (sometimes collectively called "adjustments") that are solely attributable to [his/her] separate-property estate and income. [Name of party A] is entitled to use all current and prior year carryforwards (as well as all carryforwards arising in the future), including but not limited to net operating losses, passive losses, suspended losses, long-term capital losses, and short-term capital losses

(sometimes collectively called “carryforwards”) that are strictly associated with [his/her] separate-property estate and income. The income tax liability arising from [name of party A]’s separate property is the sole liability of [name of party A], who agrees to fully discharge that tax liability, including penalties and interest, if any, out of [his/her] separate-property estate. [Name of party A] further agrees to indemnify and hold [name of party B] and [her/his] separate property harmless from (and [name of party A] releases [name of party B] and [her/his] separate property from) all such tax liability, including penalties and interest, if any, together with all tax liens of every kind and character that might hereafter arise from the filing of [his/her] separate return or the failure to file necessary or proper returns or to pay the required taxes with respect to the separate-property taxable income of [name of party A].

For all tax years following the execution of this agreement, [name of party B] must report all of [her/his] separate-property income. In calculating [name of party B]’s separate-property tax liability, [she/he] is entitled to use all withholding, estimated tax payments, exemptions, deductions, charitable contributions, and tax credits (sometimes collectively called “adjustments”) that are solely attributable to [her/his] separate-property estate and income. [Name of party B] is entitled to use all current and prior year carryforwards (as well as all carryforwards arising in the future), including but not limited to net operating losses, passive losses, suspended losses, long-term capital losses, and short-term capital losses (sometimes collectively called “carryforwards”) that are strictly associated with [her/his] separate-property estate and income. [Name of party B] further agrees to indemnify and hold [name of party A] and [his/her] separate property harmless from (and [name of party B] releases [name of party A] and [his/her] separate property from) all such tax liability, including penalties and interest, if any, together with all tax liens of every kind and character that might hereafter arise from the filing of [her/his] separate tax return or the failure to file necessary or proper returns or to pay the required taxes with respect to the separate-property taxable income of [name of party B].

Each party is solely obligated to pay, from [his or her/his/her] other separate-property estate, all estimated tax payments, if any, associated with [his or her/his/her] separate-property tax liability that are required to be paid for all taxable years that the parties are married.

All tax refunds that may be received in the future are the sole and separate property of the party whose separate-property estate generated the refund.

10.2 Joint Tax Returns

Notwithstanding the provisions of section 10.1 above and the intent and desire of the parties to file separate tax returns and to retain the wholly separate character of their respective separate properties, the parties acknowledge that the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, and the regulations thereunder, and similar codes and regulations of other states in certain instances provide, or may provide in the future, savings in taxes for married couples filing joint returns. If that is the case, the parties may file joint returns, but their election to file joint tax returns for any year of their marriage does not constitute a waiver of any provision of this agreement. [Include if applicable: At the option of either party, a party may request individual calculations to determine the pro rata share of any tax liability or tax refund as between each party's separate-property estate and the community-property estate in accordance with section 10.1 above.]

Dissolution of Marriage by Court Order

Caution: No statutory provisions specifically allow the parties to a partition or exchange agreement to provide for the disposition of property on divorce, even though parties to a premarital agreement may do so under [Tex. 11.1 Property to [name of party A]

[Name of party B] agrees to release all interests or claims [she/he] may have in [name of party A]’s separate property. [Name of party B] further agrees to execute any documents necessary to set aside and confirm to [name of party A] [his/her] separate property and to release any and all claims that [name of party B] may have in and to [name of party A]’s separate property.

11.2 Property to [name of party B]

In the event of a dissolution proceeding between the parties, [name of party A] agrees that [name of party B] will be awarded all [her/his] separate property, including all property described in this agreement as being partitioned to [her/him] as [her/his] separate property. In the event of a dissolution proceeding between the parties, [name of party B] agrees to be responsible for and pay all liabilities and obligations associated with [her/his] separate property, including all property described in this agreement as being partitioned to [her/him] as [her/his] separate property. [Name of party B] further agrees to indemnify and hold [name of party A] and [his/her] property harmless from all liabilities associated with [name of party B]'s separate property.

Warning: No case law is yet available concerning the ability of the parties to waive the spousal maintenance provisions of Tex. Fam. Code ch. 8.

11.5 Waiver of Temporary Spousal Support, Spousal Maintenance, and Alimony

As a result of the partitioning of assets between the parties in this agreement, both parties will own separate-property assets, and neither party will require the other party to pay temporary spousal support, spousal maintenance, or alimony of any kind in the event of a dissolution proceeding. Each party waives any right that may exist under law to seek or obtain temporary spousal support, spousal maintenance, or alimony from the other party. If a court of competent jurisdiction orders either party to pay to the other party, or to a third party on behalf of the other party, temporary spousal support, spousal maintenance, or alimony of any kind during the pendency of a dissolution proceeding, that temporary spousal support, spousal maintenance, or alimony paid by one party to the other in connection with such a dissolution proceeding must be reimbursed to the party paying the temporary spousal support, spousal maintenance, or alimony within five days after receipt by the receiving party. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, thus, for example, if $1,000 in temporary alimony is paid by [name of party A] to [name of party B] during the pendency of a dissolution proceeding, the sum of $1,000 must be reimbursed to [name of party A] by [name of party B] within five days after [name of party B] receives the $1,000 from [name of party A].

The parties agree, in the event the receiving party fails to reimburse the paying party as required above, that the party paying the temporary spousal support, spousal maintenance, or alimony shall be allowed a dollar-for-dollar offset against all future temporary spousal support, spousal maintenance, or alimony payments to be paid by the paying party to the receiving party [include if applicable: or against other existing financial obligations on behalf of the community estate or on behalf of the receiving party]. In the event of a failure by the receiving party to reimburse any temporary spousal support, spousal maintenance, or alimony payment to the paying party within five days as required above, the paying party shall notify the receiving party of the paying party's intent to exercise [his or her/his/her] right to offset all amounts unreimbursed at that point against all subsequent temporary spousal support, spousal maintenance, or alimony payments to be paid by the paying party [include if applicable: or against other existing financial obligations on behalf of the community estate or on behalf of the receiving party]. The paying party shall also notify the receiving party exactly which financial obligations the unreimbursed payments will be offset against. On receipt of that notice from the paying party, the receiving party shall be discharged from the obligation of reimbursement to the extent of the amount of the offset.

11.6 Waiver of Right to Occupy Separate-Property Residence

In the event of the filing of a dissolution proceeding, and in the event the parties' marital homestead is owned by one party as [his or her/his/her] separate property, the nonowner spouse agrees to waive all right [he or she/he/she] may have to continue residing in the marital homestead, both during the pendency of the dissolution proceeding and following the dissolution of the parties' marriage. In that event, the nonowner spouse agrees to vacate the marital homestead no later than [days] days following [his or her/his/her] receipt of notice of the filing of the dissolution proceeding.

11.7 Release and Waiver

If either party files a dissolution proceeding, neither party may seek a division of the property of either or both parties in a manner contrary to the terms of this agreement.

Each party relinquishes, disclaims, and waives all rights, title, and interest that [he or she/he/she] may have to seek a division of property and liabilities in a dissolution proceeding contrary to what is provided for in this agreement.

Include either or both of the following if applicable.

11.8 Division of Community Estate

If the parties' marriage is dissolved by court order, all community property acquired during the marriage, if any community property arises despite the parties' intent to the contrary, must be equally divided between the parties according to the existing fair market value of each asset. If the parties cannot agree on the fair market value, the fair market value will be determined by appraisals. The division of the community property may be made by distribut-

11.9 Attorney's Fees

Each party further agrees to pay [his or her/his/her] own attorney's fees, costs, and other expenses on final hearing of any dissolution proceeding.

Gifts

14.1 Gifts

The parties acknowledge that during the remainder of their marriage, each party may, from time to time, make gifts of property to the other party. These interspousal gifts may be made on a special occasion, such as a birthday or anniversary, or on any other occasion a party may choose. The parties recognize that frequently claims of “gifts” are alleged in the context of a dissolution proceeding. To remove any uncertainty about the issue of interspousal gifts, the parties agree that:

1. Gifts of wearing apparel, jewelry, and athletic equipment may be established by parol testimony if the item or property is customarily used and enjoyed exclusively by the party claiming it as a gift to [him or her/him/her];
2. Gifts of other items of personal property not covered by item 1. above, such as furnishings, artwork, cash, and collections, must be established by clear and convincing evidence; and
3. Any property that is held by title, as in a deed, in a certificate, or by account name, may not be effectively transferred to the party claiming it as a gift unless, in fact, the deed, certificate, or account is transferred by name to the party claiming the gift.

14.2 Gift Tax Consequences

Each party retains the right to make gifts of [his or her/his/her] separate property without regard to blood or other relationship of the donee. Conditional on any such gift being made from the separate property of a party, the party making the gift may deem the other party as the donor of one-half of the gift for federal tax purposes, if allowable under the relevant law, but without personal liability to the deemed donor. If the deemed donor is held responsible for the payment of federal gift tax, the actual donor must indemnify and hold harmless the deemed donor and [his or her/his/her] property from the liability and must reimburse the deemed donor the amount of the tax, including all penalties and interest, if any, within ten days after the deemed donor has paid any such taxes, penalties, or interest. Notwithstanding any of the provisions set forth in this section 14.2 to the contrary, the parties agree that any gift in excess of the annual gift tax exclusion that would be applied to either party's unified lifetime credit must be consented to in writing by the parties before the making of the gift.

Article 15

Independent Conveyances or Bequests

15.1 Independent Conveyances or Bequests

If either party voluntarily conveys to the other party an interest in [his or her/his/her] separate property that is declared by law, or by this agreement, to be the separate property of one party, either by will, survivorship agreement, or instrument of conveyance or by document of title signed by the transferring party, the provisions of that will, survivorship agreement, instrument of conveyance, or document of title control over the provisions of this agreement to the extent of any conflict between the two documents regarding such property other than property that is personal to the other party. Absent such a will, survivorship agreement, instrument of conveyance, or document of title expressly conveying such property, all properties remain in the ownership of the party owning or designated as owning the property as [his or her/his/her] separate property.

Arbitration

19.1 Arbitration

The provisions for binding arbitration must be in accordance with Texas arbitration laws, including but not limited to sections 6.601 and 153.0071 of the Texas Family Code.

The parties agree to submit to binding arbitration any dispute or controversy regarding the validity, interpretation, or enforceability of this agreement, as well as all issues involving its enforcement in connection with a dissolution proceeding between the parties. Each party expressly waives any right to trial by a court or trial by a jury. If a dissolution proceeding or declaratory judgment proceeding is filed in Texas, the arbitrator appointed under this agreement will simultaneously be designated as special master under the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, and the parties agree to jointly apply to the court for any orders that are necessary to vest the arbitrator with all powers and authority of a special master under the rules.

The parties agree to appoint one arbitrator, whose decisions will be binding in all respects. Any arbitrator appointed by the parties must be an attorney who has undergone arbitration training conducted by the American Bar Association or the American Academy of Matrimonial Lawyers and is in good standing with the State Bar of Texas. [Include if applicable: The arbitrator must also be board certified in family law by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization.] The first party requesting arbitration must designate the name of an arbitrator in the request. The other party must then designate the name of an arbitrator. If the parties cannot agree on an arbitrator within fourteen days after either party's written request for arbitration, the two designees must select a qualified arbitrator, who will be designated the sole arbitrator of the dispute. The parties agree to attend the arbitration on the date and at the time and place set by the arbitrator. The cost of arbitration must be borne as the arbitrator directs. The award of the arbitrator will be binding and conclusive on the parties, and a judgment setting forth the arbitration award may be entered in any court of competent jurisdiction.

20.9 Exclusive Remedy for Nonmonetary Breach

If one or both of the parties ever becomes domiciled in a jurisdiction other than Texas, the status of all property thereafter acquired by that party must be controlled to the maximum extent by the terms of this agreement interpreted under Texas law in effect when this agreement is signed. The desire of the parties that each preserve [his or her/his/her] separate property or separate estate under Texas law and keep it free from the claims of the other party corresponds to their desire that each party should have and hold the property free from the claims of the other party under the laws of all other juris-

This form is designed to be used to confirm each party's separate property, partition any community property as desired, and make an agreement with respect to future earnings from separate property, as well as personal earnings.

If there are children under age eighteen, it is recommended that, to aid enforcement of the provisions of the agreement concerning the children, a suit affecting the parent-child relationship be filed in conjunction with the execution of this agreement, incorporating in an agreed order the terms of the agreement concerning managing and possessory conservatorship and access to and support of the children. This agreement is worded on the assumption that such an order will exist.

Separation Agreement

The parties to this Separation Agreement are [name of party A], of [county] County, Texas, and [name of party B], of [county] County, Texas.

2. The parties have [a] child~~ren~~ now under eighteen years of age who [is/are] entitled to support, as set forth below.
3. The parties have agreed to a separation. As a result, the purpose of this agreement is to partition the parties' existing property and property to be acquired in the future, to delineate and set forth methods whereby the character of the property can be readily determined, [include if applicable: to provide for the custody and support of the child~~ren~~,] and to provide for the maintenance and support of [[name of party A]/[name of party B]].

6. The parties acknowledge and agree that they are making and entering into this agreement voluntarily and without the intention to defraud or prejudice preexisting creditors.

7. Each party desires to partition or exchange community property in order for each party, following the execution of this agreement, to hold and possess [his or her/his/her] share as [his or her/his/her] sole and separate property.

8. The parties intend to clarify their respective property rights to eliminate any uncertainty about those rights following their separation.

Include the following if applicable.

9. The parties intend by this agreement that no future community property will be created during the remainder of their marriage.

Continue with the following.

In consideration of the mutual promises, agreements, partitions, exchanges, releases, and waivers contained in this agreement and in consideration of the parties' desire to establish certain rights and obligations by this agreement, and with the intent to be fully bound by the terms of this agreement, the parties covenant, agree, and contract as follows:

The reasonable and necessary health-care expenses of the child[ren] that are not reimbursed by health insurance [include if applicable: or dental insurance] are allocated as follows: [Name] shall pay [percent] percent and [name] shall pay [percent] percent of the unreimbursed health-care expenses if, at the time the expenses are incurred, [name] is providing health [include if applicable: and dental] insurance as agreed. “Reasonable and necessary health-care expenses that are not reimbursed by health insurance” incurred by or on behalf of a child include, without limitation, any copayments for office visits or prescription drugs, the yearly deductible, if any, and medical, surgical, prescription drug, mental health-care services, dental, eye care, ophthalmological, and orthodontic charges. Disallowance of the bill by an insurance company shall not excuse the obligation of either party to make payment. 3.6 Life Insurance

As additional child support, [name of obligor] agrees [include if applicable: to purchase and], as long as child support is payable under the terms of this agreement, to maintain in full force and effect at [name of obligor]'s sole cost and expense a life insurance policy, which may be a decreasing term life insurance policy, insuring the life of [name of obligor], with an initial death benefit not less than the amount of the "Unpaid Child Support," that will establish an insurance-funded [trust/annuity] payable to [name of obligee] for the benefit of the child[ren] that will satisfy the support obligation under this agreement in the event of the obligor's death, pursuant to sections 154.015 and 154.016 of the Texas Family Code.

"Unpaid Child Support" is defined as the sum of the following:

1. an amount equal to the total amount of monthly periodic child support payments under the terms of this agreement, as modified by future orders modifying the order based on this agreement, that would be due between the date of this agreement until the end of the month of [the/each] child's eighteenth birthday [, which the parties agree is [number] dollars ([$amount]);

2. an amount equal to the total amount of health insurance and dental insurance premiums payable for the benefit of the child[ren] under the terms of this agreement, as modified by future orders modifying the order based on this agreement, that would be due between the date of this agreement until the end of the month of [the/each] child's eighteenth birthday [, which the parties agree is [number] dollars ([$amount]); and

3. an amount equal to the balance owing on all cumulative judgments awarded against [name of obligor] for retroactive child support, child support arrearages, medical support arrearages, and dental support arrearages, as well as postjudgment interest on each judgment as of the date of the order based on this agreement [, which the parties agree to be [number] dollars ($[amount])).

The parties agree that at the date of this agreement the amount of Unpaid Child Support is [number] dollars ($[amount])).

[Name of obligor] will provide [name of obligee] written proof from the life insurance company confirming the coverage required under this portion of the agreement no later than thirty days after the date this agreement is signed [through the parties' attorneys/by mailing to [name of obligee] at [address]/by e-mailing to [name of obligee] at [e-mail address]].

On [date] of each calendar year [name of obligor] and [name of obligee] will recalculate the amount of Unpaid Child Support, replacing the date of the agreement or, if applicable, the date of the most recent recalculation, with the date of the newest recalculation until the balance of the Unpaid Child Support is zero. After each recalculation, [name of obligor] may decrease the amount of the death benefit of the insurance policy to an amount equal to or greater than the most recently recalculated Unpaid Child Support. If after any recalculation the death benefit of the life insurance policy is less than the recalculated Unpaid Child Support, within thirty days of that recalculation [name of obligor] will increase and maintain the death benefit to an amount equal to or greater than the most recently recalculated Unpaid Child Support.

Within thirty days of any change of the death benefit or of any beneficiary of the life insurance policy or of any written request by [name of obligee] [mailed to [name of obligor]'s last known mailing address/e-mailed to [name of obligor]'s last known e-mail address/sent by text message to [name of obligor]'s last known mobile telephone number/[other method of communication]], [name of obligor] will provide [name of obligee] at [name of obligee]'s last known [mailing/e-mail] address the documentation from the life insurance company showing the policy's current death benefit and the policy's current beneficiary designation(s). With [his/her] signature to this agreement, [name of obligor] authorizes [name of obligee] to obtain directly from the insurance company issuing the life insurance policy the current death benefit of the policy and the policy's beneficiary designation(s). Not later than thirty days after receipt of a form required by the insurance company to authorize [name of obligee] to directly obtain this information, [name of obligor] will execute and deliver each such form to [name of obligee] at [name of obligee]'s last known mailing address.

On the date of this agreement, [name of obligor] will create an insurance-funded [trust/annuity], the complete terms and documents of which [name of obligor] will provide to [name of obligee] [through the parties' attorneys/by mailing to [name of obligee] at [address]/by e-mailing to [name of obligee] at [e-mail address]]. Within fifteen days of any written request by [name of obligee] [mailed to [name of obligor]'s last known mailing address/e-mailed to [name of obligor]'s last known e-mail address/sent by text message to [name of obligor]'s last known mobile telephone number/[other method of communication]], [name of obligor] will provide [name of obligee] at [name of obligee]'s last known [mailing/e-mail] address the complete, current terms and documents of the [trust/annuity].

If [name of obligor]'s death occurs before the termination of [his/her] child support obligation, the proceeds of the life insurance policy shall fund the [trust/annuity] and shall be distributed as will be ordered by the Court in accordance with the Texas Family Code. If the proceeds of the life insurance policy are insufficient to satisfy [name of obligor]'s child support obligation as will be determined by the Court, any unpaid child support obligation remains an obligation of [name of obligor]'s estate. If the proceeds of the life insurance policy exceed [name of obligor]'s child support obligation as will be determined by the Court, [name of obligor], through the terms of the [trust/annuity], will determine the disposition of those excess funds after [name of obligee] is paid a sum equal to the child support obligation.

Initials

Initials

If any person or entity other than the insurance-funded [trust/annuity] described above receives proceeds of the life insurance policy [name of obligor] has agreed to maintain under the terms of this portion of the agreement before both the Court orders the distribution of those proceeds and those proceeds are distributed in accordance with that order, that person or entity will be designated a constructive trustee of those funds for the benefit of [name of obligee] to the extent the Court orders those funds to be paid to [name of obligee] to satisfy [name of obligor]'s child support obligation.

Management of Properties

8.1 Management of Properties

Each party has the full, free, and unrestricted right to manage the separate property over which [he or she/he/she] has control under section 3.101 of the Texas Family Code or succeeding provisions of similar import and nature, including without limitation the right to convey or encumber the property; to dispose of it by sale, gift, or otherwise; and to deal with it without taking into consideration any rights or interests of the other party. If the joinder of [name of party A] or [name of party B] (“joining party”) should be required by law in connection with the execution of any document by the other party with respect to the separate property of the other party, on request and from time to time, the joining party must execute all such documents necessary to effect the desires of the other party, including gift tax returns, but without any personal liability of the joining party. Neither party has the authority to encumber or dispose of the other party’s separate property without the other party’s express written consent. Notwithstanding any of the provisions set forth in this section 8.1, the parties agree that any gift in excess of the annual gift tax exclusion that would be applied to either party’s unified lifetime credit must be consented to in writing by the parties before the making of the gift.

Include 8.2 and 8.3 if applicable.

*8.2 No Legal Action against Separate Property of [name of party A]

In recognition of the fact that all property described on Schedule A of this agreement is stipulated and agreed to be the separate property of [name of party A], [name of party B] expressly disclaims any right to take any legal action against any of the entities listed on

Specifically, [name of party B] agrees that [she/he] is not entitled to, and shall not seek, any temporary restraining order, injunctive relief, receivership, or other legal relief that would in any way restrict, inhibit, or affect the ability of any of the entities listed on Schedule A of this agreement from operating their business affairs as each entity deems appropriate, including each such entity's right to sell, purchase, or alienate property, to transfer or pledge property, to incur or pay debt, to exercise stock options or warrants, to issue stock, to raise capital, to liquidate any assets, to enter into or change any contractual relationships, to make expenditures or incur any indebtedness, or to merge or in any way alter its business organization or form.

*8.3 No Legal Action against Separate Property of [name of party B]

In recognition of the fact that all property described on Schedule B of this agreement is stipulated and agreed to be the separate property of [name of party B], [name of party A] expressly disclaims any right to take any legal action against any of the entities listed on Schedule B in connection with any divorce proceeding or other legal action regarding this agreement. Specifically, [name of party A] agrees that [he/she] is not entitled to, and shall not seek, any temporary restraining order, injunctive relief, receivership, or other legal relief that would in any way restrict, inhibit, or affect the ability of any of the entities listed on Schedule B of this agreement from operating their business affairs as each entity deems appropriate, including each such entity's right to sell, purchase, or alienate property, to transfer or pledge property, to incur or pay debt, to exercise stock options or warrants, to issue stock, to raise capital, to liquidate any assets, to enter into or change any contractual relationships, to make expenditures or incur any indebtedness, or to merge or in any way alter its business organization or form.

Include 8.4 if applicable.

8.4 Other Temporary Orders during Dissolution

If either party files a dissolution proceeding, the parties agree that during the pendency of the action neither party will request or seek to enforce any restraining order or injunction that could have the effect of inhibiting or prohibiting a party from making decisions concerning or disposing of [his or her/his/her] separate property. Further, neither party will have the right to the temporary use or possession of any separate property owned solely by the other party, either real or personal. Nothing in this section 8.4 affects the ability of either party to request or seek to enforce any order for the benefit of a child of both parties.

Include 8.5 if applicable.

8.5 Gift Tax Consequences

Each party retains the right to make gifts of [his or her/his/her] separate property without regard to blood or other relationship of the donee. Conditional on any such gift being made from the separate property of a party, the party making the gift may deem the other party as the donor of one-half of the gift for federal tax purposes, if allowable under the relevant law, but without personal liability to the deemed donor. If the deemed donor is held responsible for the payment of federal gift tax, the actual donor must indemnify and hold harmless the deemed donor and [his or her/his/her] property from the liability and must reimburse the deemed donor the amount of the tax, including all penalties and interest, if any, within ten days after the deemed donor has paid any such taxes, penalties, or interest. Notwithstanding any of the provisions set forth in this section 8.5 to the contrary, the parties agree that any gift in excess of the annual gift tax exclusion that would be applied to either party's unified lifetime credit must be consented to in writing by the parties before the making of the gift.

Jointly Owned Property

9.1 Jointly Owned Property

Following the date of this agreement, the parties may from time to time by mutual agreement have the opportunity to acquire jointly owned separate property but not own any community property. If the parties jointly acquire assets following the execution of this agreement, they will each own an undivided interest in the jointly acquired assets as their respective sole and separate property in an amount equal to the percentage of their respective contributions toward the purchase of the assets. If the parties jointly acquire assets, and to the extent legal title to any or all of the assets can be perfected in their joint names, such as title to an automobile, boat, or real property, they will obtain title in their joint names. However, even though title to an asset acquired by the parties is held in their joint names, the percentage of ownership of such an asset will be controlled by the provisions of this article, and the taking of title in their joint names may not be interpreted to mean that each party has an undivided 50 percent ownership interest in jointly acquired assets. If legal title cannot be obtained in the parties' joint names with respect to a jointly acquired asset, the parties agree to execute a memorandum stipulating that the asset was jointly acquired by the parties. Jointly acquired property may not be deemed to be community property but instead will constitute each party's separate property in proportion to that party's contribution to the purchase price; provided, however, that if there are no records verifying the amount of each party's contribution toward the purchase of an asset, each party will own an undivided 50 percent interest in the asset. If the evidence of title reflects both parties' names, the parties will own that property as joint tenants with right of survivorship.

Future Credit Transactions

10.1 Credit Purchases

Any property purchased on credit is the separate property of the party in whose name the title is taken. If title to the property is taken in both parties' names, then both parties are responsible for paying any purchase-money indebtedness with their respective separate funds.

Dissolution of Marriage by Divorce

12.1 Dissolution of Marriage by Divorce

If the parties' marriage is dissolved by divorce in a proceeding filed by either party, each party agrees to be bound by the provisions of this article. Neither party may assert or seek any right, title, interest, award, charge, or benefit from the separate property owned by the other party, as determined under this agreement, at the time of the divorce proceeding. Each party agrees to take in full settlement of [his or her/his/her] property rights only [his or her/his/her] property as apportioned under this agreement. All liabilities must similarly be apportioned in accordance with this agreement. To effect this provision, each party relinquishes and disclaims any rights that party may have to seek a division of the property other than in accordance with this agreement, and each party agrees to indemnify the other party for the value of any property that may be awarded by the court in excess of what would be apportioned under this agreement. This article is intended to bind any court only insofar as is legally permissible, but the parties intend to fully bind each other contractually to the provisions of this article and this agreement.

The parties agree to submit to binding arbitration any dispute or controversy regarding the validity, interpretation, or enforceability of this agreement, as well as all issues involving its enforcement in connection with a dissolution proceeding between the parties. Each party expressly waives any right to trial by a court or trial by a jury. If a dissolution proceeding or declaratory judgment proceeding is filed in Texas, the arbitrator appointed under this agreement will simultaneously be designated as special master under the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, and the parties agree to jointly apply to the court for any orders that are necessary to vest the arbitrator with all powers and authority of a special master under the rules.

The other party must then designate the name of an arbitrator. If the parties cannot agree on an arbitrator within fourteen days after either party's written request for arbitration, the two designees must select a qualified arbitrator, who will be designated the sole arbitrator of the dispute. If the parties cannot agree on the ground rules and procedures to be followed during the arbitration proceedings, the arbitrator shall have the sole authority to establish the ground rules and procedures to be followed during the arbitration proceeding. The parties agree to attend the arbitration on the date and at the time and place set by the arbitrator. The cost of arbitration must be borne as the arbitrator directs. The award of the arbitrator will be binding and conclusive on the parties, and a judgment setting forth the arbitration award may be entered in any court of competent jurisdiction.

Waiver of any term of this agreement may be accomplished only concerning future performance and only by a written instrument signed by both parties expressly stating the provisions waived.

The parties expressly intend and agree that this agreement applies to and governs all real and personal property, wherever situated, owned by either party at the time this agreement is signed or acquired by either party thereafter, regardless of any change of domicile of the parties or the location of the real estate. If one or both of the parties ever becomes domiciled in a jurisdiction other than Texas, the status of all property thereafter acquired by that party must be controlled to the maximum extent by the terms of this agreement interpreted under Texas law in effect when this agreement is signed. The desire of the parties that each preserve [his or her/his/her] separate property or separate estate under Texas law and keep it free from the claims of the other party corresponds to their desire that each party should have and hold the property free from the claims of the other party under the laws of all other jurisdictions, even if the other jurisdictions do not recognize community property but instead speak of “marital property” and “nonmarital property” or like terms. For any property of either party whose ownership is not controlled by the marital property laws of Texas, when this agreement speaks of property as being the separate property of a party, reference is made to property acquired in such a manner that it would meet the definition of separate property under the Texas Constitution or the Texas Family Code, as amended.
