Introduction

The forms in this manual were prepared by members of a committee of the Council of the Family Law Section of the State Bar of Texas, and great care has gone into their preparation. The forms represent the best thinking of the practicing lawyers and judges on the committee. Perfection, however, is hard to achieve, and each lawyer using these materials must depend on his or her own expertise and knowledge of the law. The alternative situations that occur most often are covered in the forms. There is, however, no substitute in a particular case for the legal mind, and there is no end to the variations of human problems. Thus, care should be taken to ensure that any form used fits the case and treats the problems of that case.

A substantial debt of gratitude is owed to the more than one hundred members of the family bar who have given thousands of hours of their volunteer time over the years—fifty and counting—to maintain the manual as the most up-to-date, comprehensive, and user-friendly publication of its kind available anywhere.

§ 1 Digital Versions

The Texas Family Law Practice Manual is available in two digital versions: online and downloadable. The online version, available by subscription, is accessible on a variety of platforms including PC, mobile phones, and tablets. The downloadable version contains the entire text of the manual as two Adobe Acrobat PDF files (practice notes and forms).

Features of both versions include downloadable State Bar of Texas-copyrighted forms from the manual as editable Word files (and, in some cases, as PDF files) as well as printable or downloadable PDF files of forms available from various state and federal agencies. In both versions, applicable Texas and federal case and statute citations in the practice notes and forms instructions are linked to case reports and main code sections cited via Fastcase online. Both versions are searchable and hyperlinked to allow for easy, rapid navigation to topics of interest.

For more information about the online version, visit www.texasbarpractice.com/texas-bar-books-online/. For more information about the digital download including usage notes, see the material at the end of this introduction titled “How to Download This Manual.”

§ 2 Format and Content

1. Marginal notes and numbers

Longer forms contain marginal notes, which are provided to facilitate the use of the forms and to help in finding the applicable code section, statute, or rule to make the proper legal decision.

Family Code section numbers are used extensively in the petitions and occasionally in other forms; if no other identification accompanies a section number in a marginal note, it refers to a section in the Family Code. Citations to other sources employ the following abbreviations:

CFR	=	C.F.R.
TCPRC	=	Tex. Civ. Prac. & Rem. Code
TGC	=	Tex. Gov’t Code
TIC	=	Tex. Ins. Code
TPenC	=	Tex. Penal Code
TRCP	=	Tex. R. Civ. P.
USC	=	U.S.C.

The numbers and letters above each marginal note provide a rough outline of the contents of the form, often including alternative paragraphs.

2. Optional content

Within major sections of the text of forms, optional paragraphs or items are usually identified by boxed instructions. Further, however, entire major sections of form language may be inappropriate in a particular case (for example, orders pertaining to children in a case in which no child is involved, or orders pertaining to court-ordered spousal maintenance in a case in which no maintenance is ordered). These major sections are not specifically identified as optional. Because the manual can cover only relatively common situations confronted in family law cases, language needed to address an atypical issue in a particular case may not appear in the form. The user must take care to ensure both that language appearing in the form that is not appropriate for the particular case is eliminated and that any language needed for the particular case that does not appear in the form is added.

3. Typeface conventions

Two typefaces are used in the forms. Material in Times Roman (like most of this page) is appropriate for inclusion in a finished form. In contrast, Arial type is used for marginal notes and for instructions. When the Arial type is used within the form itself (rather than in a marginal note or instruction box), it appears in boldface for emphasis.

4. Bracketed material

Several types of bracketed material appear in the forms.

Choice of terms. In a bracketed statement such as “[Petitioner/Respondent],” the user must choose between the terms or phrases within the brackets. The choices are separated by forward slash marks. Alternative letters or phrases may also be indicated by the use of brackets. The most frequent example that appears in the forms is “child[ren],” indicating a choice between the words “child” and “children.”

Optional words. In a phrase such as “[no] termination,” the user must determine whether to include the word “no.”

Substitution of terms. In a bracketed statement such as “[name of former spouse],” the user is to substitute the name of the spouse rather than typing the bracketed material verbatim.

Instructions for use. Material such as “[include if applicable: . . .]” and “[describe portion of order being appealed from]” provides instructions for completing the finished form and should not be typed verbatim in the document. Bracketed instructions at the beginning of almost all the forms refer the user to section 3 of this introduction for instructions about composing the caption of the form.

Subtitles. The titles of some forms are followed by a bracketed subtitle that is not to be typed as part of the form title. In the title “Respondent’s Original Answer [to Petition to Annul Marriage],” for example, the bracketed words simply distinguish the form from another similarly titled form in the same chapter for ease of reference.

5. Blank lines

Signature lines appear as blank lines. Spaces for dates, times, and amounts that would be filled in after the document is prepared also appear as blank lines. (If an actual date, time, or amount should be inserted in the form when it is prepared, “[date],” “[time],” or “$[amount]” appears instead.)

6. Language in boxes

Language in boxes is not to be typed in the finished document but constitutes instructions, usually either telling the user whether to use the form language following the box, describing what information should be included at that point in the finished document or attached to it, or providing cautionary reminders about use of the form language.

7. Paragraph numbers

To conform to the requirements of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, form petitions have arabic paragraph numbers. In some instances, the pleading will not require any language of a numbered paragraph in the form, and in such cases the user must take care to renumber the paragraphs appropriately.

8. Requests for relief

The requests for relief in the forms do not include any request for relief for the other party. The petitioner for divorce, for instance, when requesting to be appointed sole managing conservator, does not also request that the other party be made possessory conservator. It was felt that one party's pleading probably would not support any relief granted to the other party, and so the relief should not be requested.

9. Form numbers

Forms are numbered in sequence within each chapter. All forms begin with the number of the chapter, which is followed by a hyphen and the number of the form within the chapter. This system is used to permit future expansion of any chapter without requiring the rearrangement of the entire manual.

10. Captions

An example of the caption that should precede the form title is not reprinted in most forms. Typical case styles are discussed in section 3 below.

11. Temporary restraining orders and temporary injunctions

Sometimes it is advisable to request a temporary injunction that includes more than a previously granted temporary restraining order or that has not been preceded by a temporary restraining order. There are situations in which sufficient facts are not available to support a temporary restraining order without a hearing, and facts may develop at the hearing on the temporary injunction that will support the injunction. The forms for relevant petitions and temporary orders are devised to accommodate such situations. The alternatives are such that the petitioner may request, and the court may grant, any of these alternatives:

- a. A temporary restraining order to be continued as a temporary injunction.
- b. A temporary restraining order to be continued as a temporary injunction and a temporary injunction on other matters.

- c. A temporary injunction without a temporary restraining order.

12. Marriage equality

Wording of the forms is designed to accommodate same-sex, as well as opposite-sex, marriage and conservatorship, reflecting the ruling of the Supreme Court of the United States in Obergefell v. Hodges, 135 S. Ct. 2584 (2015), and other recent case law.

§ 3 Captions of Forms

1. In a title 1 suit

Pleadings in a divorce or annulment suit shall be entitled, "In the Matter of the Marriage of _____ and _____." Tex. Fam. Code § 6.401(a). Pleadings in a suit to declare marriage void shall be styled, "A Suit to Declare Void the Marriage of _____ and _____." Tex. Fam. Code § 6.401(b).

Many suits under title 1 also include a suit affecting the parent-child relationship. In those cases, the caption should read "In the Matter of the Marriage of _____ and _____ and In the Interest of _____, a Child," as explained below.

While there is no rule addressing the issue, a suit brought to enforce a divorce decree or annulment order brought under chapter 8 (Maintenance) or subchapter A (Suit to Enforce Decree) of chapter 9 should have the same caption as the original suit.

Similarly, a suit brought under subchapter C (Post-Decree Division of Property) of chapter 9 should be styled like an ordinary civil lawsuit, "_____ v. _____," with the plaintiff's name appearing first and the defendant's name appearing second.

2. In a suit to change name

There is no rule addressing how a suit under Family Code chapter 45 should be captioned. If the petition to change name is brought as part of a larger suit, such as a paternity suit, the suit should have the caption appropriate for the other actions brought.

3. In a title 5 suit

With two exceptions, the petition and all other documents in a proceeding filed under title 5 shall be entitled “In the Interest of _____, a Child.” Tex. Fam. Code § 102.008(a). If more than one child is involved, list the name of each child as follows: “In the Interest of _____, _____, and _____, Children.”

In a suit in which adoption of a child is requested, the style shall be “In the Interest of a Child.” Tex. Fam. Code § 102.008(a). In a suit for adoption of an adult, the petition shall be entitled “In the Interest of _____, an Adult.” Tex. Fam. Code § 162.503(a).

4. Suggested format of first page of all pleadings and orders

Many practitioners have experienced the frustration of having the district clerk’s file stamp superimposed on the printing of the first page of a pleading or order, making it difficult to read the clerk’s file stamp. A block in the upper right hand corner of the first page of all pleadings and orders may avoid this problem. The space within this block would be reserved for the clerk to file-mark the document.

§ 4 E-Filing

Generally, all documents must be e-filed, except wills. Tex. R. Civ. P. 21(f)(4). The clerk may designate an electronically filed document as the official court record and is generally not required to keep both paper and electronic versions. Tex. R. Civ. P. 21(f)(13).

E-filed documents may be signed with either (1) an electronic or scanned digital image of the signature or (2) “/s/” and name typed in the space where the signature would otherwise appear. Tex. R. Civ. P. 21(f)(7).

Some documents must still be signed by hand. Even if e-filing, “/s/” and a typed name do not suffice for notarized or sworn documents. Tex. R. Civ. P. 21(f)(7)(A).

Documents e-filed before midnight in the court’s time zone are considered filed that day, except, if transmitted on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, the document is deemed filed on the next business day. Tex. R. Civ. P. 21(f)(5).

E-filed documents must be in PDF format, text searchable, and, if possible, printed to PDF rather than scanned. Tex. R. Civ. P. 21(f)(8).

See section 6 of this Introduction concerning the treatment of sensitive data when e-filing.

§ 5 Unsworn Declarations

The Civil Practice and Remedies Code provides that in many instances an unsworn declaration may be used in lieu of a written sworn declaration, verification, certification, oath, or affidavit required by statute or rule. See Tex. Civ. Prac. & Rem. Code § 132.001. (Note that this provision does not apply to a waiver of the issuance or service of citation in a suit for dissolution of marriage, for change of name of a child, or in a suit affecting the parent-child relationship; these waivers must be sworn before a notary public who is not an attorney in the suit unless the party executing the waiver is incarcerated. (Tex. Fam. Code §§ 6.4035(c), 45.0031, 102.0091). This provision also does not apply in certain other circumstances specified in Tex. Civ. Prac. & Rem. Code § 132.001(b) or to acknowledgments.)

If a form, or a portion of a form, in this manual calling for signature before a notary is converted to an unsworn declaration, rewording of the text will often be necessary. For example, in form 3-2, the petitioner’s supporting affidavit in a divorce case, the first paragraph (referring to the petitioner’s appearance before the notary) should be omitted, the quotation marks on the remaining paragraphs should be omitted, and the word “affidavit” should be changed to “declaration.”

Except for an inmate or a government employee in the performance of the employee’s job duties, the following should be used to replace the notary’s jurat:

My name is [name], my date of birth is [date], and my address is [address, city, state, zip code, country]. I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed in [county] County, [state],
on _____.

[Name], Declarant

For an inmate, the following should be used to replace the notary's jurat:

My name is [name], my date of birth is [date], and my inmate identifying number, if any, is [number]. I am presently incarcerated in [name of corrections unit] in [city, county, state, zip code]. I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed on _____.

[Name], Declarant

For an employee of a state agency or a political subdivision in the performance of the employee's job duties, the following should be used to replace the notary's jurat:

My name is [name], and I am an employee of the following governmental agency: [name of agency]. I am executing this declaration as part of my assigned duties and responsibilities. I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed in [county] County, [state],
on _____.

[Name], Declarant

These jurats are also found in Word in form 8-27.

§ 6 Sensitive Data in Filed Documents

The Texas Rules of Civil Procedure and the Texas Rules of Appellate Procedure, as amended effective January 1, 2014, provide privacy protection for sensitive data in filed documents.

The comments below cite Tex. R. Civ. P. 21c, but similar provisions for appellate proceedings are found in Tex. R. App. P. 9.9.

“Sensitive data” consists of a government-issued personal identification number, a financial account number, a birth date, a home address, and the name of any person who was a minor when the underlying suit was filed. See Tex. R. Civ. P. 21c(a). Any part of such an identification or account number is considered sensitive data.

Unless the inclusion of sensitive data is specifically required by a statute, court rule, or administrative regulation, a document containing sensitive data may not be filed with a court unless the sensitive data is redacted. Tex. R. Civ. P. 21c(b). Redaction must be by using the letter “X” in place of each omitted digit or character or removing the data in a manner indicating that it has been redacted. The filing party must retain an unredacted version of the filed document during pendency of the case and any related appellate proceedings filed within six months after the judgment is signed. Tex. R. Civ. P. 21c(c).

If a document must contain sensitive data, the clerk must be notified of that fact. A document that is not electronically filed must contain, on the upper left-hand side of the first page, the phrase “NOTICE: THIS DOCUMENT CONTAINS SENSITIVE DATA.” Tex. R. Civ. P. 21c(d). If the document is electronically filed, it must be designated as containing sensitive data when it is filed. Practitioners have reported difficulties in designating these e-filed documents in such a way that court clerks actually become aware of the designation. For this reason it is recommended that the notice be placed on the first page of the document even if it is e-filed. Although the clerk may not refuse to file a document containing sensitive data in violation of rule 21c, the clerk may identify the error and state a deadline for the party to resubmit a redacted document. Tex. R. Civ. P. 21c(e). Documents containing sensitive data in violation of rule 21c must not be posted on the Internet. Tex. R. Civ. P. 21c(f).

Most instances of sensitive data in the forms in this manual are required by statute. For example, the Civil Practice and Remedies Code requires each party to include in its initial pleading the last three numbers of the party's driver's license number and of the party's Social Security number, if those numbers have been assigned. See Tex. Civ. Prac. & Rem. Code § 30.014. The Family Code requires the names and birth dates of children in the petition in a suit affecting the parent-child relationship, and it requires parties' driver's license and Social Security numbers and residence addresses in final orders in such suits. See Tex. Fam. Code §§ 102.008, 105.006. Take care to identify and redact sensitive data that is not required by statute, court rule, or administrative regulation. Remember that, even if sensitive data is required to be included, the clerk must be notified that the document contains such sensitive data.

§ 7 Digitized Signatures

A digitized signature on an original petition or any other pleading or order in a proceeding under title 1, 2, 4, or 5 of the Family Code satisfies the requirements for and imposes the duties of signatories to pleadings, motions, and other papers identified under rule 13 of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure. A digitized signature may be applied only by, and must remain under the sole control of, the person whose signature is represented. Tex. Fam. Code §§ 1.109, 47.001, 81.011, 102.014. "Digitized signature" means a graphic image of a handwritten signature having the same legal force and effect for all purposes as a handwritten signature. Tex. Fam. Code § 101.0096.

A party may not use a digitized signature to sign a waiver of the issuance or service of citation in a suit for dissolution of marriage, for change of name of a child, or in a suit affecting the parent-child relationship. Tex. Fam. Code §§ 6.4035(e), 45.0031(b), 102.0091(b).

§ 8 Recital of Appearances in Orders

If a party, attorney, or court-appointed advocate appears at a hearing, consider stating for each whether the appearance was in person, by videoconference, or by teleconference. While traditionally parties have made in-person court appearances, appearances by videoconference (e.g., Zoom) or by teleconference have become more common, particularly with the Texas Supreme Court emergency orders regarding the COVID-19 State of Disaster, the first of which the court issued on March 13, 2020. Those emergency orders permitted courts to consider as evidence sworn statements made out of court or sworn testimony given remotely, out of court, such as by teleconferencing, videoconferencing, or other means. Some courts prefer the orders submitted to them accurately reflect how the parties and attorneys actually appeared. The information may be helpful for the parties and the trial court during the suit or in future suits involving the parties.

§ 9 Corrections and Updates

In drafting the manual, the members of the committee devoted a great deal of effort to making it error free, but it undoubtedly contains some errors. We would appreciate your pointing out to us any errors you find in the manual, as well as any revisions you believe are advisable. Re: [specify]

[Salutation]

This letter is written to confirm your engagement of [name of attorney or firm] [include if firm: (“we” or the “firm”)] to represent you, the client, with respect to [specify family law matter, e.g., divorce, modification, etc.]

I. Legal Matter and Scope of Services

[My/Our] representation is strictly limited to the matter described in this letter. [My/Our] services will consist of court appearances, telephone conferences, e-mails, travel, investigation, research, review and organization of documents, preparation of pleadings and correspondence, negotiations and settlement conferences, and other necessary professional services.

This engagement includes services through the entry of a final order at the trial court level. This engagement does not include presentation of this case to any appellate court. If an appeal is necessary, it is a separate and distinct representation requiring the services of an appellate lawyer.

With respect to this engagement, please understand that [I/we] do not provide tax or accounting advice. Any information that [I/we] provide concerning federal income taxes or the potential tax consequences of any transactions constitutes nothing more than a starting point for discussions between you and your certified public accountant or other tax advisor. You are strongly encouraged to review the tax language contained in any mediated or informal settlement agreement and any documents finalizing your divorce with a certified public accountant or other tax advisor before you sign any such documents.

[I/We] do not provide advice relating to intellectual property or regulatory matters.

[I/We] are not being retained to value the marital estate, as [I/we] do not have expertise in this area. You must determine, based on the information obtained through the proceeding, which assets you would like to receive, the value of those assets, and the economic ramifications concerning the property division. [I/We] may advise you to retain appropriate experts, such as accountants, financial advisors, or real estate or business appraisers, to assist in this regard.

[I/We] do not automatically search property titles, determine the validity of income and expense figures supplied by your spouse or other opposing party, or attempt to verify other underlying data provided as part of our representation. If there are questions in your mind concerning any of these issues, you should discuss them with [me/us] and authorize [me/us] to retain appropriate experts to provide assistance on your behalf.

If you receive real estate as part of the division of assets in this case, you have the right to have a title policy issued with regard to each such conveyance or to have a title search or abstract letter issued. This office does not issue title policies, nor do [I/we] prepare abstracts or conduct title searches related to the conveyance of real estate or to secure obligations created in divorce documents. If you desire that [I/we] prepare any real estate documents, [I/we] rely solely on information you provide [me/us] about the ownership of property, legal descriptions, existing liens, encumbrances, or other restrictions that may affect the conveyance of title. If you wish to have a title policy issued or a title search performed or abstract prepared, please advise this office in writing and [I/we] will be happy to refer this aspect of the closing documents relating to your case to a title company. You may also consult with a title company of your choice or an abstract attorney at your expense. Please advise this office, in writing, if you desire to have a title search, abstract letter, or title policy issued or any other research done with regard to the real estate closing documents that may need to be prepared to conclude your case.

In cases involving retirement plans, a domestic relations order or a qualified domestic relations order (QDRO) may be required to effectuate a division of the benefits. If your case involves a QDRO or a domestic relations order, [I/we] will suggest persons with the appropriate skills to assist [me/us] with this matter at your expense. You will be expected to make a separate arrangement with the specialist and pay the fees associated with the drafting of any domestic relations orders or QDROs.

II. Retainer (Initial Fee Deposit)

As consideration for [my/our] acceptance of your case, you have agreed to pay a [refundable/nonrefundable] retainer in the amount of [number] dollars ($[amount]). The retainer should be delivered to [me/us] with a signed copy of this letter before [I/we] can commence work on your case.

Include the following provision for a nonrefundable retainer if applicable.

You have agreed to pay a nonrefundable retainer to secure [my/our] services and to compensate [me/this firm] for the likelihood of lost employment opportunities.

Include the following provision for a refundable retainer if applicable.

[The initial fee deposit will be deposited into [my/our] trust account and applied toward the professional services rendered and expenses advanced by [me/the firm] as incurred each month./The initial fee deposit will be held and applied to the last invoice in this matter.]

Continue with the following as applicable.

At [my/our] discretion, the initial fee deposit may also be applied to any past-due invoices, in which case you agree, on [my/our] request, to replenish the retainer in the amount of your original payment. If you fail to replenish the retainer, then with written notice to you, [I/we] may cease work on your case as soon as ethically possible.

The initial fee deposit is not an estimate of the total legal expenses you may incur. The total fee may be less than or exceed the retainer depending on the circumstances of your case and subsequent developments.

All funds deposited in [my/our] trust account earn interest paid by the financial institution to the Texas Equal Access to Justice Foundation by order of the Texas Supreme Court.

III. Fees and Expenses

I will serve as lead attorney. You agree to pay an hourly rate of $[amount] for professional services performed by the lead attorney. [Include if applicable: For services performed by other attorneys in the firm, you will be charged at the hourly rate of $[amount].] For services performed by legal assistants, you will be charged at the hourly rate of $[amount]. These hourly rates may change during [my/our] representation. If such changes are necessary, you will be notified in writing [number] days before the change. All services, including telephone calls and e-mails, are billed in [number]-minute increments regardless of the actual time spent.

You will also be charged all incidental costs and expenses incurred by [me/the firm] in connection with your case, including the following: court costs and filing fees; deposition expenses; transcript costs; travel expenses; long-distance telephone calls; postage; services of other professionals, accountants, expert witnesses, and private investigation firms; document reproduction at $[amount] per page; fax transmissions at $[amount] per page; and Westlaw/

Nexis legal research fees. [My/Our firm] policy requires a client to pay in advance or directly to the provider any expense exceeding $[amount].

Although I may request that the opposing party pay attorney's fees and court costs as authorized by the Texas Family Code and other statutes, neither the request for fees nor a judgment for attorney's fees will excuse your obligation to pay fees as required by this contract.

IV. Billing

You will be invoiced generally on a monthly basis for services and expenses rendered during the prior thirty-day period. Payments for [my/our] invoices are due on receipt and are past due after thirty days. If the initial fee deposit is exceeded, any balance is due and payable on receipt of the monthly statement. You may be requested to make an additional deposit when the initial fee deposit is less than $[amount].

V. Confidentiality

Conversations between an attorney and a client are protected by law. An attorney cannot be compelled to reveal confidential communications of a client with certain exceptions involving child or elder abuse. To enable [me/us] to efficiently render legal services to you, you agree to disclose fully and accurately all facts and keep [me/us] apprised of all developments relating to your case. You further agree to cooperate fully with [me/us] and to attend hearings and meetings [I/we] may advise you to attend. You further agree to promptly provide any documents you have received pertinent to this matter.

From time to time [I/we] may use e-mail without encryption to communicate with you or others about your case. There are related privacy and security issues with this means of communication. You have agreed that [I/we] may use e-mail as an economical, convenient form of communication.

Please understand that to protect your interests in the event of my death, disability, or retirement, it may be necessary or appropriate for another lawyer or a staff member of this or another firm, a personal representative (including someone acting under a power of attorney), or another lawyer who is retained by any such person, to have access to your file and records in order to contact you to determine appropriate handling of your matters and of your files and to make an appropriate referral (subject to your approval) to other attorneys for future handling. In that regard, you grant permission and waive all privileges solely to the extent necessary or appropriate for this purpose.

VI. Management of Engagement

You have the right to be informed about the status of your case, and [I/this firm] will do [my/our] best to keep you advised as the case progresses. You hereby authorize [me/the firm] to take such action and to prepare, sign, and deliver such documents and filings as may be necessary or appropriate to represent you. Because of the nature of legal representation in general, [I have/this firm has] made no promises or guarantees to you concerning the outcome of the engagement, and [I/we] cannot do so.

You agree that [I/this firm] may withdraw from representation in the event you—

1. insist on presenting a claim or defense not warranted under existing law and that cannot be supported by a good-faith argument for extension or reversal of such law;
2. personally seek to pursue an illegal course of conduct;
3. request that [I/the firm] pursue a course of conduct that is illegal or prohibited under the disciplinary rules;
4. by other conduct render it unreasonably difficult for [me/the firm] to carry out employment;

5. insist that [I/the firm] engage in conduct that is contrary to [my/our] judgment or advice; or
6. disregard an agreement with [me/the firm] as to fees, services, or costs or expenses rendered.

You further agree that in order for [me/this firm] to effectively represent you, it is imperative that you—

1. communicate with [me/the firm] by returning telephone calls and responding to written correspondence;
2. cooperate with [me/the firm] by complying with requests for information or documents; and
3. timely pay for services rendered as provided herein.

VII. Retention of File

[I agree/The firm agrees] to assert a diligent effort, subject to causes beyond [my/our] control, to retain and maintain all major and significant components of [my/our] files pertaining to this engagement for [number] years. [I reserve/This firm reserves] the right to destroy the file [years (not less than five)] years from the date the file is closed.

VIII. General Provisions

The Texas Supreme Court and courts of appeals have adopted the Texas Lawyer's Creed as a mandate to the legal profession in Texas. A copy of the Texas Lawyer's Creed is attached to this employment agreement for your review.

The Texas Government Code requires that you be advised that the State Bar of Texas investigates and prosecutes professional misconduct committed by Texas attorneys. Although not every complaint against or dispute with a lawyer involves professional misconduct, the State Bar will provide you with information about how to file a complaint. For more information call 1-800-932-1900.

Include the following if there will be an arrangement for division of the fee covered by the agreement with an attorney who is not in the firm.

The fee specified in this agreement will be divided with [name], an attorney who is not in this firm. The fee will be divided [in proportion to the professional services performed by each attorney/between attorneys who assume joint responsibility for the representation]. You have consented to all the terms of the arrangement, particularly (1) the identity of the attorneys or firms who will participate in the fee-sharing agreement, (2) the manner in which the fee will be divided as specified above, and (3) [the share of the fee that each attorney or firm will receive/the basis on which the division will be made].

Continue with the following.

[I am/We are] privileged to assist you and value your trust and confidence. If you approve this agreement, please date and sign the original of this letter where indicated and return it to this office by [date]. The enclosed copy is for your file. I am committed to this Creed for no other reason than it is right.

Our Legal System

5. I will always be conscious of my duty to the judicial system.

Lawyer to Client

A lawyer owes to a client allegiance, learning, skill, and industry. A lawyer shall employ all appropriate means to protect and advance the client's legitimate rights, claims, and objectives. A lawyer shall not be deterred by any real or imagined fear of judicial disfavor or public unpopularity, nor be influenced by mere self-interest.

1. I will advise my client of the contents of this Creed when undertaking representation.
2. I will endeavor to achieve my client's lawful objectives in legal transactions and in litigation as quickly and economically as possible.
3. I will be loyal and committed to my client's lawful objectives, but I will not permit that loyalty and commitment to interfere with my duty to provide objective and independent advice.
4. I will advise my client that civility and courtesy are expected and are not a sign of weakness.
5. I will advise my client of proper and expected behavior.
6. I will treat adverse parties and witnesses with fairness and due consideration. A client has no right to demand that I abuse anyone or indulge in any offensive conduct.

8. I will advise my client that we will not pursue tactics which are intended primarily for delay.

9. I will advise my client that we will not pursue any course of action which is without merit.

10. I will advise my client that I reserve the right to determine whether to grant accommodations to opposing counsel in all matters that do not adversely affect my client's lawful objectives. A client has no right to instruct me to refuse reasonable requests made by other counsel.

11. I will advise my client regarding the availability of mediation, arbitration, and other alternative methods of resolving and settling disputes.

Lawyer to Lawyer

A lawyer owes to opposing counsel, in the conduct of legal transactions and the pursuit of litigation, courtesy, candor, cooperation, and scrupulous observance of all agreements and mutual understandings. Ill feelings between clients shall not influence a lawyer's conduct, attitude, or demeanor toward opposing counsel. A lawyer shall not engage in unprofessional conduct in retaliation against other unprofessional conduct.

1. I will be courteous, civil, and prompt in oral and written communications.
2. I will not quarrel over matters of form or style, but I will concentrate on matters of substance.
3. I will identify for other counsel or parties all changes I have made in documents submitted for review.

4. I will attempt to prepare documents which correctly reflect the agreement of the parties. I will not include provisions which have not been agreed upon or omit provisions which are necessary to reflect the agreement of the parties.

5. I will notify opposing counsel, and, if appropriate, the Court or other persons, as soon as practicable, when hearings, depositions, meetings, conferences or closings are canceled.

6. I will agree to reasonable requests for extensions of time and for waiver of procedural formalities, provided legitimate objectives of my client will not be adversely affected.

7. I will not serve motions or pleadings in any manner that unfairly limits another party's opportunity to respond.

8. I will attempt to resolve by agreement my objections to matters contained in pleadings and discovery requests and responses.

9. I can disagree without being disagreeable. I recognize that effective representation does not require antagonistic or obnoxious behavior. I will neither encourage nor knowingly permit my client or anyone under my control to do anything which would be unethical or improper if done by me.

10. I will not, without good cause, attribute bad motives or unethical conduct to opposing counsel nor bring the profession into disrepute by unfounded accusations of impropriety. I will avoid disparaging personal remarks or acrimony towards opposing counsel, parties and witnesses. I will not be influenced by any ill feeling between clients. I will abstain from any allusion to personal peculiarities or idiosyncrasies of opposing counsel.

11. I will not take advantage, by causing any default or dismissal to be rendered, when I know the identity of an opposing counsel, without first inquiring about that counsel's intention to proceed.

12. I will promptly submit orders to the Court. I will deliver copies to opposing counsel before or contemporaneously with submission to the Court. I will promptly approve the form of orders which accurately reflect the substance of the rulings of the Court.

13. I will not attempt to gain an unfair advantage by sending the Court or its staff correspondence or copies of correspondence.

14. I will not arbitrarily schedule a deposition, court appearance, or hearing until a good faith effort has been made to schedule it by agreement.

15. I will readily stipulate to undisputed facts in order to avoid needless costs or inconvenience for any party.

16. I will refrain from excessive and abusive discovery.

17. I will comply with all reasonable discovery requests. I will not resist discovery requests which are not objectionable. I will not make objections nor give instructions to a witness for the purpose of delaying or obstructing the discovery process. I will encourage witnesses to respond to all deposition questions which are reasonably understandable. I will neither encourage nor permit my witness to quibble about words where their meaning is reasonably clear.

18. I will not seek Court intervention to obtain discovery which is clearly improper and not discoverable.

19. I will not seek sanctions or disqualification unless it is necessary for protection of my client's lawful objectives or is fully justified by the circumstances.

Lawyer and Judge

Lawyers and judges owe each other respect, diligence, candor, punctuality, and protection against unjust and improper criticism and attack. Lawyers and judges are equally responsible to protect the dignity and independence of the Court and the profession.

1. I will always recognize that the position of judge is the symbol of both the judicial system and the administration of justice. I will refrain from conduct that degrades this symbol.

2. I will conduct myself in Court in a professional manner and demonstrate my respect for the Court and the law.

3. I will treat counsel, opposing parties, the Court, and members of the Court staff with courtesy and civility.

4. I will be punctual.

5. I will not engage in any conduct which offends the dignity and decorum of proceedings.

6. I will not knowingly misrepresent, mischaracterize, misquote or miscite facts or authorities to gain an advantage.

7. I will respect the rulings of the Court.

8. I will give the issues in controversy deliberate, impartial and studied analysis and consideration.

9. I will be considerate of the time constraints and pressures imposed upon the Court, Court staff and counsel in efforts to administer justice and resolve disputes.

Form 2-5Letter to Client Advising against Settlement

[Date]

[Name and address of client]

Re: [style of case]

[Salutation]

The attached settlement proposal has been received in this matter and previously communicated to you. The decision to settle and under what terms is yours alone. My obligation is to inform you of alternatives to settlement so that you may make an informed decision.

If a settlement cannot be reached in your case, it must be presented to the court for determination. The decision made by the court will be binding, subject to the right of appeal. The court's ruling may be different from any proposed settlement, and there can be no guarantee that the court's decision will be more favorable.

I cannot recommend that you accept the proposed settlement for several reasons.

[Optional: enumerate items unacceptable in the offer.] I believe the proper way to resolve your case is by further negotiations or trial.

Notwithstanding this advice, you have indicated your desire to accept the settlement offer and I will respect your decision and will begin work on the settlement documents. I am asking that you sign a copy of this letter to confirm the legal advice I have given.

Sincerely yours,

Please be advised that the parties to a divorce case may participate in settlement negotiations without their lawyers present. Form 2-17

Letter to Client Regarding Firearms

[Name and address of client]

[Salutation]

The Gun Control Act at 18 U.S.C. § 922 makes it unlawful for certain categories of persons to ship, transport, receive, or possess firearms or ammunition, including any person—

- convicted in any court of a crime punishable by imprisonment for a term exceeding one year;
- who is a fugitive from justice;
- who is an unlawful user of or addicted to any controlled substance (as defined in section 102 of the Controlled Substances Act, codified at 21 U.S.C. § 802);
- who has been adjudicated as a mental defective or has been committed to any mental institution;
- who is in the United States illegally;
- who has been discharged from the Armed Forces under dishonorable conditions;
- who has renounced his or her United States citizenship;
- who is subject to a court order restraining the person from harassing, stalking, or threatening an intimate partner or child of the intimate partner or engaging in other conduct that would place an intimate partner in reasonable fear of bodily injury to the partner or child; or

- who has been convicted of a misdemeanor crime of domestic violence.

It is routine practice for a court in a family law case such as this to enter an order prohibiting a party from “threatening the other party in person, by telephone, or in writing to take unlawful action against any person,” “intentionally, knowingly, or recklessly causing bodily injury to the other party or to a child of either party,” or “threatening the other party or a child of either party with imminent bodily injury.” If an order with similar language is entered in your case, or if a domestic violence protective order is entered against you, you may be subject to prosecution for a federal felony if you possess a firearm or ammunition. If you own firearms or ammunition, please place them with a third party away from your residence for safekeeping pending divorce. When a final order is signed by the judge in this case, you may be permitted to possess these items again unless the final order expressly prohibits your possession of firearms or ammunition.

If you are convicted of the misdemeanor crime of domestic violence, you may be subject to prosecution for a federal felony if you possess any firearm or ammunition. In this circumstance, your right to possess a firearm or ammunition could be forfeited for life.

Please sign below to acknowledge my advice.

Sincerely yours,

[Name of attorney]

I acknowledge the advice given by my attorney.

Form 2-18

Letter to Client Regarding Inadvertent Agreements

[Date]

[Name and address of client]

[Salutation]

For your protection, I want to make you aware of the following information so that you may avoid entering into a binding agreement unintentionally.

Rule 11 of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure provides that an agreement that is (1) in writing, (2) signed, and (3) filed with the court may be enforced as a binding agreement, resolving the issues contained in that written document and precluding further discussion or litigation regarding those issues.

This description would specifically include any document, handwritten or otherwise, that you and your spouse sign that purports to contain settlement terms. Further, recent decisions of the Supreme Court of Texas greatly increase the likelihood that this sort of informal document could, regardless of your intent, be deemed a final and binding settlement by the court.

Additionally, if you choose to communicate by e-mail with a party to the lawsuit or others, you may say something that could form the basis of a contract. When communicating by e-mail it is often difficult to avoid making admissions or otherwise including something that you will later regret.

I therefore advise that you do not sign any document until it has been reviewed by your attorney.

If you have any questions regarding this matter, please feel free to ask.

Sincerely yours,

[Name of attorney]

I acknowledge the advice of my attorney.

[Name of client]

Form 2-19

Letter to Client Regarding Initial Disclosure Requirements

[Date]

[Name and address of client]

[Salutation]

I am writing to inform you of your obligation to produce documents and other information regarding your case without awaiting a discovery request under the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure. [Your husband/Your wife/The other party] has the same obligation to produce these documents to you.

Discovery is an important and potentially dangerous part of the lawsuit because failure to timely disclose the required information to the other party could result in the court's imposing sanctions on you, including not allowing you to present witnesses and other evidence in support of your claims and ordering you to pay the other side's attorney's fees. As such, it is something that must be taken very seriously.

Include the following in suits for divorce, annulment, or to declare a marriage void.

Under the discovery rules, without awaiting a request, you are required to produce to the other party, within thirty days of [your/the other party's] answer, the following documents for the past two years, or since the date of marriage, whichever is less:

1. all deed and lien information on any real property owned and all lease information on any real property leased;

2. all statements for any pension plan, retirement plan, profit-sharing plan, employee benefit plan, and individual retirement plan;
3. all statements or policies for each current life, casualty, liability, and health insurance policy; and
4. all statements pertaining to any account at a financial institution, including banks, savings and loans institutions, credit unions, and brokerage firms.

Include the following in suits in which child support or spousal support is at issue.

Because your case involves [child support/spousal support/child support and spousal support], you must [also] provide to the other party the following information within thirty days of [your/the other party's] answer without awaiting a discovery request:

1. information regarding all policies, statements, and the summary description of benefits for any medical and health insurance coverage that is or would be available for [the child[ren]/the spouse/the child[ren] or the spouse];
2. income tax returns for the previous two years or, if no return has been filed, your Form W-2, Form 1099, and Schedule K-1 for such years; and
3. your two most recent payroll check stubs.

Continue with the following for all suits.

You are [also] required to provide to the other party the following information within thirty days of [your/the other party's] answer:

1. The correct names of the parties to the lawsuit. In most family law cases, this is simply the correct legal names of the petitioner and the respondent.

2. The names, addresses, and telephone numbers of any potential parties. Unless we are contemplating making a legal claim against a third party in the lawsuit, the usual answer to this question is that there are no potential parties.

3. The legal theories and, in general, the factual bases of the claims and defenses. This question is essentially a legal question, and our firm will prepare the majority of the response. However, it is helpful to have a listing of the facts and circumstances that you believe to be most important in your case. Please provide those to us in your draft answers.

4. The amount and any method of calculating economic damages. In most family law cases, there is no specific claim for economic damages. If you claim that assets have been wasted or transferred out of your estate, or if any assets of one estate (for example, a separate estate) were used to pay a debt upon or to benefit another estate (for example, the community estate), this could be considered as a claim for economic damages, and we would need to work with you to respond to this question.

5. Persons with knowledge of relevant facts. You are required to identify every person who knows anything about the facts (good or bad) that relate to your case. We must list each such person's name, address, and telephone number. Further, we must make a short one-sentence statement identifying the relationship of each person to your case. Please err on the side of disclosing more people, rather than fewer people.

6. Production of documents and electronically stored information. You are required to produce a copy—or a description by category and location—of all documents, electronically stored information, and tangible things that you have in your possession, custody, or control and may use to support your claims or defenses.

7. Indemnity and insuring agreements. This requirement is primarily addressed to litigation cases other than family law. Accordingly, unless we are making a personal injury claim in your family law case (which is unusual), then the answer is generally that no such documents exist.

8. Settlement agreements. This requirement is primarily addressed to the scenario where there are multiple defendants in a personal injury case, and parties have the right to know whether there have been undisclosed settlements made with other parties.

9. Witness statements. You are required to produce any witness statements that are in your possession, custody, or control. A witness statement is (a) a written statement signed or otherwise adopted or approved in writing by the person making it or (b) a stenographic, mechanical, electrical, or other type of recording of a witness's oral statement or any substantially verbatim transcription of such a recording. Notes taken during a conversation or interview with a witness are not a witness statement. If you have any such witness statements, please provide them to us so that we can produce the witness statements to opposing counsel.

10. Medical records and bills for asserted injuries. This requirement is primarily relevant in personal injury litigation cases. Unless there is a component of your case involving a claim that one party or the other physically or mentally injured the other party, then it is generally not applicable. If such allegations are possible, then it is important to produce the medical records that you possess.

11. Medical records obtained by respondent. This requirement seeks medical records and bills obtained by virtue of an authorization signed by the other party. As stated above, unless there is a component of your case involving a claim that one party or the other physically or mentally injured the other party, then it is generally not applicable. If such allegations are possible, it is important to produce the medical records that you possess, including records that you might have obtained as a result of an authorization provided by the other party.

12. Responsible third party. You are required to identify every person who may be designated as a responsible third party. We must list each person's name, address, and telephone number. This requirement is primarily applicable to personal injury cases. However, if you believe there are third parties who may be considered responsible for certain damages in your case, please identify them.

We must receive the required materials by [date] so that we have sufficient time to review, organize, and prepare the responses and documents for production to the other party.

Letter to Client Regarding Spoliation of Evidence

[Name and address of client]

[Salutation]

I am writing to inform you of your duty to preserve and protect from loss or destruction all material and relevant evidence, including text messages, e-mails, voicemails, videos, recordings, pictures, and social media information, whether the loss or destruction is intentional or negligent through the normal use of your computer or other electronic devices.

You are required to preserve all material and relevant evidence even if it may have been your usual practice before the litigation to routinely delete such information. If, before you received this notice, you routinely deleted any such information, please immediately cease all such practices.

If you suffer a hardware loss or failure that results in the loss or destruction of material and relevant evidence, please let my office know immediately so that we can promptly take the appropriate actions, including notifying the court and opposing counsel. This applies to any cell phone, computer, tablet, or other electronic devices that may be lost or stolen. If you decide to replace your cell phone, computer, tablet, or other electronic device, please do not return or discard your old device. You will need to preserve the old device until the case is resolved.

Please speak with me before you delete or dispose of any data or documents. The penalties that the court can impose on you for what the court deems to be the intentional or negligent destruction of material and relevant evidence can be severe. This includes the court's potentially prohibiting you from presenting certain evidence, deciding issues without any input from you, or making you pay to replicate the lost evidence.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely yours,

Letter to Client Before Mediation

[Date]

[Name and address of client]

[Salutation]

I am writing regarding our mediation with [name] on [date] at [time]. Please contact the mediator's office at [address] twenty-four hours before mediation to pay the mediation fee of $[amount].

Mediation is an informal process by which an impartial third party, the mediator, helps people facilitate a mutually acceptable agreement, rather than going to court and having a judge or jury decide the case. Mediation is confidential, which generally means that any communications made during mediation are not subject to disclosure and may not be used as evidence if the case is resolved in court. This means that no one who participates in the mediation, including the mediator, can be required to testify in court about what was said or offered during the mediation. You have the right to ask the mediator to keep specified information confidential until you give the mediator the authority to share that specific information with the opposing party.

If the mediation results in a settlement, the mediator will put the settlement agreement into a written legal document called a mediated settlement agreement, often referred to as an "MSA." An MSA is a powerful legal document that, once signed, is generally irrevocable and cannot be changed. Therefore, it is important for the MSA to be comprehensive and to fully resolve all issues in your case. Once you sign an MSA, you cannot change the agreement if you later decide that you no longer like the terms or realize that something was accidentally left out of the agreement. Accordingly, please read the MSA carefully to be certain that it addresses all issues related to your case before you sign it.

No one can force you to settle your case in mediation. Your case will not be settled and an MSA will not be signed at mediation unless you agree and choose to sign the MSA voluntarily. Please understand that family law mediation can be stressful and emotional, and it often requires parties to make difficult decisions quickly and under challenging circumstances.

The mediator may speak bluntly to both parties about the strengths and weaknesses of their cases to expose weakness and facilitate a settlement without going to court. I will also give you my objective assessment and advice during the mediation, including my opinion of the settlement terms that I believe are reasonable based on the facts, law, and other circumstances applicable to your case. During the mediation, I or the mediator will assess the ranges of possible outcomes that could happen if the case does not settle and whether settlement at mediation is the best option for you. You may feel pressured; however, as we have discussed, you always have the right not to settle your case at mediation and to let your case be decided in court, which could result in either a better or a worse outcome than what you could have agreed to at mediation.

Confirm case analysis, ranges of outcomes, settlement goals, and so forth.

Sincerely yours,

Application to Enjoin Further Proceedings in Subsequent Suit

This application is brought by [name of petitioner], Applicant, Petitioner in this case. In support, Petitioner shows:

1. Petitioner's Original Petition for Divorce was filed on [date]. Respondent, [name of respondent], was served with process on [date]. This Court has jurisdiction of this case and the person of Respondent.

2. On [date], as reflected in the attached pleading marked Exhibit [exhibit number/letter], Respondent instituted an action in [county, state, or nation] involving essentially the same cause of action, parties, and issues as are before this Court.

3. Allowing Respondent to proceed with [his/her] action in [county, state, or nation] will result in a multiplicity of suits and lead to inconsistent results. Respondent's action in instituting the action in [county, state, or nation] is clearly an attempt to evade and frustrate the jurisdiction of this Court. Petitioner will suffer irreparable harm, damage, and injury, for which Petitioner has no adequate remedy at law, unless Respondent is enjoined from proceeding with [his/her] action in [county, state, or nation].

4. Petitioner requests that the Court dispense with the necessity of a bond and that Respondent be temporarily restrained immediately without hearing and, after notice and hearing, be temporarily enjoined, pending further order of this Court, from:

- a. Proceeding further with Respondent's action in [describe court and cause number], including, but not limited to, attempting or proceeding to obtain temporary or permanent orders in [county, state, or nation] concerning the marriage relationship of the parties, the dissolution of that relationship, [include if applicable: the custody and support of the child[ren] of the parties,] spousal support, or any other order normally issued incident to a divorce proceeding or other proceeding involving the marital [include if applicable: or parent-child] relationship.
- b. Instituting any other action in [county, state, or nation] or in any other county, state, or nation attempting to obtain temporary or permanent orders concerning the marriage relationship of the parties, the dissolution of that relationship, [include if applicable: the custody and support of the child[ren] of the parties,] spousal support, or any other order normally issued incident to a divorce proceeding or other proceeding involving the marital [include if applicable: or parent-child] relationship.

5. Petitioner further requests that on final hearing the temporary injunction requested above be made into a permanent injunction.

Petitioner prays that the Court grant a temporary restraining order restraining Respondent from the acts set forth in this application and that, after notice and hearing, the Court make the temporary restraining order a temporary injunction. Petitioner further prays that on final hearing the Court make the temporary injunction a permanent injunction.

Petitioner prays for general relief.

Respondent's Special Appearance

Respondent, [name of respondent], files this special appearance under rule 120a of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure. [The last three numbers of Respondent's driver's license number are [numbers]./Respondent has not been issued a driver's license.] [The last three numbers of Respondent's Social Security number are [numbers]./Respondent has not been issued a Social Security number.]

1. Respondent's legal domicile is outside Texas and is in [location]. Respondent's person and property are not amenable to process issued by the courts of Texas. None of the grounds for personal jurisdiction provided in the Texas Family Code are applicable. Assumption of jurisdiction over Respondent by this Court would offend traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice. Respondent has had insufficient contacts with Texas to warrant an assumption of jurisdiction. Respondent prays that this Court hear and determine this challenge to personal jurisdiction before hearing any other plea or pleading and enter an appropriate order. In conjunction with this special appearance, Respondent is providing an affidavit that sets out in greater detail the factual circumstances that support this special appearance.

Respondent requests that the Court grant Respondent's special appearance.

Include the following if applicable.

2. If Respondent's special appearance is denied, Respondent requests this Court to dismiss this action because Texas lacks subject-matter jurisdiction in this action under section 152.201 of the Texas Family Code.

3. In the alternative, if Respondent's special appearance is denied and if the Court finds that it has subject-matter jurisdiction to make a child-custody determination in this proceeding, Respondent requests this Court to decline jurisdiction [include if applicable: or, alternatively, stay these proceedings on the condition that a custody proceeding be promptly convened in [state]] because [include one or both of the following: Texas is an inconvenient forum to make a custody determination under the circumstances in this case, and [state] is a more appropriate forum for this custody determination/[and] Petitioner has wrongfully taken the child[ren] from another state or has engaged in similar reprehensible conduct].

Further, if the Court finds that Texas is an inconvenient forum or that Petitioner has engaged in conduct that causes this Court to decline jurisdiction, Respondent asks that the Court require Petitioner to pay necessary travel and other expenses, including attorney's fees, incurred by Respondent or any witness of Respondent. Respondent requests that the Court order that payment be made to the clerk of the Court for remittance to Respondent.

2. Marital-Property Agreement

The parties entered into a marital-property agreement entitled [name of agreement] (the "agreement"). The agreement defines the parties' rights to all their property. Respondent asks the Court to enforce the agreement and confirm the parties' respective separate property as provided in the agreement.

Respondent asks the Court to order the parties to appoint an arbitrator, who will serve as a special master in this suit and make a binding and conclusive award regarding the issues affected by the parties' agreement. The parties in their agreement agreed to submit to binding arbitration any dispute or controversy regarding the validity, interpretation, or enforceability of the agreement, as well as all issues involving its enforcement in connection with a dissolution proceeding between the parties. The parties expressly waived any right to trial by a court or by trial by a jury. On the filing in Texas of a proceeding to dissolve their marriage, the parties agreed to have the arbitrator appointed under the agreement designated as a special master under the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure. The parties agreed to jointly apply to the Court for any orders necessary to vest the arbitrator with all powers and authority of a special master under the rules. The agreement contains specific requirements for the arbitrator. Respondent asks the Court to enforce the agreement and all its provisions.

Respondent asks the Court to abate any action the Court may take in this suit other than orders—

- a. compelling the parties to appoint an arbitrator;
- b. designating the arbitrator as a special master;
- c. vesting the arbitrator with all powers and authority of a special master; and
- d. appointing a qualified arbitrator pursuant to section 171.041 of the Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code if the parties cannot appoint an arbitrator using the method in the agreement.

Respondent prays that this Plea in Abatement be sustained.

The respondent's answer should be limited to a response to the matters set out in the petition. Claims for affirmative relief should not be included in the answer but should instead be set out in a counterpetition, which may be filed as a separate document or immediately following the answer in the same document. However, if claims for affirmative relief are included in the answer, they will also constitute "counterclaims" that are subject to the mandatory filing fee. Without payment of such a fee, these conditionally filed claims for affirmative relief will not survive a notice of nonsuit. An answer to a counterpetition should be filed by the petitioner/counterrespondent. If the respondent contests personal jurisdiction, a special appearance must be filed before any other pleading. 160.621(c)

6. Denial of Paternity

Respondent denies [he/[name of husband]] is the father of [name of child] and requests genetic testing under chapter 160 of the Texas Family Code. [Include if denial is filed more than four years after child's birth: [He/ [name of husband]] [did not live or engage in sexual relations with [name of wife] during the probable period of conception/was precluded from commencing a proceeding to adjudicate the parentage of the child within four years after the child's birth because of the mistaken belief that he was the child's biological father based on misrepresentations that led him to that conclusion].]

7. Statute of Limitations—Denial by Petitioner
§ 160.607

7. Statute of Limitations—Denial by Petitioner

Petitioner's denial of [his/Respondent's] parentage of [name of child] is barred by limitations because [he/Respondent] is the child's presumed father and this proceeding was not commenced before the fourth anniversary of the date of the birth of the child.

8. Objection to Genetic Tests—Denial by Petitioner
§ 160.608

8. Objection to Genetic Tests—Denial by Petitioner

Genetic testing should be denied and [Petitioner/Respondent], who is the presumed father of [name of child], should be adjudicated to be the father of the child because the conduct of Petitioner estops [him/her] from denying parentage, it would be inequitable to disprove the father-child relationship between the child and the presumed father, and an order adjudicating the presumed father to be the father of the child is in the child's best interest. The Court should appoint an [amicus attorney/attorney ad litem] for the child.

Fraud/Conversion

1. Breach of Fiduciary Duty

Respondent, as Petitioner's spouse, had a fiduciary relationship with and a fiduciary duty to Petitioner. As a result of their fiduciary relationship, Petitioner reposed a special confidence in Respondent, and Respondent had a duty in equity and good conscience to act in good faith and with due regard for Petitioner's interests.

Respondent, in violation of [his/her] duty to Petitioner, has breached [his/her] duty to Petitioner by [state actions taken by respondent that constitute breach as they relate to fraud, conversion, or both].

Select as applicable.

Include the following if one spouse actually induced the other spouse to enter into a transaction with the intent of actually defrauding the spouse.

a. Actual Fraud [transaction-based]

Respondent plotted and carried out a plan to actually defraud Petitioner and Petitioner's separate estate. Respondent made material representations to Petitioner that were false. Respondent knew these representations were false, or Respondent made them recklessly without knowledge of their truth and as a positive assertion. Respondent made these representations with the intention that Petitioner would act on them. Petitioner acted in reliance on these representations and as a consequence suffered injury and damage as follows: [allege specific facts].

And/Or

Include the following if one spouse actually defrauded the other without the occurrence of a transaction between the two—for example, by making an unusually large gift or transfer, the primary purpose of which was to defraud the other spouse.

b. Actual Fraud [not transaction-based]

Respondent, without the knowledge, consent, or approval of Petitioner, unfairly conveyed more than $[amount] in community assets to [name] for the primary purpose of defrauding Petitioner. That conveyance was unfair and in actual fraud of Petitioner's rights.

And/Or

c. Constructive Fraud

Respondent has defrauded Petitioner by breaching a legal and/or equitable duty owed Petitioner as a result of their fiduciary relationship. That breach is fraudulent because, irrespective of Respondent's moral guilt, the breach had a tendency to deceive Petitioner and to violate Petitioner's confidence or to injure the public interest. Respondent's actions damaged Petitioner as follows: [allege specific facts].

Include the following paragraph only if a claim is made for actual fraud against the petitioner's separate estate.

Damages for Actual Fraud

All these acts constitute actual damage to Petitioner's separate estate in the amount of $[amount]. Further, these acts were maliciously done by Respondent, and as a result Petitioner is entitled to exemplary damages of $[amount].

And/Or

d. Waste of Assets

Respondent has squandered community assets by making grossly excessive gifts of community [include if applicable: and separate] assets to [name], a person who is not the natural object of Respondent's generosity, being [describe, as applicable, someone who is not related to respondent, e.g., Respondent's paramour]. Respondent has spent and wasted community funds [include if applicable: and Petitioner's separate assets] on this person at a time when Respondent knew or should have known that Petitioner would have objected to these expenditures. These expenditures and gifts of property are in direct violation of Respondent's duty as co-manager of the community estate [include if applicable: and in violation of the fiduciary responsibility placed on Respondent when entrusted with Petitioner's separate estate and funds].

And/Or

e. Conversion of Separate Property

On [date] Petitioner was the owner of [describe property] and was in possession of or had the right of possession of that separate property under section 3.101 of the Texas Family Code in that [describe the facts showing separate-property ownership]. [Include if applicable: A true copy of the document giving rise to the right of possession to the property is attached to this pleading as Exhibit [exhibit number/letter].] On [date] in the city of [city, county] County, Texas, Respondent unlawfully and without authority assumed dominion and control over the property to the exclusion of or inconsistent with Petitioner's rights in the property in that Respondent [describe the manner in which respondent converted the property, e.g., sold the property to a third party]. In this connection, Petitioner will show that Petitioner had left the property in Respondent's possession for the purpose of [describe purpose]. On [date] Peti-

Select one of the following.

The fair market value of the property at the time and place of conversion was $[amount], for which Petitioner now sues.

Or

The property described had no readily ascertainable fair market value but had an intrinsic value to Petitioner at the time and place of conversion of $[amount], for which Petitioner now sues.

And/Or

Petitioner seeks compensation for the loss of use of the converted property in an amount of $[amount].

And/Or

Petitioner is also entitled to recover damages for the mental anguish suffered as a proximate result of that conversion, because Respondent intentionally converted the property.

Continue with the following as applicable.

Prejudgment Interest for Conversion

Petitioner is also entitled to interest on the sum of $[value of property converted] from [date] at the prejudgment rate of interest.

Exemplary Damages for Conversion

Respondent's conversion of the property as alleged above was done fraudulently or with malice, for which the law allows the imposition of exemplary damages. Respondent's conversion of the property was intentional, willful, wanton, and without justification or excuse and was done with gross indifference to Petitioner's rights. In this connection, Petitioner will show that, as a result of Respondent's conduct, Petitioner has suffered losses of time and other expenses, including attorney's fees incurred in the investigation and prosecution of this action. Accordingly, Petitioner prays for exemplary damages against Respondent.

Include prayer only if requesting damages in addition to disproportionate division.

2. Prayer

FAILURE BY A PARTY TO OBEY THE ORDER OF THIS COURT TO PROVIDE EACH OTHER PARTY, THE COURT, AND THE STATE CASE REGISTRY WITH THE CHANGE IN THE REQUIRED INFORMATION MAY RESULT IN FURTHER LITIGATION TO ENFORCE THE ORDER, INCLUDING CONTEMPT OF COURT. A FINDING OF CONTEMPT MAY BE PUNISHED BY CONFINEMENT IN JAIL FOR UP TO SIX MONTHS, A FINE OF UP TO $500 FOR EACH VIOLATION, AND A MONEY JUDGMENT FOR PAYMENT OF ATTORNEY'S FEES AND COURT COSTS.

NOTICE TO ANY PEACE OFFICER OF THE STATE OF TEXAS: YOU MAY USE REASONABLE EFFORTS TO ENFORCE THE TERMS OF CHILD CUSTODY SPECIFIED IN THIS ORDER. A PEACE OFFICER WHO RELIES ON THE TERMS OF A COURT ORDER AND THE OFFICER'S AGENCY ARE ENTITLED TO THE APPLICABLE IMMUNITY AGAINST ANY CLAIM, CIVIL OR OTHERWISE, REGARDING THE OFFICER'S GOOD FAITH ACTS PERFORMED IN THE SCOPE OF THE OFFICER'S DUTIES IN ENFORCING THE TERMS OF THE ORDER THAT RELATE TO CHILD CUSTODY. ANY PERSON WHO KNOWINGLY PRESENTS FOR ENFORCEMENT AN ORDER THAT IS INVALID OR NO LONGER IN EFFECT COMMITS AN OFFENSE THAT MAY BE PUNISHABLE BY CONFINEMENT IN JAIL FOR AS LONG AS TWO YEARS AND A FINE OF AS MUCH AS $10,000.

THE COURT MAY MODIFY THIS ORDER THAT PROVIDES FOR THE SUPPORT OF A CHILD, IF:

(1) THE CIRCUMSTANCES OF THE CHILD OR A PERSON AFFECTED BY THE ORDER HAVE MATERIALLY AND SUBSTANTIALLY CHANGED; OR

(2) IT HAS BEEN THREE YEARS SINCE THE ORDER WAS RENDERED OR LAST MODIFIED AND THE MONTHLY AMOUNT OF THE CHILD SUPPORT AWARD UNDER THE ORDER DIFFERS BY EITHER 20 PERCENT OR $100 FROM THE AMOUNT THAT WOULD BE AWARDED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE CHILD SUPPORT GUIDELINES.

4.P. Warnings to Parties
§ 105.006(d)

WARNINGS TO PARTIES: FAILURE TO OBEY A COURT ORDER FOR CHILD SUPPORT OR FOR POSSESSION OF OR ACCESS TO A CHILD MAY RESULT IN FURTHER LITIGATION TO ENFORCE THE ORDER, INCLUDING CONTEMPT OF COURT. A FINDING OF CONTEMPT MAY BE PUNISHED BY CONFINEMENT IN JAIL FOR UP TO SIX MONTHS, A FINE OF UP TO $500 FOR EACH VIOLATION, AND A MONEY JUDGMENT FOR PAYMENT OF ATTORNEY'S FEES AND COURT COSTS.

FAILURE OF A PARTY TO MAKE A CHILD SUPPORT PAYMENT TO THE PLACE AND IN THE MANNER REQUIRED BY A COURT ORDER MAY RESULT IN THE PARTY'S NOT RECEIVING CREDIT FOR MAKING THE PAYMENT.

FAILURE OF A PARTY TO PAY CHILD SUPPORT DOES NOT JUSTIFY DENYING THAT PARTY COURT-ORDERED POSSESSION OF OR ACCESS TO A CHILD. REFUSAL BY A PARTY TO ALLOW POSSESSION OF OR ACCESS TO A CHILD DOES NOT JUSTIFY FAILURE TO PAY COURT-ORDERED CHILD SUPPORT TO THAT PARTY.

Confidentiality Order

The parties to this order seek the entry of a protective order governing the documents produced in this action and other documents, information, or testimony provided in connection with pretrial proceedings or the trial of this action. A protective order in the form set forth below is necessary because discovery in this action and the trial of this action are likely to involve sensitive personal, financial, and business information, the disclosure of which could cause injury to the producing party. The Court finds that good cause has been shown, and IT IS ORDERED THAT:

Definitions

The following definitions apply in this order:

“Document,” whether used in the singular or the plural, means any kind of written, graphic, or recorded matter, however produced, reproduced, or electronically stored, of any kind or description, including originals, copies, and drafts, and both sides thereof.

“Confidential information” means information that constitutes or contains a trade secret or is subject to the lawyer-client privilege, the spousal privilege, the clergyman privilege, the physician-patient privilege, or the confidentiality of mental health information privilege, as those terms are defined in rules 501 through 510 of the Texas Rules of Evidence. “Confidential information” also means any document, oral communication, or other information of the parties, the improper use of which is likely to cause injury to the producing party.

“Producing party” means any party to this order who responds to a discovery request or otherwise provides information to a party to this action or to the Court in connection with this action.

“Producing third party” means any person or entity not a party to this suit who responds to a discovery request or otherwise provides information to a party to this action or to the Court in connection with this action.

“Requesting party” means any party to this action other than the producing party.

“Termination of the action” means the final termination of this action by any means including without limitation entry of a final judgment or dismissal. If an appeal is taken from any judgment or order entered in this action, the “termination of the action” shall not occur until all appellate proceedings have been finally concluded, as well as any proceeding in connection with any remand.

“Party” means any person who is a party to this action.

Limitations on the Disclosure and Use of Confidential Information

No confidential information produced in this action shall be disclosed in any manner except to (1) a party to this action; (2) counsel involved in this action and their paralegal, computer, clerical, secretarial, and other employees and contract workers engaged in the preparation for the trial of this action; (3) consultants or experts retained by a party to this action or its counsel to whom disclosure is necessary for the preparation of this action for trial; (4) a witness whose testimony is being taken either during deposition or at trial; and (5) as evidence in a trial or hearing in this action.

Confidential information shall be used solely for the purpose of conducting this action and not for any other purpose whatever. This order not only prohibits disclosure of confidential information or testimony but also prohibits the discussion of confidential information with any person not specifically authorized to receive such information under this order.

Counsel shall advise their paralegal, computer, secretarial, clerical, and other employees and contract workers of the requirements imposed by this order.

Procedure for Designating Confidential Information

To designate a document containing confidential information, a party shall mark the document with the legend “CONFIDENTIAL.”

To designate one or more answers to interrogatories or answers to requests for admissions as containing confidential information, a party shall submit those answers in a separate document and mark each page of those answers with the legend “CONFIDENTIAL.”

If a producing party elects to produce files and records for inspection and a requesting party desires to inspect these files and records, the producing party shall identify its files as “CONFIDENTIAL” before producing the documents.

Filing of Confidential Information

Any motions, pleadings, affidavits, briefs, or other documents submitted to or filed with the Court that contain, reproduce, quote, paraphrase, or otherwise reveal any confidential information shall be filed in a sealed envelope marked on the outside with the title of the action, an identification of each document or other item within, and a statement substantially in the following form:

“CONFIDENTIAL—SUBJECT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER

This envelope containing the above-identified papers by [name of party] is not to be opened, nor are its contents to be displayed, except by court order or by agreement of the parties . . .”

The clerk of the Court shall maintain under seal such confidential documents, information, or testimony, which shall be made available only to the Court and to counsel for the parties in this action until further order of this Court.

Objections to the Designation of Information as Confidential

Any objection to the designation of an item of information as confidential shall be made in writing to counsel for the producing party or the producing third party. If the objection cannot be resolved by agreement within ten business days of the date of service of the objection, the objecting party may move the Court to determine the propriety of the designation. The objecting party shall set forth in its motion the basis on which it believes that (1) the information does not contain or consist of confidential information, the disclosure of which could adversely affect the producing party, and (2) the material constitutes relevant, admissible evidence. The information that is the subject of the motion shall be treated in accordance with its designation status pending resolution of the motion. Attorney’s fees and costs may be assessed if information that was identified as confidential is later found by the Court not to be confidential.

Use of Confidential Information at Hearings or at Trial

The parties shall undertake in good faith to negotiate mutually acceptable procedures to present to the Court to protect against the disclosure of confidential information in connection with any hearing regarding this action or the trial of this action. By agreeing to do so, no party waives its right to demand a trial by jury.

Service of Written Objections and Notices

Written objections and notices shall be served on the attorney for a party.

Duration

This order shall remain in full force and effect and survive the termination of this litigation unless modified by an order of this Court or by the written stipulation of all parties and any affected third party filed with the Court.

Independently Obtained Information

Nothing in this order shall in any way restrict the right of a party to use or disclose information obtained from any source other than from a producing party or producing third party during the litigation of this action, whether or not such independently obtained information is identical to information designated as confidential by the producing party or producing third party.

Cumulative Provisions

The procedures established by this order are intended to be cumulative and in addition to any party's right to seek any further or different protection from the Court for any document or information deemed to be confidential.

This order is without prejudice to the right of any party to apply to the Court at any time, on reasonable notice to the other parties and the affected third party, to request that the Court for good cause modify the provisions of this order.

Successors and Assigns

This Confidentiality Order shall be binding on and inure to the benefit of all successors and assigns of the parties to the order.

Conditions to Response

1. [Respondent/Petitioner]’s responses are based on [his/her] present knowledge after a reasonable investigation and on [his/her] interpretation and construction of the request.
2. [Respondent/Petitioner] reserves the right to redact any portions of otherwise responsive and nonprivileged documents that contain irrelevant, nonresponsive, or privileged information.
3. [Respondent/Petitioner] will supplement responses when, if, and as required by the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure.
4. Any response that [Respondent/Petitioner] will produce certain documents is not a representation that such documents exist but, rather, an undertaking to produce them if and to the extent that they exist and are in [Respondent/Petitioner]’s possession, custody, or control.

Request No. 1: [State other party's request for production.]

Response No. 1:

Include objection[s] if applicable.

[Respondent/Petitioner] objects to this request for production for the following reason(s):
[state specific objection].

The following are possible objections that may be used if applicable.

Objection is made to the production request to the extent the proposed discovery is not relevant to the subject matter of the suit and will not lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Tex. R. Civ. P. 192.3\(a\). The proposed discovery goes beyond the subject matter[s] of the case and reasonable expectations of obtaining information that will aid resolution of the dispute. Tex. R. Civ. P. 192 cmt. 1.

Objection is made to the production request to the extent the request would require the responding party to create a document not in existence. A party is not required to produce a document or tangible thing unless it is within the person's possession, custody, or control. A document that does not exist is not within a party's "possession, custody, or control." The only exception to the rule involves the factual observations, tests, or supporting data of a testifying expert. In re Colonial Pipeline Co., 968 S.W.2d 938, 942 (Tex. 1998); see also Tex. R. Civ. P. 192.3\(b\).

Objection is made to the production request to the extent that it seeks the identity, mental impressions, opinions, and/or documents or tangible things containing such information of consulting experts either informally consulted or specially retained in anticipation of litigation or preparation for trial that were not reviewed by a testifying expert witness. Tex. R. Civ. P. 192.3\(e\).

Objection is made to the production request to the extent that the discovery sought is unreasonably cumulative or duplicative. Tex. R. Civ. P. 192.4\(a\).

Objection is made to the production request to the extent the discovery sought is obtainable from some other source that is more convenient, less burdensome, or less expensive. Tex. R. Civ. P. 192.4\(a\).

Objection is made to the production request to the extent the burden or expense of the proposed discovery outweighs its likely benefit, taking into account the needs of the case, the amount in controversy, the parties' resources, the importance of the issues at stake in the litigation, and the importance of the proposed discovery in resolving the issues. Tex. R. Civ. P. 192.4\(b\).

Objection is made to the production request to the extent it subjects [Respondent/Petitioner] to undue burden, unnecessary expense, harassment, or annoyance. Tex. R. Civ. P. 192.6\(b\).

Objection is made to the production request to the extent it subjects [Respondent/Petitioner] to an invasion of personal, constitutional, or property rights. Tex. R. Civ. P. 192.6\(b\).

Objection is made to the production request because it is overly broad and is not in compliance with rule 196.1(b), which requires the request to specify the items to be produced or inspected, either by individual item or category, and describe with reasonable particularity each item and category. See also Tex. R. Civ. P. 193 cmt. 2.

Objection is made to the production request because it was served on [Respondent/Petitioner] later than thirty days before the end of the discovery period. Tex. R. Civ. P. 196.1\(a\).

Objection is made to the request for production of data or information that exists in electronic or magnetic form because [Petitioner/Respondent] failed to specify the form in which [Petitioner/Respondent] wants it produced. Tex. R. Civ. P. 196.4.

Objection is made to the request for production of data or information that exists in electronic or magnetic form because [Respondent/Petitioner] cannot—through reasonable efforts—retrieve the data or information requested. Tex. R. Civ. P. 196.4.

Objection is made to the request for production of data or information that exists in electronic or magnetic form because [Respondent/Petitioner] cannot—through reasonable efforts—produce the data requested in the form requested. Tex. R. Civ. P. 196.4.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT THE AUTHORIZATION TO DISCLOSE PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION

Developed for Texas Health & Safety Code § 181.154(d)
effective June 2013

The Attorney General of Texas has adopted a standard Authorization to Disclose Protected Health Information in accordance with Texas Health & Safety Code § 181.154(d). This form is intended for use in complying with the requirements of the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act and Privacy Standards (HIPAA) and the Texas Medical Privacy Act (Texas Health & Safety Code, Chapter 181). Covered Entities may use this form or any other form that complies with HIPAA, the Texas Medical Privacy Act, and other applicable laws.

Covered entities, as that term is defined by HIPAA and Texas Health & Safety Code § 181.001, must obtain a signed authorization from the individual or the individual's legally authorized representative to electronically disclose that individual's protected health information. Authorization is not required for disclosures related to treatment, payment, health care operations, performing certain insurance functions, or as may be otherwise authorized by law. (Tex. Health & Safety Code §§ 181.154(b),(c), § 241.153; 45 C.F.R. §§ 164.502(a)(1); 164.506, and 164.508).

The authorization provided by use of the form means that the organization, entity or person authorized can disclose, communicate, or send the named individual's protected health information to the organization, entity or person identified on the form, including through the use of any electronic means.

Definitions - In the form, the terms "treatment," "healthcare operations," "psychotherapy notes," and "protected health information" are as defined in HIPAA (45 CFR 164.501). "Legally authorized representative" as used in the form includes any person authorized to act on behalf of another individual. (Tex. Occ. Code § 151.002(6); Tex. Health & Safety Code §§ 166.164, 241.151; and Tex. Probate Code § 3(aa)).

Health Information to be Released - If "All Health Information" is selected for release, health information includes, but is not limited to, all records and other information regarding health history, treatment, hospitalization, tests, and outpatient care, and also educational records that may contain health information. As indicated on the form, specific authorization is required for the release of information about certain sensitive conditions, including:

- Mental health records (excluding "psychotherapy notes" as defined in HIPAA at 45 CFR 164.501).
- Drug, alcohol, or substance abuse records.
- Records or tests relating to HIV/AIDS.
- Genetic (inherited) diseases or tests (except as may be prohibited by 45 C.F.R. § 164.502).

Note on Release of Health Records - This form is not required for the permissible disclosure of an individual's protected health information to the individual or the individual's legally authorized representative. (45 C.F.R. §§ 164.502(a)(1)(i), 164.524; Tex. Health & Safety Code § 181.102). If requesting a copy of the individual's health records with this form, state and federal law allows such access, unless such access is determined by the physician or mental health provider to be harmful to the individual's physical, mental or emotional health. (Tex. Health & Safety Code §§ 181.102, 611.0045(b); Tex. Occ. Code § 159.006(a); 45 C.F.R. § 164.502(a)(1)). If a healthcare provider is specified in the "Who Can Receive and Use The Health Information" section of this form, then permission to receive protected health information also includes physicians, other health care providers (such as nurses and medical staff) who are involved in the individual's medical care at that entity's facility or that person's office, and health care providers who are covering or on call for the specified person or organization, and staff members or agents (such as business associates or qualified services organizations) who carry out activities and purposes permitted by law for that specified covered entity or person. If a covered entity other than a healthcare provider is specified, then permission to receive protected health information also includes that organization's staff or agents and subcontractors who carry out activities and purposes permitted by this form for that organization. Individuals may be entitled to restrict certain disclosures of protected health information related to services paid for in full by the individual (45 C.F.R. § 164.522(a)(1)(vi)).

Authorizations for Sale or Marketing Purposes - If this authorization is being made for sale or marketing purposes and the covered entity will receive direct or indirect remuneration from a third party in connection with the use or disclosure of the individual's information for marketing, the authorization must clearly indicate to the individual that such remuneration is involved. (Tex. Health & Safety Code § 181.152, .153; 45 C.F.R. § 164.508(a)(3), (4)).

Limitations of this form - This authorization form shall not be used for the disclosure of any health information as it relates to: (1) health benefits plan enrollment and/or related enrollment determinations (45 C.F.R. § 164.508(b)(4)(ii), .508(c)(2)(ii)); (2) psychotherapy notes (45 C.F.R. § 164.508(b)(3)(ii)); or for research purposes (45 C.F.R. § 164.508(b)(3)(i)). Use of this form does not exempt any entity from compliance with applicable federal or state laws or regulations regarding access, use or disclosure of health information or other sensitive personal information (e.g., 42 CFR Part 2, restricting use of information pertaining to drug/alcohol abuse and treatment), and does not entitle an entity or its employees, agents or assigns to any limitation of liability for acts or omissions in connection with the access, use, or disclosure of health information obtained through use of the form.

Charges - Some covered entities may charge a retrieval/processing fee and for copies of medical records. (Tex. Health & Safety Code § 241.154).

Right to Receive Copy - The individual and/or the individual's legally authorized representative has a right to receive a copy of this authorization.

Objection is made to this interrogatory because it was served on [Respondent/Petitioner] later than thirty days before the end of the discovery period. Tex. R. Civ. P. 197.1.

Objection is made to this interrogatory because it is in excess of the [twenty-five written interrogatories [Petitioner/Respondent] may serve on [Respondent/Petitioner]/number of Objection is made to this interrogatory to the extent the burden or expense of the proposed discovery outweighs its likely benefit, taking into account the needs of the case, the amount in controversy, the parties' resources, the importance of the issues at stake in the litigation, and the importance of the proposed discovery in resolving the issues. Tex. R. Civ. P. 192.4\(b\).

Objection is made to this interrogatory to the extent it subjects [Respondent/Petitioner] to undue burden, unnecessary expense, harassment, or annoyance. Tex. R. Civ. P. 192.6\(b\).

Objection is made to this interrogatory to the extent it subjects [Respondent/Petitioner] to an invasion of personal, constitutional, or property rights. Tex. R. Civ. P. 192.6\(b\).

The IRS can provide a Tax Return Transcript for many returns free of charge. The transcript provides most of the line entries from the original tax return and usually contains the information that a third party (such as a mortgage company) requires. See Form 4506-T, Request for Transcript of Tax Return, or you can quickly request transcripts by using our automated self-help service tools. Please visit us at IRS.gov and click on "Get a Tax Transcript..." or call 1-800-908-9946.

Caution: If the tax return is being mailed to a third party, ensure that you have filled in lines 6 and 7 before signing. Sign and date the form once you have filled in these lines. Completing these steps helps to protect your privacy. Once the IRS discloses your tax return to the third party listed on line 5, the IRS has no control over what the third party does with the information. If you would like to limit the third party's authority to disclose your return information, you can specify this limitation in your written agreement with the third party.

6 Tax return requested. Form 1040, 1120, 941, etc. and all attachments as originally submitted to the IRS, including Form(s) W-2, schedules, or amended returns. Copies of Forms 1040, 1040A, and 1040EZ are generally available for 7 years from filing before they are destroyed by law. Other returns may be available for a longer period of time. IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT THE AUTHORIZATION TO DISCLOSE PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION

The Attorney General of Texas has adopted a standard Authorization to Disclose Protected Health Information in accordance with Texas Health & Safety Code § 181.154(d). This form is intended for use in complying with the requirements of the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act and Privacy Standards (HIPAA) and the Texas Medical Privacy Act (Texas Health & Safety Code, Chapter 181). Covered Entities may use this form or any other form that complies with HIPAA, the Texas Medical Privacy Act, and other applicable laws.

Covered entities, as that term is defined by HIPAA and Texas Health & Safety Code § 181.001, must obtain a signed authorization from the individual or the individual's legally authorized representative to electronically disclose that individual's protected health information. Authorization is not required for disclosures related to treatment, payment, health care operations, performing certain insurance functions, or as may be otherwise authorized by law. (Tex. Health & Safety Code §§ 181.154(b),(c), § 241.153; 45 C.F.R. §§ 164.502(a)(1); 164.506, and 164.508).

The authorization provided by use of the form means that the organization, entity or person authorized can disclose, communicate, or send the named individual's protected health information to the organization, entity or person identified on the form, including through the use of any electronic means.

Definitions - In the form, the terms "treatment," "healthcare operations," "psychotherapy notes," and "protected health information" are as defined in HIPAA (45 CFR 164.501). "Legally authorized representative" as used in the form includes any person authorized to act on behalf of another individual. (Tex. Occ. Code § 151.002(6); Tex. Health & Safety Code §§ 166.164, 241.151; and Tex. Probate Code § 3(aa)).

Health Information to be Released - If "All Health Information" is selected for release, health information includes, but is not limited to, all records and other information regarding health history, treatment, hospitalization, tests, and outpatient care, and also educational records that may contain health information. As indicated on the form, specific authorization is required for the release of information about certain sensitive conditions, including:

- Mental health records (excluding "psychotherapy notes" as defined in HIPAA at 45 CFR 164.501).
- Drug, alcohol, or substance abuse records.
- Records or tests relating to HIV/AIDS.
- Genetic (inherited) diseases or tests (except as may be prohibited by 45 C.F.R. § 164.502).

Note on Release of Health Records - This form is not required for the permissible disclosure of an individual's protected health information to the individual or the individual's legally authorized representative. (45 C.F.R. §§ 164.502(a)(1)(i), 164.524; Tex. Health & Safety Code § 181.102). If requesting a copy of the individual's health records with this form, state and federal law allows such access, unless such access is determined by the physician or mental health provider to be harmful to the individual's physical, mental or emotional health. (Tex. Health & Safety Code §§ 181.102, 611.0045(b); Tex. Occ. Code § 159.006(a); 45 C.F.R. § 164.502(a)(1)). If a healthcare provider is specified in the "Who Can Receive and Use The Health Information" section of this form, then permission to receive protected health information also includes physicians, other health care providers (such as nurses and medical staff) who are involved in the individual's medical care at that entity's facility or that person's office, and health care providers who are covering or on call for the specified person or organization, and staff members or agents (such as business associates or qualified services organizations) who carry out activities and purposes permitted by law for that specified covered entity or person. If a covered entity other than a healthcare provider is specified, then permission to receive protected health information also includes that organization's staff or agents and subcontractors who carry out activities and purposes permitted by this form for that organization. Individuals may be entitled to restrict certain disclosures of protected health information related to services paid for in full by the individual (45 C.F.R. § 164.522(a)(1)(vi)).

Authorizations for Sale or Marketing Purposes - If this authorization is being made for sale or marketing purposes and the covered entity will receive direct or indirect remuneration from a third party in connection with the use or disclosure of the individual's information for marketing, the authorization must clearly indicate to the individual that such remuneration is involved. (Tex. Health & Safety Code §§ 181.152, .153; 45 C.F.R. § 164.508(a)(3), (4)).

Retirement Benefits ChecklistFor All Plans:

This part of the checklist and information requests should be completed as soon as possible and before mediation or negotiations take place.

- ☐ Request that the plan freeze the participant's benefit to prevent distributions/withdrawals
- ☐ Request a Summary Plan Description (SPD)
- ☐ Request QDRO Procedures and model QDROs
- ☐ Request complete (i.e., no screenshots) and current benefits statements and/or a benefit estimate
- ☐ Request complete benefits statements from the date of marriage if the participant worked at the company before marriage or it is anticipated that there will be a separate-property claim
- ☐ Review all documents received and determine what benefits are available and how they can be divided, specifically:

What type of plan is it (defined benefit vs. defined contribution)?

When is the benefit payable to an alternate payee?

How is the benefit payable (e.g., lump sum, monthly benefit)?

- ☐ Determine which party is responsible for preparing and paying for the QDRO

For Defined Contribution Plans (e.g., 401(k) plans, profit-sharing plans):

This part of the checklist focuses on considerations specific to defined contribution plans. This information should be determined before coming to an agreement on the division, in order to ensure that what is negotiated is a division allowed under the plan.

Determine the following:

- ☐ Is the participant fully vested?
- ☐ Does the plan permit unvested amounts to be divided?
- ☐ Is there a current outstanding loan? If yes,

What is the outstanding value?

When was the loan taken out?

Was it used for community purposes?

- ☐ Is there a separate-property claim? If so,

Is it possible to obtain the value at the date of marriage?

Do you have the statements and data needed to do a tracing on the account?

- ☐ Is there a QDRO review fee charged by the plan? If so,

What is the amount of the fee?

Who can the fee be assigned to (participant, alternate payee, split)?

- ☐ What method of divisions are allowed (e.g., percentage, dollar amount)?

Note: Many plans will not divide between two dates or perform a calculation (e.g., 50 percent of the balance minus $10,000). It is critical that attorneys know what divisions are allowed to avoid issues when drafting the QDRO.

Note: Some plans will accept only whole percentages, and it is wise to confirm.

- ☐ What valuations dates are permitted?

Earliest date allowed?

Note: Plans change recordkeepers, and not all data is turned over. If trying to divide the benefit in such a way that a prior date is being used, make sure the information is available.

Special dates of division (e.g., plan will accept only an end-of-month division date)

- ☐ Should gains and losses be included or excluded?

Note: Gains and losses may be included when the award is a flat dollar amount.

- ☐ Should the value of any outstanding loans be included or excluded?

For Defined Benefit Plans (e.g., traditional pension plans, cash balance plans)

This part of the checklist focuses on considerations specific to defined benefit plans. This information should be determined before coming to an agreement on the division, in order to ensure that what is negotiated is a division allowed under the plan.

Determine the following:

- ☐ Is the participant in pay status and already receiving benefits?
- ☐ If the participant is in pay status, does the form of payment elected provide for survivor benefits?
- ☐ What is the estimated monthly benefit at normal retirement age based on current salary and service?

Note: Unless otherwise requested, most estimates are run assuming that the participant works until age sixty-five. This will give a much higher benefit amount than what the alternate payee would actually be entitled to, since it includes future salary increases and additional service after the date of divorce.

- ☐ Is there a separate property component? If so,

What formula should be used? (Berry if not in pay status, Taggart if in pay status)

- ☐ Should a shared-interest or separate-interest QDRO be used?
- ☐ Does the plan provide for cost-of-living adjustments?
- ☐ Does the plan provide for early retirement subsidies?
- ☐ Does the plan have any other benefits or features that need to be considered?
- ☐ Are survivor benefits needed to secure the alternate payee's benefit and if so,

Which survivor benefits?

To what extent?

- ☐ When can the alternate payee receive the benefit and in what form of payment?

MSA/Decree Language

It is important to remember that a QDRO cannot change the property award. All terms of the division should be in the MSA and decree. If they are not included, they were not awarded.

Also, make sure to use language appropriate for the benefits being divided. Gains and losses should not be referenced for a pension, and cost-of-living adjustments should not be referenced for a 401(k). Improper language can cause issues when drafting the QDRO.

Make sure the following are included in your language:

- ☐ The full and accurate plan name

Note: Unless the participant works for Fidelity, “Fidelity 401(k)” is NOT the plan name.

- ☐ The precise method of division
- ☐ The date of division (typically the date of the MSA or date of divorce)
- ☐ All features (e.g., loans, survivor benefits) awarded
- ☐ Who is responsible for the QDRO preparation and submission and for all fees associated with it?

Special Consideration for Defined Contribution Plans:

- ☐ If gains and losses are not included, determine how to handle the shortfall if the amount available at segregation is less than the amount awarded. Will the QDRO award the alternate payee 100 percent of the account balance in this event? How will the deficiency be handled?

Special Consideration for Defined Benefit Plans:

- ☐ If the participant is already receiving a monthly benefit, will the participant have to pay the alternate payee the portion of the benefit between the date of divorce and the date the plan starts paying the alternate payee directly? If so, be specific as to how and use enforceable language.

Verification

I, [name of party filing inventory and appraisement], state on oath that, to the best of my knowledge, this inventory and appraisement contains—

1. a full and complete list of all properties that I claim belong to the community estate of me and my spouse, with the values thereof;
2. a full and complete list of all properties in my possession or subject to my control that I claim or admit are my or my spouse's separate property and estate, with the values thereof; and
3. a full and complete list of the debts that I claim are community indebtedness.

There may be other assets and liabilities in the control of my spouse of which I am not aware as of this date, and the omission of those items from this inventory should not be construed as a waiver of my interest in them.

Unless otherwise indicated, all values stated in this inventory and appraisement are my personal opinions and may change after additional information is obtained. I reserve the right to amend or correct this inventory and appraisement at a later date as additional information becomes available.

I further expressly reserve the right to change the characterization of any of the property listed in this inventory and appraisement from community to separate, depending on facts developed through discovery or trial of this case.

Form 7-2Instructions for Preparation of Marital Property Inventory Worksheet

Client's Name: _____ Date: _____

General Instructions

Accurate information concerning property and debts is very important in divorce cases. Please fill out the attached Marital Property Inventory Worksheet as completely as you can, drawing on any source of information to which you have access. DO NOT ENLIST YOUR SPOUSE'S HELP UNLESS YOUR ATTORNEY SPECIFICALLY PERMITS IT. DO NOT LET ANYONE SEE THIS DOCUMENT. THIS PREPARATION OF YOUR INVENTORY AND APPRAISEMENT IS A CONFIDENTIAL MATTER BETWEEN YOU AND YOUR ATTORNEY. Be cautious: You and your spouse are now legal adversaries, and you should verify all information on your own. When it comes to questions of the current value of property, you should make your own independent estimate, whether you decide the value or consult another source (for example, NADA, Kelly Blue Book, or an appraiser). Please list all property whether the property is in your possession or name or in your spouse's possession or name. This inventory and appraisal should include all property, even if you have no specifics on the property.

The attached worksheet provides for only a few items under each type of property. If you need to provide additional information, photocopy an extra page or use a separate piece of paper and number the information as it is numbered on the inventory. If you do not know the answer to an item, do not leave it blank; write "I don't know," and follow this statement with the reason you do not know.

Understand that this worksheet is your attorney's main key to your estate, from which all spreadsheets will be generated. The inventory and appraisal to be based on this worksheet, once filed with the court, may create an admission about its contents. This document is extremely important and will be used throughout your case.

YOU SHOULD RETURN YOUR COMPLETED MARITAL PROPERTY INVENTORY WORKSHEET AND ALL SUPPORTING DOCUMENTS TO OUR OFFICE BY _____. This will allow our office ample time to put the document in final form.

This task will not be easy. Do not expect to complete the form at one sitting. Be assured, however, that your effort is necessary and worthwhile, because the inventory will be one of the most important documents in your divorce.

Property Division

In addition to factual data, I need to know your wishes about division of the property. Please indicate your wishes in the left margin of the worksheet by placing a “Y” next to items you want to go to you and an “S” next to items you want to go to your spouse.

Definitions

Separate Property—If either you or your spouse has any property you think is separate property, complete the section marked “Separate Estates of the Parties.” Separate property is defined as follows:

1. Property owned or claimed by a spouse before marriage.
2. Property acquired by a spouse during marriage by gift, will, or inheritance.
3. Funds received as a result of personal injury sustained by a spouse during marriage, except any recovery for loss of earning capacity during marriage.
4. Property set aside to the spouse by an agreement between the spouses.

5. Property acquired with funds that are separate property. Property may be purchased with funds that are both community and separate property. In such a case, please be sure to list pro rata the part of the property that is separate property in the separate property section and the part that is community property in the community property section.

Community Property—All property that is not separate property is community property.

Fair Market Value—A generally accepted definition of fair market value is the price at which the asset would change hands between a willing seller, under no compulsion to sell, and a willing buyer, under no compulsion to buy, with both parties having reasonable knowledge of the relevant facts. Use this value whenever possible. If an asset has no fair market value, state the actual value of the asset to you considering its present condition.

Reimbursement

Before completing any items involving reimbursement claims, please read this section.

Texas law recognizes three marital estates: the community estate, owned by the spouses together; one spouse's separate estate; and the other spouse's separate estate. A spouse's separate estate consists of the spouse's separate property, as defined above. The community estate consists of all other property, other than separate property, acquired by either spouse during marriage.

Please answer the following questions "Yes" or "No." If you answer "Yes" to any of the following questions, then consult with your attorney on how to proceed, what information and documents you will need, and how to complete the items on this schedule that correspond to the numbers:

25.1, 25.2, 30.3, 32.3 Has the community estate made any payments on the unsecured liabilities of your separate estate or your spouse's separate estate?

25.1, 25.2, 30.3, 32.3 Has the community estate made any payments on the secured liabilities of your separate estate or your spouse's separate estate?

25.1, 25.2, 30.3, 32.3 Has the community estate been used to make capital improvements to your separate estate or to your spouse's separate estate other than by incurring debt?

25.1, 25.2, 30.3, 32.3 Has either spouse received inadequate compensation for the time, toil, talent, and effort spent working for a separate-property business owned by the spouse that is under the spouse's control and direction?

28.F, 29.2, 31.2 Has your separate estate or your spouse's separate estate made any payments on the unsecured liabilities of the community estate?

In many circumstances, an unsworn declaration may be used in lieu of a written sworn declaration, verification, certification, oath, or affidavit. See section 8.58 in this manual.

If a form, or a portion of a form, calling for signature before a notary is converted to an unsworn declaration, rewording of the text will often be necessary. For example, in form 3-2, the petitioner's supporting affidavit in a divorce case, the first paragraph (referring to the petitioner's appearance before the notary) should be omitted, the quotation marks on the remaining paragraphs should be omitted, and the word "affidavit" should be changed to "declaration."

One of the jurats in this form should replace the notary's jurat.

Motion for Severance

This Motion for Severance is filed by [name of movant], [party designation], who shows in support:

1. This is a divorce action in which a divorce of the parties, a division of their property, and provision for the conservatorship and support of their child[ren] are sought. The claim of [name of party], Intervenor, against [name] relates to [describe the nature of the intervening action] and constitutes a complete cause of action in and of itself and can stand alone as a separate lawsuit.

If ground for motion is improper joinder, include 2.

2. The claim of [name] against [name] relating to [describe nature of action] is improperly joined in this action, in that [describe circumstances showing improper joinder of claim, e.g., the claims involve different parties, the claims do not arise out of the same transaction, occurrence, or series of transactions or occurrences and do not involve common questions of law or of fact, and the issues to be tried with respect to each claim are diverse and different].

If ground for motion is prejudice to movant, include 3.

3. It would be prejudicial and cause undue hardship, expense, and delay to [name of movant] to require [him/her] to participate in a trial of all claims joined in this action, in that [describe circumstances giving rise to prejudice, e.g., [name of movant] is prepared for trial on the cause relating to its claim and the other parties are not prepared for trial on their respective causes. Consequently, the trial of [name of movant]'s claim will be delayed for an undue period unless severance is ordered. This delay will prejudice [name of movant] because [his/her] action is [for grandparent possession of or access to the child[ren]/an action to recover for debt against both parties/[other description]]].

[Name of movant] prays that the Court grant this motion and order the cause of action between [name] and [name] relating to [describe cause of action] be severed, made the subject of a separate suit, and assigned its own cause number on the docket of this Court.

Motion for Separate Trials

This Motion for Separate Trials is brought by [name of movant], [party designation], who shows in support:

Select 1.–3. as applicable.

1. The issues pertaining to managing conservatorship of the child[ren] are unrelated to any matters involving characterization or division of the property, which are so complicated as to unduly hamper the proceedings with regard to conservatorship. To try both issues together would unduly detract from the issues concerning the child[ren].

2. Trying the conservatorship and property issues simultaneously would serve as an economic waste to the parties concerned with regard to the payment of attorney's fees for the [ad litem/amicus attorney], who would unnecessarily incur expense for attendance at court during trial on the property issues. It would cause an unnecessary burden on witnesses to be placed on standby for what could amount to several weeks.

3. Trying the issues of the validity of the informal marriage, divorce, and property division in the same proceeding would result in unnecessary expense for the parties, if an informal marriage is found not to exist by the trier of fact. The facts developed during a separate trial on informal marriage would be germane to a second trial on divorce and property issues only if the fact finder finds that an informal marriage exists.

[Name of movant] prays that the Court grant the Motion for Separate Trials.

Order on Motion for Appointment of Receiver [Business]

On [date] the Court considered the Motion for Appointment of Receiver of [name of movant], Movant, which requested the immediate appointment of a receiver to take charge and possession of property owned by [Petitioner, [name], and Respondent, [name],/Petitioner, [name],/Respondent, [name],] consisting of a business that operates under the name of [name] (“Business”) and is located at [street address, city, state] and to [sell/operate/operate, including rehabilitate or liquidate,/operate and sell] the same. The Court, after considering the pleadings, evidence, and argument of counsel, is of the opinion that sufficient grounds exist for the immediate appointment of a receiver. Movant has complied with all requirements of the law, all other available legal and equitable remedies are inadequate, and the facts and circumstances in this lawsuit necessitate the appointment of a receiver to [sell/operate/operate, including rehabilitate or liquidate,/operate and sell] Business to avoid irreparable damage to Movant and other interested parties.

The Court finds that [name] is a registered voter, citizen, and resident of Texas and is qualified to serve as Receiver.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that [name] is appointed Receiver to take charge and possession of Business and to [sell/operate/operate, including rehabilitate or liquidate,/operate and sell] the same.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that on filing of a bond fixed and approved by this Court in the amount of [number] dollars ($[amount of bond]) and Receiver's sworn oath to perform and faithfully discharge [his/her] duties as Receiver in this lawsuit in obedience to the orders of this Court, Receiver shall be and hereby is given the power and authority to do all acts necessary to [sell/operate/operate, including rehabilitate or liquidate,/operate and sell] the Property (as defined below) of Business (the "Receivership Estate"), including the following:

1. Property. Take immediate and exclusive possession, custody, and control of all interests in Business and collateral of Business, whether real or personal, tangible or intangible, and wherever located (collectively, the "Property"); subject, however, to compliance with the terms and conditions of all agreements and other instruments relating to the ownership, lease, use, or occupancy thereof. Receiver is granted the power and authority to perform all acts necessary to conserve, hold, manage, and preserve the value of the Receivership Estate, in order to prevent any irreparable loss, damage, or injury to the Receivership Estate. Receiver shall be entitled to the assistance of law enforcement officials, if necessary, to take possession, custody, and control of the Property or at any other time during the Receivership as necessary to preserve the peace and protect the Property of the Receivership Estate.

2. Operations and Control. Operate, manage, [include if applicable: sell,] control, and conduct business operations in the ordinary and usual course and do all things and incur the risks and obligations ordinarily performed or incurred by owners, managers, and operators of similar businesses while having exclusive and sole control of and authority to act for Business, to the exclusion of all others, including all other management currently in place; PROVIDED THAT notwithstanding anything contained in this order to the contrary, Receiver may not [include if applicable: except as otherwise provided in this order] (a) create, incur, assume, or suffer to exist any indebtedness, obligations, or liabilities other than in the ordinary course of business; (b) sell, lease, transfer, or otherwise dispose of any of the Property of Business, except the sale of inventory in the ordinary course of business; or (c) acquire all or a substantial portion of the assets or equity interests of any person or entity without the prior written consent of the Court. Receiver shall have all powers, authorities, rights, and privileges heretofore possessed by any and all officers, directors, managers, and other governing agents of Business.

3. Bank Accounts. Take immediate and exclusive possession, custody, and control of all bank accounts, deposit accounts, commodity accounts, and securities accounts belonging to Business at any financial institution, and receive from all depositories, banks, brokerages, persons, or entities holding any funds on deposit arising from, or related to, the Property of the Receivership Estate or belonging to Business whether those funds are in an account in the name of Business or not, and Receiver may indemnify the institution on which such demand is made and is empowered to open or close any such accounts. Receiver shall have authority and custody of all credit card merchant accounts, such as Visa, MasterCard, American Express, Discover, or otherwise, whether those funds are in accounts in the name of Business or not. Receiver shall also have authority and custody over all gift card accounts in the name of Business. Receiver shall deposit funds collected and received in connection with the Receivership Estate into one or more accounts maintained at a federally insured banking institution. Monies coming into the possession of Receiver and not expended for any purpose authorized by this order shall be held by Receiver pending further orders of this Court. All financial institutions, on presentation of a copy of this order, shall provide copies of any requested records regarding any such accounts to Receiver. Receiver may add [his/her] agents or employees as additional signatories to any bank accounts, money market accounts, certificates of deposit, or other financial instruments or accounts controlled by Receiver.

4. Checks. Receive and endorse checks made payable to Business or relating to the Property of the Receivership Estate, either in the name of Receiver or in the name of Business.

5. Debts and Obligations. Collect or compromise debts of the Receivership Estate and incur any risks and obligations ordinarily incurred by owners, managers, and operators of similar businesses that, in Receiver's reasonable judgment, are necessary for the management, operation, preservation, rehabilitation, or liquidation of the Receivership Estate. Receiver may demand, collect, and receive all rents, profits, and other income from the Property of the Receivership Estate, or any part of the same that is owed, unpaid, and collected or uncollected as of the effective date of this order or that hereafter becomes due. Any such risks or obligations incurred by Receiver in performance of [his/her] duties as Receiver pursuant to this order shall be a risk or obligation of the Receivership Estate and not personally of Receiver.

6. Loans and Contributions of Funding. Borrow from, and pay amounts due to, Movant or third parties for funding of amounts required to continue the management, operation, preservation, rehabilitation, or liquidation of the Receivership Estate or, in the event the income of the Receivership Estate is insufficient to meet expenses, on such terms and conditions as Receiver deems reasonable.

7. Income. Collect all rents, profits, and other income and collect money or property owed by any third party to Business that now or hereafter may be due from the management or operation of the Receivership Estate.

8. Employees and Agents. Hire, retain, or terminate employees, independent contractors, consultants, attorneys, certified public accountants, brokers, security guards, bookkeepers, and other parties or agents of Business, in the management and operation of the Property of the Receivership Estate as Receiver deems appropriate and pay the reasonable value of the services rendered by those parties, in which case payroll taxes, workers' compensation insurance, and related costs will be carried and reported as those of Business. Receiver will not be bound by Business's employment contracts, collective-bargaining agreements, or employment practices, policies, or benefits. Receiver shall have the sole and exclusive authority to direct employees, contractors, bankers, investment advisors, accountants, attorneys, and other agents of Business.

9. New Contractors. Employ, on a contract basis, professionals, agents, employees, or contractors and purchase inventory, tools, merchandise, material, services, software, and supplies, at ordinary and usual rates and prices, using funds that come into [his/her] possession as Receiver.

10. Professionals. Hire, employ, and retain independent legal counsel, certified public accountants, appraisers, leasing agents, investigators, security guards, technical and other consultants, brokers [include if applicable: including business brokers], property management companies, and any other personnel or employees Receiver deems necessary to advise, assist, or represent Receiver in performance of [his/her] duties and obligations pursuant to this order, at ordinary and usual rates and prices, using funds that come into [his/her] possession as Receiver.

11. Mail. Open and review all mail, packages, or other deliveries directed to Business or its agents or representatives, and issue demand to the U.S. Postal Service granting Receiver exclusive possession and control of mail, including postal boxes as may have been used by Business, and directing that certain mail related to the Receivership Estate be directed to Receiver.

12. Insurance. Enter into, adjust, or maintain existing insurance necessary to protect and preserve the Property of the Receivership Estate. That insurance shall be in an amount that Receiver deems sufficient. [Include if applicable: For any existing insurance, Movant shall be named as an additional insured on the policies during the Receivership.] If sufficient coverage does not exist, Receiver shall immediately notify the parties to this divorce and shall have thirty calendar days to procure sufficient all-risk and liability insurance on Property of the Receivership Estate. If Receiver does not have sufficient funds to procure sufficient coverage, Receiver shall seek instructions from this Court with regard to adequately insuring the Property of the Receivership Estate. Receiver shall not be responsible for claims arising from the lack of procurement or inability to obtain insurance.

13. Licenses and Permits. Take immediate and exclusive possession, custody, and control of all licenses, permits, or other government-issued documents necessary for the continued operation of Business, including any permit or license issued in the name of Business or a related entity of Business that is required and necessary for the continued operation of Business. If the issuing agency requires that Receiver apply for a new license, permit, or other document, Receiver is authorized to continue to perform his duties as Receiver pending issuance of that new permit or license.

14. Interests. Take immediate and exclusive possession, custody, and control of all membership interests, partnership interests, stock, and other legal rights and interests of Business in any limited liability company, partnership, corporation, or other entity or relationship.

15. Authorized Signatory. Execute all contracts and other documents and perform all acts and obligations in relation thereto, in the name of Business, Receivership Estate, or Receiver, as necessary for the management, operation, preservation, rehabilitation, or liquidation of the Receivership Estate.

16. Leases. Negotiate, enter, or extend any lease for a period not to exceed one year, unless ordered by this Court, and modify or terminate existing leases affecting part or all of the Receivership Estate that are not commercially reasonable or beneficial to the operation of the Receivership Estate.

17. Other Contracts. Negotiate, enter, or extend any contract as Receiver deems necessary for the management, operation, preservation, rehabilitation, or liquidation of the Receivership Estate, including any purchase agreements or management contracts associated with such management, operation, preservation, rehabilitation, or liquidation of the Receivership Estate, for a period not to exceed one year, unless approved by this Court, and modify or terminate existing contracts affecting part or all of the Receivership Estate that are not commercially reasonable or beneficial to the operation of Receivership Estate.

18. Debt Collection. In Receiver's sole discretion, issue demands and bring and prosecute all proper actions for the collection of accounts receivable or contract rights of Business when due.

19. Litigation. In Receiver's sole discretion, bring, prosecute, defend, or resolve any lawsuit commenced by or against Business and employ attorneys, experts, or other third parties Receiver deems necessary to prosecute or defend such lawsuits, for the rehabilitation or liquidation of Business for the benefit of Business's creditors.

20. Statutory Powers and Duties. Exercise all powers and discharge all duties provided to receivers pursuant to chapter 64, subchapter C, of the Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code and other law applicable to receivers.

21. Court Orders. Perform all other lawful acts necessary to discharge Receiver's duties pursuant to this order or any other court order, including seeking relief from this Court or, as may be necessary, instituting ancillary proceedings in this Court to recover assets or records belonging to Business, to recover fraudulent or otherwise improper transfers, or to assert any cause of action or claim belonging to Business.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that on notice to Business and the parties of this order, Business and parties (1) shall peacefully and immediately, but in no event less than forty-eight hours therefrom, surrender, turn over, and deliver to Receiver the Receivership Estate, including all records, books of account, executed originals of leases, contracts, insurance policies, sales tax returns, documents, and papers, and all revenues and income generated from the Property of Business in their possession, custody, or control; (2) are directed to cooperate with Receiver and to disclose all information relating to the management and operation of the Receivership Estate, including the names of all vendors and suppliers, copies of bills, service contracts, and bank accounts in their possession, custody, and control, and to turn over to Receiver any other material in their possession, custody, or control relevant and necessary in the opinion of Receiver to the fulfillment of [his/her] duties as Receiver pursuant to this order; (3) shall prepare and provide to Receiver an itemization as to the Receivership Estate of all accounts payable and receivable and operating expenses paid during this transition period; and (4) shall provide Receiver with access to all accounts, records, files, user names, and passwords maintained in connection with the Receivership Property and needed to access Business's accounts.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that Business shall instruct all employees, agents, or others now or hereafter in possession of any portion of the Receivership Estate to contact Receiver to arrange for the immediate turnover of the Receivership Estate to Receiver as Receiver may direct.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that if a party violates a material provision of this order, Movant or Receiver may petition this Court to issue an order to show cause why such party should not be found to be in contempt. All persons are hereby directed to comply with this order and any lawful instructions of Receiver made pursuant to the authority granted in this order. Nothing in this order shall require individuals to perform work at the behest of Receiver without fair compensation.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that all parties hereto, related or interested parties hereto, and all other persons and entities are hereby enjoined from interfering with Receiver's exclusive conduct of Business's Receivership.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that Receiver and the parties to this lawsuit may at any time apply to this Court for instructions or orders. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that Business, its agents, its representatives, and all persons acting under, in concert with, or on its behalf, with actual notice of this order are enjoined from in any way disturbing the Receivership Estate and from prosecuting any actions or proceedings that affect the Receivership Estate, to the extent that the same would injure the Property or interfere or disturb these receivership proceedings, without permission from this Court.

For court proceedings, IT IS ORDERED that the parties, attorneys, witnesses, and any other persons attending proceedings remotely shall comply with the following procedures:

The following language is an example. Consult the local rules of the court when drafting.

- a. Notification of Information for Remote Proceeding. When the court proceeding is scheduled, the Court will e-mail the parties (through their attorneys if represented) the information needed to attend the proceeding by Zoom or by telephone. Each attorney shall communicate this information to the attorney's clients and witnesses, including any witnesses the attorney subpoenaed for the proceeding, and shall provide each such person with a copy of this order. Each self-represented party shall communicate this information to the party's witnesses, including any witnesses the party subpoenaed for the proceeding, and shall provide each such person with a copy of this order. To comply with the open courts provisions of the Texas Constitution, the Court will create a public link [through the Court's YouTube channel] where members of the public can watch the proceedings live and will publicize that link on the [Court/district clerk]'s website, complete with the cause number of this suit.
- b. Use of Real Names. In all communications with the Court and during the court proceedings, including when joining a Zoom meeting or conference call, each party, attorney, witness, or other person attending the proceeding shall use that person's real name when identifying himself or herself.

- c. If Translator Needed. A party or attorney acting on a party's behalf shall contact the court coordinator as soon as possible after the court proceeding is scheduled if the party knows a translator will be needed.
- d. Necessary Hardware and Software. If the Court is holding the proceeding through Zoom, at least forty-eight hours before the proceeding, each party, attorney, witness, or other person attending the proceeding shall create a Zoom account at <https://zoom.us/home>. The person shall create the account using the person's real name and work e-mail address. For each attorney, that e-mail address shall be the same as the one described in rule 21(f)(2) of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure. At least forty-eight hours before the proceeding, each person shall download and install the Zoom app on the device (for example, computer, tablet, smart phone) the person will use to communicate with the Court during the proceeding. The device must have functional speakers, video camera, and microphone and must have an Internet connection. If a person, including a witness, knows he or she cannot attend the proceeding by video, that person or, if represented, the person's attorney shall contact the court coordinator as soon as possible before the proceeding. Each attorney shall show good cause for failure to appear by video at the proceeding.
- e. Submission of Exhibits to Court Coordinator and Parties. To be potentially admissible into evidence, all exhibits, except rebuttal exhibits, must be e-mailed to the court coordinator and all parties not later than 2:00 P.M. the day before the court proceeding in the manner required in subsection f. below. If the day of the proceeding is a Monday or court holiday, the deadline will be 2:00 P.M. on the weekday that is not a court holiday and that immediately precedes the day of the proceeding. The subject line of the e-mail shall state this suit's full cause number and state the name of the party, as well as the date of the court proceeding, for example, "Cause No. 12345; Petitioner's Exhibits; May 8, 2020."

- f. Format of Exhibits. Each exhibit shall be in PDF, unless it is an [include if applicable: image file or] audio or video recording file. The title of each exhibit file shall state the name of the exhibit, for example, "Petitioner Ex. 1." [Include if applicable: Each image file shall be in either PDF or JPG format.] A party wanting to offer any audio recordings or video recordings shall upload the duly labeled recordings files to a folder in [Dropbox/[name of cloud storage service acceptable to the court]] and include a link to the folder in the party's exhibit e-mail. All audio recordings and video recordings shall be in MP4 format. A party wanting to offer any exhibits that contain any unredacted "personal identifying information" or "sensitive personal information," as those terms are defined in section 521.002 of the Texas Business and Commerce Code, shall upload the duly labeled files to a password-protected folder in [Dropbox/[name of cloud storage service acceptable to the court]] with a link to the folder in the e-mail [include if applicable: or each exhibit shall be password-protected with the same password]. The party offering those exhibits shall not include the password in the e-mail but shall communicate the password to the court coordinator and each other party by telephone or text message by the deadline to provide the exhibits. Unless critical to an issue in the case, a party may redact personal identifying information and sensitive personal information from an exhibit before submitting it.
- g. Exhibits with Rebuttal or Unanticipated Evidence. During a proceeding, with the permission of the Court, a party may offer an exhibit with rebuttal evidence or an exhibit with evidence that the party could not have reasonably anticipated or submitted prior to the proceeding through the Chat/File feature in Zoom or by e-mail to the Court and all parties if the proceeding is by telephone only.

- h. Documents Local Rules Require for Family Law Proceedings. In family law cases, not later than 2:00 P.M. the day before the court proceeding as defined above in subsections e. and f., each party shall e-mail the court coordinator and the other parties with all documents required by this Court's local rules for family law proceedings, for example, financial information statement, pay statements, and tax returns. The titles of these files shall name the party and the documents (for example, Petitioner's Financial Information Sheet). A party may redact personal identifying information and sensitive personal information from these documents before submitting them.
- i. Submission of Relevant Orders, Pleadings, and Other Documents. The parties shall confer before the court proceeding and at least forty-eight hours before the proceeding shall e-mail to the court coordinator, copying each other party, an electronic copy of all orders, pleadings, returns of citations, and other documents filed with the district clerk that are relevant to the proceeding. If the documents are too voluminous to attach or organize in an e-mail, the parties shall upload the documents to a folder in [Dropbox/[name of cloud storage service acceptable to the court]] and include a link to the folder in the e-mail. Each document shall be in PDF with a file name that reflects the title of the document.
- j. Submission of Late Responses and Replies. Each party shall e-mail to the court coordinator and each other party any responses or replies the party e-filed with the district clerk less than forty-eight hours before the court proceeding. E-mailing such a document to the court coordinator is not a substitute for e-filing the document with the district clerk. No party shall include the judge or court coordinator as a service contact when e-filing a document.

- k. Submission of Case Law, Statutes, Regulations, and Similar Documents. If a party wants the Court to consider any case law, statute, regulation, or similar document, the party shall e-mail the document to the court coordinator and the other parties the day before the court proceeding.
- l. Failure to Comply with Procedures. Failure to comply with the procedures in this order for submitting proposed exhibits, information required by this Court's local rules, responses and replies, or supporting statutes, case law, regulations, or similar documents without good cause may result, as applicable, in the exclusion of the exhibits, the Court's not considering the documents, or other sanction as provided by the Court's local rules or inherent powers.
- m. Opening in Zoom App. If the Court is holding the proceeding through Zoom, before the proceeding begins, when a person attempts to join the Zoom meeting from the Zoom webpage, the webpage will ask whether to open the Zoom app. Each person shall instruct Zoom to open in the Zoom app and allow it to install the program and not rely on the web browser. In this way, the attorneys and parties will have the means to communicate confidentially in private breakout rooms unavailable on the plug-in version of Zoom.
- n. Dress Codes. If the Court is holding the proceeding through Zoom and unless the Court orders otherwise for that proceeding, attorneys shall dress in the same business attire as if the proceeding were held in the courtroom. Parties and witnesses shall dress in the manner they would if they were attending court in person, unless required for health reasons not to do so. Each attorney shall ensure that the attorney's clients and witnesses are aware of and comply with this dress code. If the Court is holding the proceeding only by telephone, these dress codes will not apply.

- o. Joining Proceeding by Zoom before Its Scheduled Start. The parties, attorneys, witnesses, and all other persons attending the proceeding shall join the proceeding by Zoom by clicking on the Zoom link sent by the Court or by joining the conference call number sent by the Court at least five minutes before the proceeding is scheduled to begin.
- p. Court Bringing Parties, Attorneys, and Witnesses into Virtual Courtroom. If the Court is holding the proceeding through Zoom, when each person joins the meeting, the person will appear in a virtual waiting room with all other parties, attorneys, and witnesses. There may be several cases set on the docket at the same time. When this case is called, the Court will bring the attorneys and clients into the virtual courtroom, in turn. When the Court brings the attorneys and clients into the virtual courtroom, their videos will automatically be on and their audios muted until the proceeding begins. If the Court is holding the proceeding through Zoom, the attorneys shall appear on video at all times during the proceeding, except when the Court recesses the proceeding.
- q. Requirements for Witnesses to Be Able to Testify Remotely. When taking the oath to testify and when testifying, each witness shall appear on video unless the witness is in the presence of a notary public, identified to the Court, who can verify the identity of the witness, in which case the witness may testify through Zoom only on audio or may testify in a proceeding conducted solely by telephone. Otherwise, all other potential witnesses who are not on video through Zoom may not testify.
- r. Witnesses Treated as Though in a Physical Courtroom. Unless permitted by the Court or as provided below, a witness may not have access to any electronic information or physical notes while testifying, just as if the witness were on the witness stand in the courtroom. Except during a recess in the proceeding, no person shall communicate, verbally or nonverbally, with a witness through any method except the audiovisual or audio means shared with all the participants in the proceeding who are present in the virtual courtroom. If “the Rule” (rule 267 of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure and rule 614 of the Texas Rules of Evidence) is invoked, no one may communicate in any manner, including by telephone, text message, or e-mail, with any witness placed under the Rule, except as permitted by the Rule and then only during a recess in the proceeding. While placed under the Rule, witnesses are prohibited from observing the proceeding through the Court’s YouTube channel and from communicating with anyone who is observing the proceeding through the Court’s YouTube channel.

- s. Muting Microphones and Telephones. All persons participating in the proceedings except the judge, the witness, and the questioning attorney or questioning self-represented party shall keep their Zoom microphone or telephone, as applicable, on mute unless speaking. The Court recognizes that there may be a slight delay in an attorney or party unmuting their microphone or telephone to make an objection. If attending the proceeding by telephone, a participant shall not put the telephone on hold at any time during the proceeding.
- t. Communications between Attorneys and Clients during Proceedings. If the Court is holding the proceeding through Zoom, the attorneys may communicate with their clients using the private chat feature, hitting the “CHAT” button and, at the bottom of the chat window, pulling down the recipient arrow and selecting the client’s name. Attorneys shall not privately communicate with their clients while the clients are testifying, including through text message, e-mail, or the Zoom chat function. All communications between an attorney and a testifying client shall be through Zoom or by telephone, as applicable, in a manner that all participants can hear and that a record may be made.

- u. Recesses. The Court may recess the proceeding for breaks or to allow attorneys to confer with their clients. If an attorney wishes to confer with a client, the attorney shall make that request to the Court, identifying the client by name. The Court will send those video streams into a confidential side-room to confer for a period set by the Court. In a similar manner, attorneys or self-represented parties may ask the Court to confer privately with one another. An attorney or self-represented party may ask the Court to allow them to confer privately with a witness.
- v. NO RECORDING OF COURT PROCEEDING. UNDER PENALTY OF CONTEMPT OF COURT, NO PERSON, OTHER THAN THE COURT REPORTER, MAY RECORD A COURT PROCEEDING. THIS PROHIBITION APPLIES TO MEMBERS OF THE PUBLIC WATCHING THE PROCEEDINGS ON THE COURT'S YOUTUBE CHANNEL AND TO PERSONS WITH THE ABILITY TO RECORD THE ZOOM MEETING. The court reporter's record shall be the only record of the court proceeding.
- w. Orders Apply to Agents. No party, attorney, or witness may circumvent the terms of this order by having another person perform a task prohibited for that party, attorney, or witness. For example, if an attorney is prohibited from communicating with a witness during a proceeding, the attorney's legal assistant or other agent of the attorney may not communicate with that witness during the proceeding.

7. Depositions by Remote Electronic Means

IT IS ORDERED that if a party takes an oral deposition by a remote electronic means in which the deponent appears live on video to a person authorized to administer oaths in the jurisdiction in which the witness is located, the person may administer the oath to the deponent, notwithstanding the requirements of rule 199.1(b) of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure.

A party using Zoom may record an oral deposition by other than stenographic means using Zoom's record function, if the party complies with rule 199.1 as modified by this order.

8. Sworn Statements [and Unsworn Declarations] as Evidence

IT IS ORDERED that sworn statements [include if applicable: and unsworn declarations] made out of court will be considered as evidence. [Include if applicable: Specifically, the Court will consider as evidence an [affidavit/unsworn declaration] from [name of witness] as evidence in [a/the] [description of proceeding].] Unless waived by each party, IT IS ORDERED that each out-of-court sworn statement [include if applicable: and unsworn declaration] to be submitted as evidence must be served on each party not less than [number] days before the proceeding in which it is to be considered as evidence. Unless waived by each party, IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that each out-of-court sworn statement [include if applicable: or unsworn declaration] offered as rebuttal evidence must be served on each party not less than [number] days before the proceeding in which it is to be considered as rebuttal evidence.

9. Remote Interview of Children

The Court finds that, pursuant to section 153.009 of the Texas Family Code, [[Movant/Respondent] has/Movant and Respondent have] asked the Court to confer with [name[s] of child[ren]], the child[ren] who [is/are] the subject of this suit, to determine [the/each] child's wishes as to [conservatorship/possession/access/who shall have the exclusive right to determine the child's primary residence/[describe other issue]]. The request to confer is GRANTED. IT IS ORDERED that the following procedures shall apply to the Court's interview with the child[ren]:

- a. The Court shall confer with [the/each] child using Zoom. The Court will notify the parties [include if applicable: and the [attorney ad litem/amicus attorney/guardian ad litem] for the child[ren]] by e-mail of a Zoom meeting, in which the Court will confer with [the child/each child separately]. The party in possession of the child[ren] at the time of the conference shall ensure [the/each] child is available at the time of the Zoom meeting and has possession of a device (for example, computer, tablet, smart phone) the child will use to communicate with the Court during the conference. The device must have functional speakers, video camera, and microphone and must have an Internet connection. The device must have the Zoom program or app loaded on it before the time of the Zoom meeting. If the party in possession knows he or she cannot meet those requirements, that party or, if represented, the party's attorney shall contact the court coordinator as soon as possible before the conference.

- b. When the Court begins the Zoom meeting, the party in possession of the child or an adult designated by the party shall join the meeting, identify himself or herself to the Court, and then leave the room. While the Court is conferring with [the/each] child, no person may be present in the same room as the child, and no person, when outside of that room, may be so close to the room that the person can hear the voice of the child or the Court. With the exception of the Court's court reporter, no person, including the child, may record any statements of the child or the Court made during the interview. Besides the child, only the court reporter or another member of the Court's staff may join the Zoom meeting, except the Court may permit the attorney for a party, the amicus attorney, the guardian ad litem for the child, or the attorney ad litem for the child to join the meeting.

10. Proceedings at an Alternative Location

IT IS ORDERED that the Court will conduct the following proceedings in this suit away from the Court's usual location:

- a. On [date], the Court will hold the [description of proceeding] at [address].

Repeat for other proceedings to be held at alternative locations.

11. Notification to Parties of Illness

IT IS ORDERED that unless a court proceeding is being conducted entirely remotely, with each participant separate from each other participant and no notary public present with a witness to enable the witness to testify solely by telephone, each participant in a proceeding, including any court hearing, jury trial, arbitration hearing, deposition, conference of the parties, conference with the Court, mediation, or collaborative law team meeting, shall alert all parties before the proceeding if the participant has, or knows of another participant who has, COVID-19 or flu-like symptoms, such as a fever, cough, shortness of breath, or other symptoms reported by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention at <https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/symptoms-testing/symptoms.html>.

Form 9-1

The national medical support notice is a form promulgated by the federal Office of Child Support Enforcement. In Texas, the notice is required in all title IV-D cases in which the employee is ordered to provide health-care coverage for a child through his or her employment. Additionally, the notice may be used in any other suit in which an obligor is ordered to provide health insurance coverage for a child. Tex. Fam. Code § 154.186. It serves as notice to the employer to withhold for health-care coverage and includes information about the various responsibilities of the employer.

It may be downloaded from www.acf.hhs.gov/css/resource/national-medical-support-notice-form.

See the practice notes at section 9.43 for instructions for completion of the notice.

LIMITATIONS ON WITHHOLDING

The total amount withheld for both cash and medical support cannot exceed _____% of the employee's aggregate disposable weekly earnings. The employer may not withhold more under this National Medical Support Notice than the lesser of:

1. The amounts allowed by the Federal Consumer Credit Protection Act (15 U.S.C., section 1673(b));
2. The amounts allowed by the State of the employee's principal place of employment; or
3. The amounts allowed for health insurance premiums by the child support order, as indicated here: _____.

The Federal limit applies to the aggregate disposable weekly earnings (ADWE). ADWE is the income left after making mandatory deductions such as State, Federal, local taxes; Social Security taxes; and Medicare taxes. As required under section 2.b.2 of the Employer Responsibilities on page 4, complete item 5 of the Employer Response to notify the Issuing Agency that enrollment cannot be completed because of prioritization or limitations on withholding.

PRIORITY OF WITHHOLDING

If withholding is required for employee contributions to one or more plans under this notice and for a support obligation under a separate notice and available funds are insufficient for withholding for both cash and medical support contributions, the employer must withhold amounts for purposes of cash support and medical support contributions in accordance with the law, if any, of the State of the employee's principal place of employment requiring prioritization between cash and medical support, as described here:

As required under section 2.b.2 of the Employer Responsibilities on page 4, complete item 5 of the Employer Response to notify the Issuing Agency that enrollment cannot be completed because of prioritization or limitations on withholdings.

INSTRUCTIONS TO EMPLOYER

This document serves as legal notice that the employee identified on this National Medical Support Notice is obligated by a court or administrative child support order to provide health care coverage for the child(ren) identified on this Notice. This National Medical Support Notice replaces any Medical Support Notice that the Issuing Agency has previously served on you with respect to the employee and the children listed on this Notice.

The document consists of Part A - Notice to Withhold for Health Care Coverage for the employer to withhold any employee contributions required by the group health plan(s) in which the child(ren) is/are enrolled; and Part B - Medical Support Notice to the Plan Administrator, which must be forwarded to the Administrator of each group health plan identified by the employer to enroll the eligible child(ren), or completed by the employer, if the employer serves as the health Plan Administrator.

An employer receiving this legal Notice is required to complete and return Part A – Employer Response. If group health coverage is not available to the employee named herein, or the employee was never or is no longer employed, the employer is required to complete Part A – Employer Response and return it to the Issuing Agency with the appropriate response checked. If you, the employer, provide the health care benefits to the employee, forward Part B – Plan Administrator Response to the health Plan Administrator of your organization. If the employee's health care benefits are administered through another organization, including a labor union, forward Part B of the Notice to the labor union or other organization acting as the Plan Administrator for completion. If the employee has already enrolled the child(ren) in health care coverage, the employer must forward Part B to the Plan Administrator for completion and submittal to the Issuing Agency.

Keep a copy of Part A as it may be used to notify the Issuing Agency if the employee separates from service for any reason including retirement or termination.

EMPLOYER RESPONSIBILITIES

1. If the individual named in this Notice is not your employee, or if the family health care coverage is not available, please complete item 1, 2, 3, 4 or 5 of the Employer Response as appropriate, and return it to the Issuing Agency. NO OTHER ACTION IS NECESSARY.
2. If family health care coverage is available for which the child(ren) identified above may be eligible, you are required to:
 - a. Transfer, not later than 20 business days after the date of this Notice, a copy of Part B - Medical Support Notice to the Plan Administrator to the Administrator of each appropriate group health plan for which the child(ren) may be eligible, complete item 7, and
 - b. Upon notification from the Plan Administrator(s) that the child(ren) is/are enrolled, either
 - 1) withhold from the employee's income any employee contributions required under each group health plan, in accordance with the applicable law of the employee's principal place of employment and transfer employee contributions to the appropriate plan(s), or
 - 2) complete item 5 of the Employer Response to notify the Issuing Agency that enrollment cannot be completed because of prioritization or limitations on withholding.
 - c. If the Plan Administrator notifies you that the employee is subject to a waiting period that expires more than 90 days from the date of its receipt of Part B of this Notice, or whose duration is determined by a measure other than the passage of time (for example, the completion of a certain number of hours worked), complete item 6 of the Employer Response to notify the Issuing Agency of the enrollment timeframe and notify the Plan Administrator when the employee is eligible to enroll in the plan and that this Notice requires the enrollment of the child(ren) named in the Notice in the plan.
3. If the Termination Order/Notice (Optional) checkbox is checked, you are required to terminate the health care coverage for the child(ren) identified in the order unless the employee has indicated that they want to continue coverage voluntarily.

DURATION OF WITHHOLDING

The child(ren) shall be treated as dependents under the terms of the plan. Coverage of a child as a dependent will end when conditions for eligibility for coverage under terms of the plan no longer apply. However, the continuation coverage provisions of ERISA may entitle the child to continuation coverage under the plan. The employer must continue to withhold employee contributions and may not disenroll (or eliminate coverage for) the child(ren) unless:

1. The employer is provided satisfactory written evidence that:
 - a. The court or administrative child support order referred to in this Notice is no longer in effect; or
 - b. The child(ren) is or will be enrolled in comparable coverage which will take effect no later than the effective date of disenrollment from the plan; or
2. The employer eliminates family health coverage for all of its employees.

POSSIBLE SANCTIONS

An employer may be subject to sanctions or penalties imposed under State law and/or ERISA for discharging an employee from employment, refusing to employ, or taking disciplinary action against any employee because of medical child support withholding, or for failing to withhold income, or transmit such withheld amounts to the applicable plan(s) as the Notice directs. Sanctions or penalties may be imposed under State law against an employer for failure to respond and/or for non-compliance with this Notice.

NOTICE OF TERMINATION OF EMPLOYMENT

In any case in which the above employee's employment terminates, the employer must promptly notify the Issuing Agency listed above of such termination. This requirement may be satisfied by sending to the Issuing Agency a copy of Part A with response 4 checked or any notice the employer is required to provide under the continuation coverage provisions of ERISA or the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act.

EMPLOYEE LIABILITY FOR CONTRIBUTION TO PLAN

The employee is liable for any employee contributions that are required under the plan(s) for enrollment of the child(ren) and is subject to appropriate enforcement. The employee may contest the withholding under this Notice based on a mistake of fact (such as the identity of the obligor). Should an employee contest the withholding under this Notice, the employer must proceed to comply with the employer responsibilities in this Notice until notified by the Issuing Agency to discontinue withholding. To contest the withholding under this Notice, the employee should contact the Issuing Agency at the address and telephone number listed on the Notice. With respect to plans subject to ERISA, it is the view of the Department of Labor that Federal Courts have jurisdiction if the employee challenges a determination that the Notice constitutes a Qualified Medical Child Support Order.

CONTACT FOR QUESTIONS

If you have any questions regarding this Notice, you may contact the Issuing Agency at the address and telephone number listed on page 1 of this Notice.

INSTRUCTIONS TO PLAN ADMINISTRATOR

This Notice has been forwarded from the employer identified above to you as the plan administrator of a group health plan maintained by the employer (or a group health plan to which the employer contributes) and in which the noncustodial parent/participant identified above is enrolled or is eligible for enrollment.

This Notice serves to inform you that the noncustodial parent/participant is obligated by an order issued by the court or agency identified above to provide health care coverage for the child(ren) under the group health plan(s) as described on Part B.

(A) If the participant and child(ren) and their mailing addresses (or that of a Substituted Official or Agency) are identified above, and if coverage for the child(ren) is or will become available, this Notice constitutes a “qualified medical child support order”(QMCSO) under ERISA or CSPIA, as applicable. (If any mailing address is not present, but it is reasonably accessible, this Notice will not fail to be a QMCSO on that basis.) You must, within 40 business days of the date of this Notice, or sooner if reasonable:

(1) Complete Part B - Plan Administrator Response - and send it to the Issuing Agency:

(a) if you checked Response 2:

(i) notify the noncustodial parent/participant named above, each named child, and the custodial parent that coverage of the child(ren) is or will become available (notification of the custodial parent will be deemed notification of the child(ren) if they reside at the same address);

(ii) furnish the custodial parent a description of the coverage available and the effective date of the coverage, including, if not already provided, a summary plan description and any forms, documents, or information necessary to effectuate such coverage, as well as information necessary to submit claims for benefits;

(b) if you checked Response 3:

(i) if you have not already done so, provide to the Issuing Agency copies of applicable summary plan descriptions or other documents that describe available coverage including the additional participant contribution necessary to obtain coverage for the child(ren) under each option and whether there is a limited service area for any option;

(ii) if the plan has a default option, you are to enroll the child(ren) in the default option if you have not received an election from the Issuing Agency within 20 business days of the date you returned the Response. If the plan does not have a default option, you are to enroll the child(ren) in the option selected by the Issuing Agency.

(c) if the participant is subject to a waiting period that expires more than 90 days from the date of receipt of this Notice, or has not completed a waiting period whose duration is determined by a measure other than the passage of time (for example, the completion of a certain number of hours worked), complete Response 4 on the Plan Administrator Response and return to the employer and the Issuing Agency, and notify the participant and the custodial parent; and upon satisfaction of the period or requirement, complete enrollment under Response 2 or 3, and

(d) upon completion of the enrollment, transfer the applicable information on Part B - Plan Administrator Response to the employer for a determination that the necessary employee contributions are available. Inform the employer that the enrollment is pursuant to a National Medical Support Notice.

(B) If within 40 business days of the date of this Notice, or sooner if reasonable, you determine that this Notice does not constitute a QMCSO, you must complete Response 5 of Part B - Plan Administrator Response and send it to the Issuing Agency, and inform the noncustodial parent/participant, custodial parent, and child(ren) of the specific reasons for your determination.

(C) Any required notification of the custodial parent, child(ren) and/or participant may be satisfied by sending the party a copy of the Plan Administrator Response, if appropriate. You may choose to furnish these notifications electronically in accordance with the requirements of the Department of Labor's electronic disclosure regulation codified at 29 C.F.R. 2520.104b-1(c).

UNLAWFUL REFUSAL TO ENROLL

Enrollment of a child may not be denied on the ground that: (1) the child was born out of wedlock; (2) the child is not claimed as a dependent on the participant's Federal income tax return; (3) the child does not reside with the participant or in the plan's service area; or (4) because the child is receiving benefits or is eligible to receive benefits under the State Medicaid plan. If the plan requires that the participant be enrolled in order for the child(ren) to be enrolled, and the participant is not currently enrolled, you must enroll both the participant and the child(ren) regardless of whether the participant has applied for enrollment in the plan. All enrollments are to be made without regard to open season restrictions.

PAYMENT OF CLAIMS

A child covered by a QMCSO, or the child's custodial parent, legal guardian, or the provider of services to the child, or a State agency to the extent assigned the child's rights, may file claims and the plan shall make payment for covered benefits or reimbursement directly to such party.

PERIOD OF COVERAGE

The alternate recipient(s) shall be treated as dependents under the terms of the plan. Coverage of an alternate recipient as a dependent will end when similarly situated dependents are no longer eligible for coverage under the terms of the plan. However, the continuation coverage provisions of ERISA or other applicable law may entitle the alternate recipient to continue coverage under the plan. Once a child is enrolled in the plan as directed above, the alternate recipient may not be disenrolled unless:

- (1) The plan administrator is provided satisfactory written evidence that either:
 - (a) the court or administrative child support order referred to above is no longer in effect, or
 - (b) the alternate recipient is or will be enrolled in comparable coverage which will take effect no later than the effective date of disenrollment from the plan;
- (2) The employer eliminates family health coverage for all of its employees; or
- (3) Any available continuation coverage is not elected, or the period of such coverage expires.

CONTACT FOR QUESTIONS

If you have any questions regarding this Notice, you may contact the Issuing Agency at the address and telephone number listed above.

Income Withholding for Support

The Office of the Attorney General, as the title IV-D agency, is required to prescribe income withholding forms required by federal law in a standard format. Tex. Fam. Code § 158.106. The following form was promulgated by the title IV-D agency in 1 Tex. Admin. Code § 55.118. It may be downloaded from www.acf.hhs.gov/css/resource/income-withholding-for-support-form.

A Word version of the required form with Texas-specific remittance information (highlighted) follows this page. The sample form also includes an attachment for additional information. The attachment instructs the employer on complying with more than one order of withholding, as provided by Tex. Fam. Code § 158.207. It also includes step-down provisions for the current support amount if the support order is for more than one child, as required by Tex. Fam. Code § 154.127.

The income withholding for support may be generic, that is, addressed to “Any employer of” the obligor. If an employer’s name is included in the order, that name should be followed by “and any subsequent employer.” Tex. Fam. Code § 158.201\(b\).

This form supersedes certain forms used in the past: the order/notice to withhold income for child support, the employer’s order to withhold from earnings for child support, the judicial writ of withholding to employer, and the judicial writ of withholding to subsequent employer. This form may also be used to request voluntary withholding under Tex. Fam. Code § 158.011.

Note: Tex. Fam. Code § 8.101\(d\) requires that an order of withholding that combines withholding for spousal maintenance and for child support must be in this form.

An order that income be withheld from the obligor’s earnings to be applied toward the satisfaction of attorney’s fees should be on a separate form from that which covers child support payments. The court must order that amounts withheld for fees be remitted directly to the attorney. Tex. Fam. Code § 158.0051\(c\). Payments for attorney’s fees should not be directed to the state disbursement unit.

See form 33-23 for an order to withhold for costs and fees.

State-specific withholding limit information is available at www.acf.hhs.gov/css/resource/state-income-withholding-contacts-and-program-requirements. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION FOR EMPLOYERS/INCOME WITHHOLDERS

State-specific contact and withholding information can be found on the Federal Employer Services website located at www.acf.hhs.gov/css/resource/state-income-withholding-contacts-and-program-requirements.

Employers/income withholders may use OCSE's Child Support Portal (<https://ocsp.acf.hhs.gov/csp/>) to provide information about employees who are eligible to receive a lump sum payment, have terminated employment, and to provide contacts, addresses, and other information about their company.

Priority: Withholding for support has priority over any other legal process under State law against the same income (section 466(b)(7) of the Social Security Act). If a federal tax levy is in effect, please notify the sender.

Combining Payments: When remitting payments to an SDU or tribal CSE agency, you may combine withheld amounts from more than one employee/obligor's income in a single payment. You must, however, separately identify each employee/obligor's portion of the payment.

Payments To SDU: You must send child support payments payable by income withholding to the appropriate SDU or to a tribal CSE agency. If this IWO instructs you to send a payment to an entity other than an SDU (e.g., payable to the custodial party, court, or attorney), you must check the box above and return this notice to the sender. Exception: If this IWO was sent by a court, attorney, or private individual/entity and the initial order was entered before January 1, 1994 or the order was issued by a tribal CSE agency, you must follow the "Remit payment to" instructions on this form.

Employer's Name: _____ Employer FEIN: _____
 Employee/Obligor's Name: _____ SSN: _____
 Case Identifier: _____ Order Identifier: _____

Reporting the Pay Date: You must report the pay date when sending the payment. The pay date is the date on which the amount was withheld from the employee/obligor's wages. You must comply with the law of the state (or tribal law if applicable) of the employee/obligor's principal place of employment regarding time periods within which you must implement the withholding and forward the support payments.

Multiple IWOs: If there is more than one IWO against this employee/obligor and you are unable to fully honor all IWOs due to federal, state, or tribal withholding limits, you must honor all IWOs to the greatest extent possible, giving priority to current support before payment of any past-due support. Follow the state or tribal law/procedure of the employee/obligor's principal place of employment to determine the appropriate allocation method.

Lump Sum Payments: You may be required to notify a state or tribal CSE agency of upcoming lump sum payments to this employee/obligor such as bonuses, commissions, or severance pay. Contact the sender to determine if you are required to report and/or withhold lump sum payments.

Liability: If you have any doubts about the validity of this IWO, contact the sender. If you fail to withhold income from the employee/obligor's income as the IWO directs, you are liable for both the accumulated amount you should have withheld and any penalties set by state or tribal law/procedure.

Anti-discrimination: You are subject to a fine determined under state or tribal law for discharging an employee/obligor from employment, refusing to employ, or taking disciplinary action against an employee/obligor because of this IWO.

Withholding Limits: You may not withhold more than the lesser of: 1) the amounts allowed by the Federal Consumer Credit Protection Act (CCPA) [15 USC §1673 (b)]; or 2) the amounts allowed by the law of the state of the employee/obligor's principal place of employment, if the place of employment is in a state; or the tribal law of the employee/obligor's principal place of employment if the place of employment is under tribal jurisdiction. Disposable income is the net income after mandatory deductions such as: state, federal, local taxes; Social Security taxes; statutory pension contributions; and Medicare taxes. The federal limit is 50% of the disposable income if the obligor is supporting another family and 60% of the disposable income if the obligor is not supporting another family. However, those limits increase 5% --to 55% and 65% --if the arrears are greater than 12 weeks. If permitted by the state or tribe, you may deduct a fee for administrative costs. The combined support amount and fee may not exceed the limit indicated in this section.

Depending upon applicable state or tribal law, you may need to consider amounts paid for health care premiums in determining disposable income and applying appropriate withholding limits.

Arrears Greater Than 12 Weeks? If the Order Information section does not indicate that the arrears are greater than 12 weeks, then the employer should calculate the CCPA limit using the lower percentage.

Notice of Application for Income Withholding for Support (Judicial Writ of Withholding)

You, the obligor named below, are given notice in accordance with subchapter D, chapter 158, of the Texas Family Code that your employer will be required to withhold the amounts specified below for payment of both your current support obligation for the child[ren] named below and for any overdue support (arrearage) as follows:

Obligor

Name:

Social Security number:

Obligee

Name:

Social Security number:

Child[ren]

Name:

Sex:

Birth date:

Social Security number:

Date child will become eighteen:

Repeat above information for each additional child.

Monthly child support due: $[amount]

Monthly medical support due: $[amount]

Total arrearage, including accrued interest: $[amount]

As of: [date of this order]

Monthly amounts to be withheld from your wages on service of the withholding:

On current child support: $[amount]

On current medical support: $[amount]

On child support arrearage owed: $[amount]

On medical support arrearage owed: $[amount]

Monthly amounts to be withheld from your wages after [date]:

On current child support: $[amount]

On current medical support: $[amount]

On child support arrearage owed: $[amount]

On medical support arrearage owed: $[amount]

Continue as required for further reductions.

Include the following if applicable.

You have repeatedly failed to pay support in accordance with your order of support. The Income Withholding for Support may include arrearages that accrue between the filing of this notice and the issuance of the Income Withholding for Support.

The order to withhold from your wages applies to each current or subsequent employer and period of employment.

If you do not contest this withholding within ten days after the receipt of this Notice of Withholding, your employer will be notified to begin deducting from your pay the amounts specified above.

Your sole ground for successfully contesting the issuance of an Income Withholding for Support is a mistake of fact. If you claim that you are not the person who owes the child support, or that you are not in arrears, or that the arrearage listed on the notice is incorrect, you can request a hearing by completing a Motion to Stay Issuance and Delivery of Income Withholding for Support (Judicial Writ of Withholding) and filing the motion within ten days of receipt of this notice with the clerk of the Court listed on the top of this notice.

Filing the attached motion will stay issuance and delivery of the Income Withholding for Support to your employer until a hearing is held.

If you contest this withholding, you will be afforded an opportunity to present your case to the court within thirty days of receipt of your notice of contest. The hearing will be limited to the disputed issues as stated on the Motion to Stay Issuance and Delivery of Income Withholding for Support (Judicial Writ of Withholding).

At the hearing the court will decide the contested delinquency and will either enter an order for income withholding or decide that an order for income withholding should not be entered. It is anticipated that additional arrearages will accrue, and on hearing the court will be requested to confirm all amounts then due.

An unsworn declaration may be used in place of a verification. See form 8-27.

Form 9-18

The purpose of the record of support order, as required under section 105.008 of the Texas Family Code, is to provide the state case registry with child support order information. Each state is required to maintain a registry of support orders under section 454a of the Social Security Act. Pursuant to chapter 234 of the Family Code, Texas's title IV-D agency (the Child Support Division of the Office of the Attorney General) collocates the state case registry with the state disbursement unit. The record of support order also ensures that the state disbursement unit receives all the information necessary to process support payments. The record of support order, as promulgated by the title IV-D agency in 1 Tex. Admin. Code § 55.121 (2013), should be completed and filed with the clerk along with the court order for support. Depending on the location, county officials will either fax a copy of the record of support order to the state disbursement unit or enter the information directly into the state disbursement center's database via a Web application that is available to most counties. Diligence in completing and filing the record of support order will decrease the number of unidentifiable child support payments and prevent unnecessary delays in the disbursement of payments.

In some counties, the clerk of the court may be unfamiliar with the record of support order. In that case, the prudent practitioner may fax a copy of the record of support order directly to the state disbursement unit at 1-210-924-4104.

Order Appointing Attorney Ad Litem for Child[ren]

The Court finds that under section 107.021 of the Texas Family Code, the best interest of the child[ren] is at issue, and after giving due consideration to the ability of the parties to pay reasonable fees to the appointee and considering the cost of available alternatives for resolving these issues without making an appointment, the Court finds that an attorney ad litem should be appointed in this case. The Court hereby appoints [name] as Attorney Ad Litem to provide legal services to [name[s] of child[ren]], the child[ren] the subject of this suit.

Judicial Approval for Abortion without Parental Notification and Consent

Instructions for Applying to the Court for a Waiver of Parental Notification and Consent (Form 1A)

Your situation and the law

If you are younger than 18 and have not been legally “emancipated,” you are “unemancipated,” which means that you are legally under the custody or control of your parents (or one of your parents), a managing conservator, or a guardian. (A “managing conservator” is an adult or agency appointed by a court to have custody or control of you.)

If you are pregnant, unemancipated, and younger than 18, you cannot get an abortion in Texas unless:

- your doctor informs one of your parents or your managing conservator or guardian at least 48 hours before the abortion and obtains the consent of your parent, managing conservator, or guardian; or
- a judge issues an order that “waives” or removes the requirement that you must let a parent or your managing conservator or guardian know about your planned abortion and obtain his or her consent to it.

How to get a waiver of parental notification and consent

Fill out the application

To get a court order waiving the requirements that you tell a parent or your managing conservator or guardian about your planned abortion and obtain his or her consent, you must complete Forms 2A and 2B, Confidential Application for Waiver of Parental Notification. Form 2A is the “Cover Page” for the Application; it requests basic information about why you are seeking the order. Form 2B is the “Verification Page,” which requests information about you.

On the Verification Page, you will be asked to tell the court how you may be contacted quickly and confidentially. It is very important that you provide this information because the court may later need to contact you about your application. If you cannot be contacted, your application will be denied. You may list a phone number, email address, or any other way that you can be contacted. You can but need not give your own number—instead, you can ask the court to contact you through someone who is helping you or acting on your behalf. You may also list a second person who may be contacted on your behalf.

You or someone acting on your behalf must deliver the forms to the clerk in the district court, county court at law, county court, or probate court to be filed. The court clerk can help you complete and file the application, and can help you get a hearing on your request. However, the clerk cannot give you legal advice or counsel you about abortion.

All of the information you put on the application is confidential. You do not have to pay a fee to file this application.

Your hearing

The court will tell you when to come to the courthouse for your “hearing.” In your hearing, you will meet with a judge to discuss your request. The court will hold your hearing within five days (not counting weekends and holidays) after you file your application.

After you file your application, the court will appoint a person to meet with you before the hearing and help the judge decide your application. The person is called a “guardian ad litem.” In your application you may ask the court to appoint someone you want to be your guardian ad litem (who can be a relative, clergy, counselor, psychiatrist or psychologist, or other adult), but the court is not required to appoint this person.

You must also have a lawyer with you at your hearing. You may hire your own lawyer, or you may ask the court to appoint one to represent you for free.

Keeping it confidential

Your hearing will be confidential and private. The only persons allowed to be there are you, your guardian ad litem, your lawyer, court staff, and any person whom you request to be there.

You already know that your application stays confidential. So will everything from your hearing: all testimony, documents and other evidence presented to the court, and any order given by the judge. The court will keep everything sealed. No one else can inspect the evidence.

The court’s decision

The court must “rule”—issue a decision on your application—before 5 p.m. on the fifth day after the day you filed your application, not counting weekends and holidays.

If the court fails to rule within that time, then your request is automatically denied. You can get a certificate from the court clerk that says that your request is “deemed denied.” If you choose to appeal, the certificate will be sent to the appellate court to explain what happened in your case.

If the court does rule within the required time, the court issues an order that does one of the following three things:

- (1) approves your request because the court finds that you are mature enough and know enough to choose on your own to have an abortion;

- (2) approves your request because it is in your best interests not to notify or to attempt to obtain the consent of your parent or your managing conservator or guardian before getting the abortion; or
- (3) denies your request because the court does not find (1) or (2).

If you say, or if there is evidence, that you have been or may be sexually abused, the court must treat your claim as a very serious matter and may be required to refer it to the police or other authorities for investigation.

Appealing the court's decision

If the court denies your request, you may ask another court to hear your case. This request is called an “appeal,” and the new court will be the court of appeals.

To appeal the first court’s decision, have your lawyer fill out Form 3A, Notice of Appeal in Parental Notification Proceeding. The lawyer must file it with the clerk of the court that denied your request for a waiver of parental notification.

You will not have to go to the court of appeals in person. Instead, the court of appeals will review the written record and will issue a written ruling on your appeal no later than 5 p.m. on the fifth day after the day you file the Notice of Appeal, not counting weekends and holidays.

The court of appeals will provide its ruling to you, your lawyer, your guardian ad litem, or any other person designated by you to receive the ruling.

The same guardian ad litem and lawyer who helped you with your first hearing can help with your appeal.

Getting the forms you need

Forms 2A and 2B, the Cover Page and Verification Page to the Confidential Application for Waiver of Parental Notification, and Form 3A, Notice of Appeal in Parental Notification Proceeding, should all be attached to these instructions.

If these forms are not attached to these instructions, you can get them from the clerk of the district, county court at law, county, or probate court or from the clerk of the court of appeals. These forms are also available on the Texas Judiciary website at www.txcourts.gov.

You must complete both of these forms.

Please state whether you want the court to appoint someone you know as your guardian ad litem. This person could be a relative, a member of the clergy, a counselor, a psychiatrist or psychologist, or another adult. You do not have to ask the court to appoint someone you know. Collaborative Law Retainer Letter to Client

[Name and address of client]

Re: Retainer agreement

[Salutation]

You have retained our firm to advise you in connection with your collaborative law process. In a collaborative law process, each spouse has an attorney, and all have a shared commitment to avoid litigation. The process primarily entails informal discussions and conferences for purposes of settling all issues. Each party and his or her attorney agree to adhere to honesty and mutual respect for the process.

You have requested representation in the collaborative law process after you were provided with information about the material benefits and risks of the collaborative law process as compared to the material benefits and risks of other reasonably available alternatives for resolving your family law matter, including litigation, mediation, and arbitration.

Scope and Duties

If your spouse agrees to proceed in a collaborative law process, I will represent your interests through the final settlement and filing of a judgment of dissolution, subject to the following:

1. I will serve as your attorney solely for the purposes of filing the petition or answer, notice of collaborative process, status reports, and final divorce papers.

2. I will not represent you in litigation except to the extent that the parties agree to submit selected issues to a private judge or arbitrator. My representation is terminated by any party's decision to litigate, whether it was your decision or not.

3. Neither I nor any attorney in the law firm with which I am associated will represent you in any family law litigation against your present spouse now or in the future, except for the limited purpose of obtaining or defending an emergency order to protect your health, safety, welfare, or interest or that of a member of your family.

4. If this collaborative law process does not result in settlement, I will cooperate with you in transferring your file to new counsel.

5. I will keep you reasonably informed of the settlement process and will not agree to a settlement of any issue without your consent. I will promptly respond to your inquiries.

You acknowledge and agree that, for as long as you participate in the collaborative law process, you are giving up your right to have your own experts, your right of access to the court system, and your right to formally object to producing any documents or to providing any information to the other side that I determine is appropriate.

To this end, you agree to make full disclosure of the nature, extent, and value of your income, assets, and liabilities. You also agree to provide me with any changes or developments affecting these disclosures. You authorize me to fully disclose all information that in my discretion must be provided to your spouse and your spouse's attorney.

You and I both have the right to withdraw from this contract, if either of us feels we cannot abide by the principles of collaborative law, by notifying the other in writing. I agree to give you fifteen days' notice of my intention to withdraw.

[Include if applicable: If your spouse declines to proceed in a collaborative law process, this retainer agreement will be void, and you and I will need to enter into a new retainer agreement for conventional divorce representation before our firm can proceed to represent you. In that event, I advise you to retain independent counsel to review any new agreement.]

Financial Provisions

It is understood that our firm uses a team approach involving partners, associates, and legal assistants, if appropriate, when their participation will in our judgment facilitate the highest-quality and most efficient and cost-effective representation of our clients. We reserve the right to, and you agree that we may, bring in outside counsel to assist in your case if in our judgment it is appropriate to do so.

For our services, you agree to pay for time devoted to your case at the following rates:

[Name of attorney] [number] dollars ($[amount]) per hour

[Name of associate] [number] dollars ($[amount]) per hour

[Name of paralegal] [number] dollars ($[amount]) per hour

These rates are subject to adjustment. In signing this letter you agree that, after written notification is sent to you of a fee adjustment, you will be responsible for payment at the adjusted rate. We are not able to quote a fixed attorney's fee or to predict what your total fee will be, because each case is unique, and it is impossible to predict just how much work will be involved.

In addition, you will be charged for expenses, including filing fees, photocopies, messengers, travel, parking, and telephone charges out of our local area. Also, it may be necessary to retain the services of an accountant, appraiser, actuary, or other expert to value certain assets. If we deem it advisable to retain an expert, we will recommend an expert and will obtain full consent of both parties and attorneys before engaging the expert's services. Payment for your share of the expert's services is your sole liability. You will be required to pay each expert directly.

[Include if applicable: The amount you will be charged for preparation of documents may be calculated on a basis other than an hourly fee. In other words, chargeable time does not always equal actual time.] Attorney time is normally billed in [tenths/[specify]] of an hour; the minimum unit charge for attorney time is [0.10/[specify]] hours ([6/[specify]] minutes). You will be billed for all time that we spend associated with your case, including telephone time, travel time, file review, and the other tasks involved in preparing your case.

In certain instances, one party agrees to pay some of the other party's attorney's fees and costs. If appropriate, we will seek such agreements on your behalf. However, the obligation to pay fees and costs to us remains your own, regardless of any such agreements.

Before proceeding, we require an initial trust account deposit of [number] dollars ($[amount]). You will be billed for amounts drawn against your account on a [monthly/bimonthly/regular] basis and are responsible for paying the bill within [number] days of receiving it. If you have any questions or objections to a bill, you agree to notify us in writing immediately on receiving it. After we complete our services to you in this matter and after all costs, expenses, and fees for services have been drawn against your account, I agree to refund you any retainer balance remaining. If your balance at that time is insufficient to cover the remaining unpaid costs, expenses, and services, you will be responsible for, and you agree to pay, the remaining amounts within thirty days of receiving your final bill. If payment has not been made thirty days after you received your final bill, you agree to pay interest on this unpaid balance at the rate of [percent] percent per year.

If the retainer is not replenished promptly as agreed above or any bill is not paid within thirty days, it is understood that no further work will be done until payment is received or other satisfactory arrangements are made and confirmed in writing. In the alternative, we reserve the right to withdraw as your attorney; you agree in signing this letter to sign promptly, on our request, all documents necessary for us to withdraw.

Please note that, because of necessary processing delays, the statement date shown on your monthly bill is ordinarily up to a week later than the actual date of services recorded on the statement. Since your subsequent monthly bill may include services that were actually rendered during the prior billing period, you should not assume that a statement contains all charges incurred up to the statement date.

In signing this letter, you agree that we will have a judgment lien against any sums you may receive in this action, to pay any unpaid balance of your attorney's fees and costs remaining in this action at the time of settlement. You further agree that we may record this agreement in any county in which you own real property if you fail to pay all sums owing to this office and that the recording of this agreement will constitute a lien against that real property. You further agree that, regardless of whether this agreement is recorded or not, all unpaid fees and costs owing to this office will be paid from the escrow on the sale of any real property owned in whole or in part by you.

If for any reason we are compelled to commence collection efforts on any outstanding bill, then, in addition to the above, you agree to pay us actual attorney's fees and costs incurred (whether our own time or that of other attorneys employed) in connection with that collection effort.

We make every effort at this point to acquaint you with our firm's philosophy and procedures and with the parameters within which we are able to assist you. If your needs and expectations change and become incompatible with our views regarding the conduct of your case, or if a substantial disagreement arises between us, we reserve the right to withdraw from your employment. If that occurs, we will provide you with notice so that you may have the opportunity to employ other counsel; again, you agree in signing this letter to sign promptly, on our request, all documents required to permit us to withdraw as your attorney.

Please read this letter carefully. If you agree with its terms, please sign the enclosed copy and return it to me. This agreement is a legally binding contract between us, which you are free to have reviewed by another attorney before signing. We encourage you to do that if you have any uncertainty about entering into any part of this agreement with us. If you have any comments or questions concerning this letter of agreement, please contact me at your convenience. It is very important that we have a clear understanding about fees and costs, because we want to devote our efforts and attention to the substance of your case and to avoid any possible future misunderstanding about our financial arrangements with you.

Sincerely yours,

Re: Divorce proceedings

[Salutation]

As you perhaps know, I have been retained by your [wife/husband] to represent [her/him] in divorce proceedings. I am writing you to outline the way I operate in these proceedings with the hope of enlisting your active involvement in a refreshing approach to resolving divorce issues that is straightforward and does not involve the courts in an adversarial way.

The approach is called "collaborative law." [Include if applicable: A brochure describing this process is enclosed.] Collaborative law provides a unique settlement process as an alternative to expensive, time-consuming trial procedures. The collaborative law process does not rely on court-imposed resolutions; instead, it relies on an atmosphere of honesty, cooperation, integrity, and professionalism geared toward the future well-being of the [parties/family]. In this process, each party hires an attorney trained in collaborative law. The parties understand that if adversarial proceedings are required because they and their attorneys are not able to settle the divorce through informal talks and sharing of information, the collaborative attorneys will withdraw and trial attorneys will be retained for adversarial proceedings.

Your spouse would like to participate in the collaborative law process. If you retain a collaborative attorney, we can proceed on that basis. Enclosed is a list of some local collaborative attorneys for your consideration.

Sincerely yours,

[Name of attorney]

Form 15-3

This form is written for a divorce case but may be reworded as appropriate for any other family law situation.

Collaborative Law Participation AgreementPurpose

The undersigned parties, [name of party A] and [name of party B] (the “parties”), agree as follows:

It is our intention to resolve through the collaborative law process, without the intervention of a court, the following matter: [description of matter to be resolved]. This agreement is being entered into pursuant to title 1–A of the Texas Family Code.

Beginning and Concluding Collaborative Process

The collaborative process under this collaborative law participation agreement begins when we sign this agreement, and it concludes on (1) resolution of the collaborative matter as evidenced by a signed writing [include if applicable: and entry of a final decree of divorce] or (2) termination of the collaborative process. A party may request a court to approve a resolution of all or part of the collaborative matter, as evidenced by a signed writing. Such a request, if made with the consent of the parties, does not conclude the collaborative process.

Termination of Collaborative Process

Participation in the collaborative process is voluntary, and any party has the unilateral right to terminate the process, with or without cause, at any time. Termination of the collaborative process occurs when (1) a party gives written notice to the other party that the process is ended, (2) a party begins a judicial proceeding related to the collaborative matter without the agreement of all parties, or (3) a party discharges a collaborative lawyer or a collaborative lawyer withdraws from further representation of a party. Notwithstanding the previous provision, the collaborative process can continue if, not later than thirty days after discharge or withdrawal of a collaborative lawyer, the unrepresented party engages a successor collaborative lawyer, the parties consent in writing to continue the process and amend this agreement to identify the successor collaborative lawyer, and the successor collaborative lawyer confirms in writing his or her representation of a party in the collaborative process.

Communication

We will effectively and honestly communicate with each other with the goal of efficiently and economically settling the terms of the dissolution of the marriage. All written and oral communications between us will be respectful and constructive, and we will not make accusations or claims not based in fact. We will make timely, full, candid, and informal disclosure of information related to the collaborative matter without formal discovery and will promptly update information that has materially changed.

Settlement meetings will be focused on economic [include if applicable: and parenting] issues and the constructive resolution of those issues. We will not engage in unnecessary discussions of past events.

In accordance with the Texas Family Code, we will maintain the confidentiality of all oral and written communications relating to this matter. All oral communication and written material used in or made a part of the collaborative law process will be admissible or discoverable only if admissible or discoverable independent of this process. This paragraph does not apply to reports of abuse or neglect required by law, agreed formal discovery, sworn documents prepared in this matter, a fully executed collaborative law settlement agreement, or evidence of fraud.

To maintain an objective and constructive process, we will discuss settlement of divorce issues with each other only in the settlement conference setting. We will not discuss these matters with each other outside the conference setting except as mutually agreed by us and our attorneys. We understand that, from time to time, the attorneys will meet together to plan agendas for settlement meetings, but no agreements will be made by the attorneys on our behalf without our consent.

Include the next three paragraphs if applicable.

We acknowledge that inappropriate communications regarding settlement of our divorce can be harmful to our minor child[ren]. Communication with the minor child[ren] regarding these issues will occur only as agreed by us and our attorneys. In resolving issues about sharing the enjoyment of and responsibility for the child[ren], we, the attorneys, and the therapists will make every effort to reach amicable solutions that promote the child[ren]'s best interests.

We will act quickly to mediate and resolve differences related to the child[ren] to promote a caring, loving, and involved relationship between the child[ren] and both parents. We will not seek a custody evaluation while the matter is a collaborative law case.

We will insulate the child[ren] from involvement in our disputes. We will attend [name of parent education course] [include if applicable: with the child[ren] in a county where the program is available] as soon as possible.

Continue with the following.

Wife's initials

We authorize the use of unencrypted e-mail, facsimile, or any other electronic communications to relay information and deliver documents in the collaborative law process. Joint communications of agendas, minutes, drafts of documents, and agreements may be sent simultaneously to us, the attorneys, and any experts or advisors.

Neutral Experts and Neutral Allied Professionals

If neutral experts or neutral allied professionals are needed, we will retain them jointly unless we agree otherwise in writing. They will be used for communication facilitation, settlement-option development, valuation, cash-flow analysis, tax issues, [include if applicable: parenting issues,] and any other issue that requires expert advice or recommendations. We will agree in advance how they will be paid.

Select one of the following.

Any such neutral expert or neutral allied professional may not be called by either of us as a witness, and their written materials prepared specifically for the collaborative law process are inadmissible if we fail to reach settlement through the collaborative law process unless we and the neutral expert or neutral allied professional agree otherwise in writing after the collaborative law process is terminated.

Or

If this matter becomes adversarial, any expert used in the collaborative law process may be called by either of us as a witness but may not be presented in court as a jointly hired neutral expert unless we agree otherwise in writing.

Include the following if applicable.

Husband's initials

Wife's initials

Either of us may use a consultant for assistance in gathering or organizing information as long as all such information gathered or organized by the consultant is made available to the other party as soon as it becomes available.

Continue with the following.

Information

We will deal with each other in good faith and will promptly provide all necessary and reasonable information requested. No formal discovery procedure will be used unless specifically agreed to in advance. [Include if applicable: We will be required to sign a sworn statement making full and fair disclosure of our income, assets, and debts (a sworn inventory and appraisal) unless we agree otherwise in writing.]

We acknowledge that, by using informal discovery, we are giving up certain investigative procedures and methods that would be available to us in the litigation process. We give up these measures with the specific understanding that we will make to each other a complete and accurate disclosure of all assets, income, debts, and other information necessary for us to reach a fair settlement. Participation in the collaborative law process is based on the assumptions that we have acted in good faith and that we have provided complete and accurate information to the best of our ability. [Include if applicable: We will make full disclosure of all material information concerning our children.] Refusal to be honest or failure to disclose such information shall be grounds for one or both collaborative attorneys' withdrawal from representation or termination of the collaborative law process.

Enforceability of Agreements

We may agree to the entry of temporary orders. On request of either party or as required by local rules, temporary mutual injunctions shall be submitted to the Court for entry.

Husband's initials

Wife's initials

If we require a temporary agreement for any purpose, the agreement will be put in writing and signed by us. [Include if applicable: If either party withdraws from the collaborative law process, the written agreement may be presented to the court as an agreement enforceable under rule 11 of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, which may become a court order and, if required by either party, shall be in the form of an agreed temporary order and entered by the court.] A collaborative attorney shall be permitted to present to the court a written agreement that is signed by both parties and the collaborative attorneys for entry of a temporary order.

We may agree in writing to the resolution of any or all issues presented by our case. Any written agreement that is signed by both parties and their collaborative attorneys may be filed with the court as a collaborative law settlement agreement in accordance with section 15.105 of the Texas Family Code or as a rule 11 agreement, which the court may make retroactive to the date of the written agreement and which may be made the basis of a court order.

We understand and agree that neither collaborative attorney shall be permitted to go to court to enforce any written agreements between us. Should a party seek to enforce any written agreement over the objection of the other party, we must withdraw from the collaborative law process. In such event, the collaborative attorneys shall withdraw as attorneys of record and, if required, shall consent to the substitution of trial counsel.

Legal Process

Attorneys: The attorneys do not represent both clients. While the respective attorneys are committed to negotiation in an atmosphere of honesty and integrity, neither party can look to the attorney representing [his or her/his/her] spouse to provide legal advice or information, and each attorney must continue to have an obligation to represent that attorney's client diligently and cannot be, or represent himself or herself to be, representing the legal interests of the other party.

Husband's initials

[Name of party A's attorney] DOES NOT REPRESENT [name of party B]. [Name of party B's attorney] DOES NOT REPRESENT [name of party A]. NOTHING IN THIS AGREEMENT SHOULD BE INTERPRETED AS OBLIGATING EITHER ATTORNEY TO VIOLATE HIS OR HER ETHICAL OBLIGATIONS TO REPRESENT HIS OR HER CLIENT'S BEST INTERESTS.

Court Proceedings: We understand that our attorneys' representation is limited to the collaborative law process and that neither attorney can ever represent one of us in court in a proceeding against the other spouse.

If the collaborative law process terminates, both attorneys will be disqualified from representing either client, and consultants will be disqualified as witnesses and the consultants' work product will be inadmissible as evidence unless we agree otherwise in writing.

Include the following paragraph if representing the client pro bono.

Notwithstanding the understandings in the previous paragraph, [[name of party A] has/[name of party B] has/we each have] an annual income that qualifies [her/him/each of us] for free legal representation under the criteria established by the law firm[s] with which [her/his/our respective] collaborative lawyer[s] [is/are] associated. [[Name of party A] authorizes/[name of party B] authorizes/we authorize] another lawyer in the law firm of the [respective] law firm[s] to represent [her/him/us] without a fee in the collaborative matter or a related matter, as long as the collaborative lawyer is isolated from participation in the matter through procedures within the law firm that are reasonably calculated to isolate the lawyer from participation.]

After this date, no motion or document will be prepared or filed without our agreement, other than a [joint petition for divorce/petition for divorce and an answer] [include if applicable: and mutual injunctions]. Service of citation will not be required. We will not seek judicial intervention during the collaborative law process, except for withdrawal or substitution of counsel or for the limited purpose of obtaining or defending an emergency order to protect the health, safety, welfare, or interest of a party or a member of the party's family, unless we agree otherwise.

Withdrawal from Collaborative Law Process: If one of us decides to withdraw from the collaborative law process, that party will give prompt written notice to the court, if appropriate, and to the other party through [his or her/his/her] attorney. On withdrawal from the collaborative law process there will be a thirty-day waiting period (unless there is an emergency) before any court hearing, to permit each of us to retain another attorney and make an orderly transition. All temporary agreements will remain in full force and effect during this period. The intent of this provision is to avoid surprise and prejudice to the rights of the other party. Either party may bring this provision to the attention of the court in requesting a postponement of a hearing.

Withdrawal of Counsel: If one of us chooses to withdraw from the collaborative law process by seeking court involvement, both attorneys shall immediately withdraw from the representation and notify the court that the collaborative law process has been terminated. Further, we understand that neither collaborative attorney (or any attorney associated in the practice of law with him or her) may serve as litigation counsel in this case thereafter. Both attorneys will cooperate in transferring the file to new counsel and are authorized to disclose information to prospective future counsel on their respective client's request. Nothing in this agreement will preclude the withdrawal of counsel for a party and substitution as counsel of another collaborative attorney, and such withdrawal and substitution will not terminate the collaborative law process.

Understandings

We understand there is no guarantee that the collaborative law process will be successful in resolving our case. We understand that the process cannot eliminate concerns about the disharmony, distrust, and irreconcilable differences that have led to our current conflict. We understand that we are still expected to assert our respective interests and that our respective attorneys will help each of us to do so.

We further understand that we should not lapse into a false sense of security that the process will protect each of us. We understand that, although our collaborative attorneys share a commitment to the process described in this agreement, each attorney has a professional duty to represent his or her own client diligently and is not the attorney for the other party.

Do not include the following paragraph if representing the client pro bono.

Attorney's Fees and Costs

We understand that our attorneys and consultants are entitled to be paid for their services, and the first task in a collaborative matter is to ensure payment to each of them and to make funds available for this purpose. We will make funds available from our community or separate estates, as needed, to pay these fees. We understand that, if necessary, one party may be asked to pay both attorneys' fees from community property managed solely by [him or her/him/her] (for example, [his or her/his/her] salary) or from that party's separate-property funds. To the extent possible, all attorney's fees and costs (including expert's fees) incurred by both parties shall be paid in full before entry of an agreed final decree of divorce.

Participation with Integrity

We will work to protect the privacy, respect, and dignity of all involved, including parties, attorneys, and consultants.

We will maintain a high standard of integrity. Specifically, we will not take advantage of each other or of the miscalculations or mistakes of others; instead, we will identify and correct them.

Acknowledgment

We acknowledge that we have read this agreement, understand its terms and conditions, and agree to abide by them. We acknowledge that we have chosen the collaborative process after discussing with our counsel the material benefits and risks of collaborative law as compared to the material benefits and risks of other reasonably available alternatives for resolving this matter. We understand that by agreeing to this alternative method of resolving the divorce issues, we are giving up certain rights, including the right to conduct formal discovery, the right to participate in formal court hearings, and other rights provided by the adversarial legal system.

Collaborative Law Settlement Agreement

1. Parties

The parties to this Collaborative Law Settlement Agreement are [name of party A] and [name of party B].

2. Scope of Agreement

The parties hereby agree to settle all claims and controversies between them, asserted or assertable, in this case except [specify].

The following provisions are examples only.

3. Real Estate

1. [[Name of party A]/[name of party B]] will own the property commonly known as [address, city], Texas, and will pay the remaining balance of the mortgage.

2. The property commonly known as [address, city], Texas, will be listed for sale with a real estate agent who is active in the area where the property is located. It will be sold for a price and on terms that are mutually agreeable to the parties. Until the closing of the sale—

- a. [[Name of party A]/[name of party B]] will have the exclusive use and possession of the property and will pay all utilities and keep the property maintained and in good repair;
- b. [[Name of party A]/[name of party B]] will pay the mortgage payments as they come due; and
- c. [[Name of party A]/[name of party B]] will pay the insurance premiums and ad valorem taxes as they come due.

On the sale, the net sales proceeds will be divided [percent] percent to [name of party A] and [percent] percent to [name of party B]. If, after [number] days after the divorce, the parties are unable to agree on a sales price or terms, then either party may apply to the Court for the appointment of a receiver to take possession of the property and sell it and, after the receiver's fee, to distribute the remaining proceeds in the proportions specified above.

3. [[Name of party A]/[name of party B]] will own the property commonly known as [address, city], Texas, and will pay [[name of party B]/[name of party A]] the sum of [number] dollars ($[amount]) in the following manner:

- a. The execution of a vendor's lien note in the principal sum of [number] dollars ($[amount]), bearing [percent] percent interest per year, payable over a period of [number] months, in equal installments of [number] dollars ($[amount]).
- b. The assumption of the remaining balance of the mortgage to [name of mortgagee].
- c. The execution of a deed of trust to secure the vendor's lien note described in (a.) above and the execution of a deed of trust to secure the assumption of the mortgage described in (b.) above.

4. Personal Property

1. [Name of party A] will own the property listed in Schedule A.
2. [Name of party B] will own the property listed in Schedule B.

5. Motor Vehicles

1. [Name of party A] will own the [specify] motor vehicle and will pay the remaining balance of any lien debt on it.
2. [Name of party B] will own the [specify] motor vehicle and will pay the remaining balance of any lien debt on it.

6. Money

1. [Name of party A] will receive the following bank accounts: [specify].
2. [Name of party B] will receive the following bank accounts: [specify].

7. Life Insurance

1. [Name of party A] will receive all policies of insurance on [her/his] life.
2. [Name of party B] will receive all policies of insurance on [his/her] life.

8. Retirement

[[Name of party A]/[name of party B]]'s retirement benefits at [employer] that have accrued through the date of divorce will be divided [percent] percent to [name of party A] and [percent] percent to [name of party B]. A QDRO will be submitted to the Court for entry that contains the following particulars regarding the division of benefits: [specify—see instruction box below].

All terms of the division should be included in the agreement; if they are not included, they are not awarded. See section 2.B.6. in form 23-6 in this manual. The language there presents examples only and must be modified for the actual division and different plan.

The following must be included:

- the full and accurate plan name (note that, for example, unless the participant works for Fidelity, “Fidelity 401(k)” is NOT the plan name);
- the precise method of division;
- the date of division (typically the date of the MSA or the divorce);
- all features (e.g., loans, survivor benefits) awarded; and
- who is responsible for the QDRO preparation and submission and all associated fees.

Special consideration for defined contribution plans: If gains and losses are not included, determine how to handle the shortfall if the amount available at segregation is less than the amount awarded. Will the QDRO award the alternate payee 100 percent of the account balance in this event? How will the deficiency be handled?

Special consideration for defined benefit plans: If the participant is already receiving a monthly benefit, will the participant have to pay the alternate payee the portion of the benefit between the date of divorce and the date the plan starts paying the alternate payee directly? If so, specify how, using enforceable language.

Repeat if applicable.

9. Spousal Maintenance

Parties should not include any provisions deviating from chapter 8 of the Family Code unless they want to exceed the amount of monthly spousal maintenance or the duration of spousal maintenance that a court may order without an agreement. Parties wanting to deviate from the termination grounds set forth in section 8.056 of the Family Code should use the alimony provisions instead, as that deviation may cause a court to find that the postdivorce support is not spousal maintenance, despite what the parties call it.

[[Name of party A]/[name of party B]] will pay spousal maintenance to [[name of party B]/[name of party A]] of [number] dollars ($[amount]) per month for [number] months, beginning on [date], with each payment being due and payable on the [day of month] of each month. The maintenance obligation will terminate earlier on the first occurrence of an event set forth in section 8.056 of the Texas Family Code.

The parties stipulate that under chapter 8 of the Texas Family Code, without an agreement of the parties, the maximum monthly spousal maintenance obligation the Court could order [[name of party A]/[name of party B]] to pay [[name of party B]/[name of party A]] is [number] dollars ($[amount]) and the maximum duration of a spousal maintenance obligation the Court could order [[name of party A]/[name of party B]] to pay [[name of party B]/[name of party A]] is [number] months. [Include if applicable: The parties understand that the Court may not enforce by contempt or income withholding any provision of an agreed order for maintenance that exceeds the amount of periodic support the Court could have ordered under chapter 8 of the Family Code or for any period of maintenance beyond the period of maintenance the Court could have ordered under that chapter.]

This spousal maintenance obligation will be governed by the provisions of chapter 8 of the Texas Family Code and may be modified, enforced, or terminated only in accordance with those provisions.

10. Alimony

Select one of the following.

[[Name of party A]/[name of party B]] will pay contractual alimony to [[name of party B]/[name of party A]] of [number] dollars ($[amount]) per month for [number] months, beginning on [date], with each payment being due and payable on the [day of month] of each month. The alimony obligation will terminate earlier on the occurrence of one of the following events:

Or

[[Name of party A]/[name of party B]] will pay contractual alimony to [[name of party B]/[name of party A]] of [number] dollars ($[amount]) per month until the earliest event set forth below, beginning on [date], with each payment being due and payable on the [day of month] of each month. The alimony obligation will terminate on the occurrence of one of the following events:

Continue with the following. The listed items are examples.

1. Death of [name of party A];
2. Death of [name of party B];
3. Remarriage of [[name of party A]/[name of party B]]; or
4. Cohabitation by [[name of party A]/[name of party B]] with another person with whom [[name of party A]/[name of party B]] has a dating or romantic relationship in a permanent place of abode on a continuing basis.

This alimony obligation is contractual in nature and will not be governed by the provisions of chapter 8 of the Texas Family Code and may not be modified, enforced, or terminated in accordance with those provisions.

11. Liabilities

1. [Name of party A] will pay the liabilities listed in Schedule C.
2. [Name of party B] will pay the liabilities listed in Schedule D.

12. Parenting Plan

The parties agree to the terms and provisions contained in the parenting plan required under Texas Family Code section 153.603, which is incorporated in this agreement as Exhibit [exhibit number/letter] attached to this agreement. [See form 16-1.]

13. Attorney's Fees and Costs

1. [Name of party A]'s attorney's fees will be paid by [[name of party A]/[name of party B]].
2. [Name of party B]'s attorney's fees will be paid by [[name of party A]/[name of party B]].
3. Costs will be paid by [[name of party A]/[name of party B]].

14. Other Provisions

The provisions of this Collaborative Law Settlement Agreement shall be effective immediately as a contract, shall supersede any temporary orders or other agreements of the parties with respect to the subject matter of this agreement, and shall serve as a partition of all property set forth in this agreement to the person to whom such property is awarded. All income from any property awarded in this agreement is partitioned to the person to whom the property is awarded. All earnings from each party are partitioned to the person providing the services giving rise to the earnings. These partitions are to be effective pursuant to section 4.102 of the Texas Family Code, and each party waives further disclosure of property and debts of the other pursuant to section 4.105 of the Texas Family Code.

The parties acknowledge that they each understand their right to have accountants, business and property evaluation specialists, appraisers, and other qualified people to further determine the nature and extent of their property and the property rights and values associated therewith, and their liabilities and amounts thereof, and to conduct discovery through sworn inventories and appraisements, depositions, interrogatories, requests for admissions, requests for document production, obtaining any appraisals, expert opinions, and expert reports, or any other judicial remedies available.

The parties each represent that they are sufficiently aware of the property and liabilities of the marital estate to make an informed decision regarding settlement [include if applicable: , and they waive their right to further determine the nature and extent of the property and liabilities of the marital estate and to conduct discovery].

[Specify any other provisions of agreement.]

15. Release

Each party releases the other from all claims, demands, and causes of action each may have against the other, save and except those covenants, duties, and obligations set forth in this agreement.

Include 16. if applicable.

16. Full Disclosure

Each party represents that [he or she/he/she] has made a fair and reasonable disclosure to the other of the property and financial obligations known to [him or her/him/her].

17. Final Documents

1. The terms of this agreement will be incorporated in a decree and agreement incident to divorce that will follow the forms published in the current edition of Texas Family Law Practice Manual. The attorney for [[name of party A]/[name of party B]] will prepare the documents.

2. Other closing documents will be prepared by the attorney for the party who will benefit thereby, with such documents to follow the forms published in the current edition of Texas Family Law Practice Manual.

18. Disputes Regarding This Agreement

If any dispute arises with regard to the interpretation or performance of this agreement or any of its provisions, including the necessity and form of closing documents, the parties agree to try to resolve the dispute by phone conference with the collaborative law attorneys who facilitated this settlement.

ANY DISPUTES ARISING FROM THE DRAFTING OF THE DECREE OR CLOSING DOCUMENTS OR THE INTERPRETATION AND CLARIFICATION OF THIS AGREEMENT THAT CANNOT BE RESOLVED BY PHONE CONFERENCE AS SET FORTH ABOVE SHALL BE DECIDED BY BINDING ARBITRATION WITH [name] SERVING AS ARBITRATOR. Parties and/or counsel agree to notify [name], in writing, of their request for [his/her] services at least seven days prior to a court entry date and will deposit an additional [number] dollars ($[amount]) per party toward the cost of those services before any arbitration services are rendered.

Any disputes regarding drafting shall be resolved whenever possible by reference to the current edition of Texas Family Law Practice Manual.

19. No Duress

Each party signing this Collaborative Law Settlement Agreement has entered into the settlement agreement freely and without duress.

20. Place of Performance

This agreement is made and is performable in [county] County, Texas, and must be construed in accordance with Texas law.

21. Court Appearance

Order Appointing Parenting Coordinator

[Include if applicable: On [date] the Court considered the Motion for Appointment of Parenting [Coordinator/Facilitator/Coordinator or Facilitator] of [name of movant].] The Court finds that [there is good cause shown and it is in the best interest of the child[ren] the subject of this suit that a parenting coordinator be appointed/this case is a high-conflict case].

Select one of the following.

Or

The Court further finds that [name] meets the requirements of section 153.610(b)(1) of the Texas Family Code and has sufficient [legal/[specify other professional]] training or experience in dispute resolution processes to serve as parenting coordinator, the Court waives the other requirements of section 153.610, and the parties have agreed to this waiver.

Continue with the following.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that [name] is appointed as parenting coordinator. All [counsel/parties] are ordered to [fax/mail] a copy of this order and the fully completed information sheet to [name, phone number, fax number, address, e-mail address] within [number] business days of the signing of this order to schedule the first appointment with the parenting coordinator.

The first parenting coordination session shall be scheduled within [number] days of the date of the signing of this order. If no agreed-upon date for the first parenting coordination session can be scheduled within [number] days, the parenting coordinator shall select a date within [number] days, and all parties shall appear as directed by the parenting coordinator. The duration of, frequency of, and parties in attendance at each parenting coordination session shall be left to the discretion of the parenting coordinator, who is specifically authorized to notify the Court if any party is failing to comply with the spirit and letter of this order or further order of the Court.

The parenting coordinator's duties are [specify]. The duties of the parenting coordinator are limited to matters that will aid the parties in the following: identifying disputed issues; reducing misunderstandings; clarifying priorities; exploring possibilities for problem solving; developing methods of collaboration in parenting; understanding parenting plans and reaching agreements about parenting issues to be included in a parenting plan; complying with the Court's order regarding conservatorship or possession of and access to the child[ren]; implementing parenting plans; obtaining training regarding problem solving, conflict management, and parenting skills; and settling disputes regarding parenting issues and reaching a proposed joint resolution or statement of intent regarding those disputes.

The appointment of a parenting coordinator does not divest the Court of its exclusive jurisdiction to determine issues of conservatorship, support, and possession of and access to the child[ren] or the authority to exercise management and control of the suit. Accordingly, the parenting coordinator may not modify any order, judgment, or decree.

IT IS ORDERED that the parenting coordinator shall comply with the Ethical Guidelines for Mediators as adopted by the Supreme Court of Texas (Misc. Docket No. 05-9107, June 13, 2005). [Include if applicable: IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the parenting coordinator shall sign a statement of agreement to comply with those guidelines and shall submit the statement to this Court on acceptance of this appointment.] Failure to comply with the guidelines will be grounds for removal of the parenting coordinator.

Include the following if applicable.

IT IS ORDERED that the following measures be taken to ensure the physical and emotional safety of [name of objecting party]: [list measures, which may include the following: IT IS ORDERED that the parties shall not have face-to-face contact and that the parties shall be placed in separate rooms during the parenting coordination].

And/Or

IT IS ORDERED that the fees of the parenting coordinator shall be paid [percent] percent by [name] and [percent] percent by [name]/by [name]. [Include if applicable: Each party is responsible for that party's defined portion of cost.] [Name]/Each party] is ordered to pay directly to the parenting coordinator the assigned fees according to the policies of the parenting coordinator. The Court reserves the right to order a reasonable fee for the parenting coordinator as a money judgment to be paid directly to the parenting coordinator, which judgment may be enforced by any means available under law for civil judgments.

Continue with the following.

IT IS ORDERED that the parenting coordinator shall submit a written report to the Court and to the parties and their attorneys every [number] [days/months] or as requested by the parties or the Court. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the report must be limited to a statement of whether the parenting coordination should continue.

Include the following if applicable.

IT IS ORDERED that [names of parties] shall attempt to settle [specify parenting issues] with the assistance of the parenting coordinator and shall attempt to reach a proposed joint resolution or statement of intent regarding that dispute.

IT IS ORDERED that the parenting coordinator shall submit a written report describing the parties' joint proposal or statement of intent regarding their dispute to the parties, any attorneys for the parties, and any attorney for [name[s] of child[ren]]. The parenting coordinator may not draft the proposal or statement.

Continue with the following.

Parenting coordination is private, confidential, and privileged, except as provided by applicable law. IT IS ORDERED that the parenting coordinator shall not be a witness, and the parenting coordinator's records may not be subpoenaed or used as evidence. Nothing in this order shall serve to release the parenting coordinator from the legal obligation to report child, elder, or disability abuse. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that no subpoenas, citations, writs, or other process shall be served at or near the location of any parenting coordination session on any person entering, leaving, or attending any parenting coordination session.

Referral to parenting coordination is not a substitute for trial, and the case may be tried if not settled or agreed to continue in parenting coordination or other intervention service. The Court shall remove the parenting coordinator on the request and agreement of all parties, on the request of the parenting coordinator, on the motion of a party if good cause is shown, or if the parenting coordinator ceases to satisfy the minimum qualifications required by section 153.610 of the Texas Family Code [include if applicable: except as waived in this order]. 1. Definition of Mediation. Mediation is a process in which an impartial person, the mediator, facilitates communication between the parties to promote reconciliation, settlement, or understanding among them. The mediator may suggest ways of resolving the dispute but may not impose the mediator's own judgment on the issues for that of the parties.

2. Agreement of Parties. Whenever the parties have agreed to mediation they shall be deemed to have made these rules, as amended and in effect as of the date of the submission of the dispute, a part of their agreement to mediate.

3. Consent to Mediator. The parties consent to the appointment of the individual named as mediator in their case. The mediator shall act as an advocate for resolution and shall use the mediator's best efforts to assist the parties in reaching a mutually acceptable settlement.

4. Conditions Precedent to Serving as Mediator. The mediator will serve only in cases in which the parties are represented by attorneys. The mediator shall not serve as a mediator in any dispute in which the mediator has any financial or personal interest in the result of the mediation. Before accepting an appointment, the mediator shall disclose any circumstance likely to create a presumption of bias or prevent a prompt meeting with the parties. If the parties disagree about whether the mediator shall serve, the mediator shall not serve.

5. Authority of Mediator. The mediator does not have authority to decide any issue for the parties but will attempt to facilitate the voluntary resolution of the dispute by the parties. The mediator is authorized to conduct joint and separate meetings with the parties and to offer suggestions to help the parties achieve settlement. If necessary, the mediator may also obtain expert advice concerning technical aspects of the dispute, provided that the parties agree and assume the expenses of obtaining the advice. Arrangements for obtaining such advice shall be made by the mediator or by the parties, as the mediator shall determine.

6. Commitment to Participate in Good Faith. While no one is asked to commit to settle the case in advance of mediation, all parties commit to participate in the proceedings in good faith with the intention to settle if at all possible.

7. Parties Responsible for Negotiating Their Own Settlement. The parties understand that the mediator will not and cannot impose a settlement in their case and agree that they are responsible for negotiating a settlement acceptable to them. The mediator, as an advocate for settlement, will use every effort to facilitate the negotiations of the parties. The mediator does not warrant or represent that settlement will result from the mediation process.

8. Authority to Settle. PARTIES MUST HAVE AUTHORITY TO SETTLE, AND ALL PERSONS NECESSARY TO THE DECISION TO SETTLE SHALL BE PRESENT.

9. Time and Place of Mediation. The mediator shall fix the time of each mediation session. The mediation shall be held at the office of the mediator or at any other convenient location agreeable to the mediator and the parties, as the mediator shall determine.

10. Identification of Matters in Dispute. Before the first scheduled mediation session, each party shall provide the mediator with a completed and signed information sheet and consent to mediation on the form furnished by the mediator, setting forth the party's position with regard to the issues that need to be resolved. At or before the first session, the parties will be expected to produce all information reasonably required for the mediator to understand the issues and dispute. The mediator may require any party to supplement the information.

11. Privacy. Mediation sessions are private. The parties and their attorneys must attend mediation sessions. Other persons may attend only with the permission of the parties and with the consent of the mediator.

12. Confidentiality. Confidential information disclosed to a mediator by the parties or by witnesses in the course of the mediation shall not be divulged by the mediator. In certain instances, applicable law may require disclosure of information revealed in the mediation process. For example, section 261.101 of the Texas Family Code may require a mediator to disclose child abuse or neglect to the appropriate authorities. If confidential information is disclosed that is required to be reported, the mediator will advise the parties that disclosure is required and will be made.

All records, reports, or other documents received by a mediator while serving in that capacity shall be confidential. The mediator shall not be compelled to divulge such records or to testify in regard to the mediation in any adversary proceeding or judicial forum. Any party who violates this agreement shall pay all fees and expenses of the mediator and other parties, including reasonable attorney's fees, incurred in opposing the efforts to compel testimony or records from the mediator.

The parties shall maintain the confidentiality of the mediation and shall not rely on or introduce as evidence in any arbitration, judicial, or other proceeding (a) views expressed or suggestions made by another party with respect to a possible settlement of the dispute; (b) admissions made by another party in the course of the mediation proceedings; (c) proposals made or views expressed by the mediator; or (d) the fact that another party had or had not indicated willingness to accept a proposal for settlement made by the mediator.

13. No Record of Session. There shall be no electronic or stenographic record of any session.

14. No Service of Process at or Near the Site of the Mediation Session. No subpoenas, summons, complaints, citations, writs, or other process may be served at or near the site of any mediation session on any person entering, attending, or leaving the session.

15. Termination of Mediation. The mediation shall be terminated (a) by the execution of a settlement agreement by the parties; (b) by declaration of the mediator to the effect that further efforts at mediation are no longer worthwhile; or (c) after the completion of one full mediation session, by a written declaration of a party or parties to the effect that the mediation proceedings are terminated.

16. Exclusion of Liability. The mediator is not a necessary or proper party in judicial proceedings relating to the mediation. Neither the mediator nor any law firm employing the mediator shall be liable to any party for any act or omission in connection with any mediation conducted under these rules.

17. Interpretation and Application of Rules. The mediator shall interpret and apply these rules.

18. Fees and Expenses. The mediator's daily fee shall be agreed on before mediation and shall be paid in advance of each mediation day. The expenses of witnesses for either side shall be paid by the party producing the witnesses. All other expenses of the mediation, including fees and expenses of the mediator and the expenses of any witness and the cost of any proofs or expert advice produced at the direct request of the mediator, shall be borne equally by the parties unless they agree otherwise.

Form 18-15

ETHICAL GUIDELINES FOR MEDIATORS

PREAMBLE

These Ethical Guidelines are intended to promote public confidence in the mediation process and to be a general guide for mediator conduct. They are not intended to be disciplinary rules or a code of conduct. Mediators should be responsible to the parties, the courts and the public, and should conduct themselves accordingly. These Ethical Guidelines are intended to apply to mediators conducting mediations in connection with all civil, criminal, administrative and appellate matters, whether the mediation is pre-suit or court-annexed and whether the mediation is court-ordered or voluntary.

GUIDELINES

1. Mediation Defined. Mediation is a private process in which an impartial person, a mediator, encourages and facilitates communications between parties to a conflict and strives to promote reconciliation, settlement, or understanding. A mediator should not render a decision on the issues in dispute. The primary responsibility for the resolution of a dispute rests with the parties.

Comment. A mediator's obligation is to assist the parties in reaching a voluntary settlement. The mediator should not coerce a party in anyway. A mediator may make suggestions, but all settlement decisions are to be made voluntarily by the parties themselves.

2. Mediator Conduct. A mediator should protect the integrity and confidentiality of the mediation process. The duty to protect the integrity and confidentiality of the mediation process commences with the first communication to the mediator, is continuous in nature, and does not terminate upon the conclusion of the mediation.

Comment (a). A mediator should not use information obtained during the mediation for personal gain or advantage.

Comment (b). The interests of the parties should always be placed above the personal interests of the mediator.

Comment (c). A mediator should not accept mediations which cannot be completed in a timely manner or as directed by a court.

Comment (d). Although a mediator may advertise the mediator's qualifications and availability to mediate, the mediator should not solicit a specific case or matter.

Comment (e). A mediator should not mediate a dispute when the mediator has knowledge that another mediator has been appointed or selected without first consulting with the other mediator or the parties unless the previous mediation has been concluded.

Comment (f). A mediator should not simultaneously conduct more than one mediation session unless all parties agree to do so.

3. Mediation Costs. As early as practical, and before the mediation session begins, a mediator should explain all fees and other expenses to be charged for the mediation. A mediator should not charge a contingent fee or a fee based upon the outcome of the mediation. In appropriate cases, a mediator should perform mediation services at a reduced fee or without compensation.

Comment (a). A mediator should avoid the appearance of impropriety in regard to possible negative perceptions regarding the amount of the mediator's fee in court-ordered mediations.

Comment (b). If a party and the mediator have a dispute that cannot be resolved before commencement of the mediation as to the mediator's fee, the mediator should decline to serve so that the parties may obtain another mediator.

4. Disclosure of Possible Conflicts. Prior to commencing the mediation, the mediator should make full disclosure of any interest the mediator has in the subject matter of the dispute and of any known relationships with the parties or their counsel that may affect or give the appearance of affecting the mediator's neutrality. A mediator should not serve in the matter if a party makes an objection to the mediator based upon a conflict or perceived conflict.

Comment (a). A mediator should withdraw from a mediation if it is inappropriate to serve.

Comment (b). If after commencement of the mediation the mediator discovers that such a relationship exists, the mediator should make full disclosure as soon as practicable.

5. Mediator Qualifications. A mediator should inform the participants of the mediator's qualifications and experience.

Comment. A mediator's qualifications and experience constitute the foundation upon which the mediation process depends; therefore, if there is any objection to the mediator's qualifications to mediate the dispute, the mediator should withdraw from the mediation. Likewise, the mediator should decline to serve if the mediator feels unqualified to do so.

6. The Mediation Process. A mediator should inform and discuss with the participants the rules and procedures pertaining to the mediation process.

Comment (a). A mediator should inform the parties about the mediation process no later than the opening session.

Comment (b). At a minimum, the mediator should inform the parties of the following: (1) the mediation is private (Unless otherwise agreed by the participants, only the mediator, the parties and their representatives are allowed to attend.); (2) the mediation is informal (There are no court reporters present, no record is made of the proceedings, no subpoena or other service of process is allowed, and no rulings are made on the issues or the merits of the case.); and (3) the mediation is confidential to the extent provided by law. (See, e.g., §§154.053 and 154.073, Tex. Civ. Prac. & Rem. Code.)

7. Convening the Mediation. Unless the parties agree otherwise, the mediator should not convene a mediation session unless all parties and their representatives ordered by the court have appeared, corporate parties are represented by officers or agents who have represented to the mediator that they possess adequate authority to negotiate a settlement, and an adequate amount of time has been reserved by all parties to the mediation to allow the mediation process to be productive.

Comment. A mediator should not convene the mediation if the mediator has reason to believe that a pro se party fails to understand that the mediator is not providing legal representation for the pro se party. In connection with pro se parties, see also Guidelines # 9, 11 and 13 and associated comments below.

8. Confidentiality. A mediator should not reveal information made available in the mediation process, which information is privileged and confidential, unless the affected parties agree otherwise or as may be required bylaw.

Comment (a). A mediator should not permit recordings or transcripts to be made of mediation proceedings.

Comment (b). A mediator should maintain confidentiality in the storage and disposal of records and should render anonymous all identifying information when materials are used for research, educational or other informational purposes.

Comment (c). Unless authorized by the disclosing party, a mediator should not disclose to the other parties information given in confidence by the disclosing party and should maintain confidentiality with respect to communications relating to the subject matter of the dispute. The mediator should report to the court whether or not the mediation occurred, and that the mediation either resulted in a settlement or an impasse, or that the mediation was either recessed or rescheduled.

Comment (d). In certain instances, applicable law may require disclosure of information revealed in the mediation process. For example, the Texas Family Code may require a mediator to disclose child abuse or neglect to the appropriate authorities. If confidential information is disclosed, the mediator should advise the parties that disclosure is required and will be made.

9. Impartiality. A mediator should be impartial toward all parties.

Comment. If a mediator or the parties find that the mediator's impartiality has been compromised, the mediator should offer to withdraw from the mediation process. Impartiality means freedom from favoritism or bias in word, action, and appearance; it implies a commitment to aid all parties in reaching a settlement.

10. Disclosure and Exchange of Information. A mediator should encourage the disclosure of information and should assist the parties in considering the benefits, risks, and the alternatives available to them.

Comment. A mediator should not knowingly misrepresent any material fact or circumstance in the course of mediation.

11. Professional Advice. A mediator should not give legal or other professional advice to the parties.

Comment (a). In appropriate circumstances, a mediator should encourage the parties to seek legal, financial, tax or other professional advice before, during or after the mediation process. Comment (b). A mediator should explain generally to pro se parties that there may be risks in proceeding without independent counsel or other professional advisors.

12. No Judicial Action Taken. A person serving as a mediator generally should not subsequently serve as a judge, master, guardian ad litem, or in any other judicial or quasi-judicial capacity in matters that are the subject of the mediation.

Comment. It is generally inappropriate for a mediator to serve in a judicial or quasi-judicial capacity in a matter in which the mediator has had communications with one or more parties without all other parties present. For example, an attorney-mediator who has served as a mediator in a pending litigation should not subsequently serve in the same case as a special master, guardian ad litem, or in any other judicial or quasi-judicial capacity with binding decision-making authority. Notwithstanding the foregoing, where an impasse has been declared at the conclusion of a mediation, the mediator if requested and agreed to by all parties, may serve as the arbitrator in a binding arbitration of the dispute, or as a third-party neutral in any other alternative dispute proceeding, so long as the mediator believes nothing learned during private conferences with any party to the mediation will bias the mediator or will unfairly influence the mediator's decisions while acting in the mediator's subsequent capacity.

13. Termination of Mediation Session. A mediator should postpone, recess, or terminate the mediation process if it is apparent to the mediator that the case is inappropriate for mediation or one or more of the parties is unwilling or unable to participate meaningfully in the mediation process.

14. Agreements in Writing. A mediator should encourage the parties to reduce all settlement agreements to writing.

15. Mediator's Relationship with the Judiciary. A mediator should avoid the appearance of impropriety in the mediator's relationship with a member of the judiciary or the court staff with regard to appointments or referrals to mediation.

Mediated Settlement Agreement*1. Parties*

The parties to this Mediated Settlement Agreement are [name of party A] and [name of party B].

2. Scope of Agreement

The parties agree to settle all claims and controversies between them, asserted or assertable, in this case except [specify].

The following provisions are examples only.

3. Real Estate

1. [[Name of party A]/[name of party B]] will own the property commonly known as [address, city], Texas, and will pay the remaining balance of the mortgage.

2. The property commonly known as [address, city], Texas, will be listed for sale with a real estate agent who is active in the area where the property is located. It will be sold for a price and on terms that are mutually agreeable to the parties. Until the closing of the sale—

- a. [[Name of party A]/[name of party B]] will have the exclusive use and possession of the property and will pay all utilities and keep the property maintained and in good repair;
- b. [[Name of party A]/[name of party B]] will pay the mortgage payments as they come due; and
- c. [[Name of party A]/[name of party B]] will pay the insurance premiums and ad valorem taxes as they come due.

On the sale, the net sales proceeds will be divided [percent] percent to [name of party A] and [percent] percent to [name of party B]. If, after [number] days after the divorce, the parties are unable to agree on a sales price or terms, then either party may apply to the Court for the appointment of a receiver to take possession of the property and sell it and, after the receiver's fee, to distribute the remaining proceeds in the proportions specified above.

3. [[Name of party A]/[name of party B]] will own the property commonly known as [address, city], Texas, and will pay [[name of party B]/[name of party A]] the sum of [number] dollars ($[amount]) in the following manner:

- a. The execution of a vendor's lien note in the principal sum of [number] dollars ($[amount]), bearing [percent] percent interest per year, payable over a period of [number] months, in equal installments of [number] dollars ($[amount]).
- b. The assumption of the remaining balance of the mortgage to [name of mortgagee].

- c. The execution of a deed of trust to secure the vendor's lien note described in (a.) above and the execution of a deed of trust to secure the assumption of the mortgage described in (b.) above.

4. Personal Property

1. [Name of party A] will own the property listed in Schedule A.
2. [Name of party B] will own the property listed in Schedule B.

5. Motor Vehicles

1. [Name of party A] will own the [specify] motor vehicle and will pay the remaining balance of any lien debt on it.
2. [Name of party B] will own the [specify] motor vehicle and will pay the remaining balance of any lien debt on it.

6. Money

1. [Name of party A] will receive the following bank accounts: [specify].
2. [Name of party B] will receive the following bank accounts: [specify].

7. Life Insurance

1. [Name of party A] will receive all policies of insurance on [her/his] life.
2. [Name of party B] will receive all policies of insurance on [his/her] life.

8. Retirement

[[Name of party A]/[name of party B]]'s retirement benefits at [employer] that have accrued through the date of divorce will be divided [percent] percent to [name of party A] and

[percent] percent to [name of party B]. A QDRO will be submitted to the Court for entry that contains the following particulars regarding the division of benefits: [specify—see instruction box below].

All terms of the division should be included in the agreement; if they are not included, they are not awarded. See section 2.B.6. in form 23-6 in this manual. The language there presents examples only and must be modified for the actual division and different plan.

The following must be included:

- the full and accurate plan name (note that, for example, unless the participant works for Fidelity, “Fidelity 401(k)” is NOT the plan name);
- the precise method of division;
- the date of division (typically the date of the MSA or the divorce);
- all features (e.g., loans, survivor benefits) awarded; and
- who is responsible for the QDRO preparation and submission and all associated fees.

Special consideration for defined contribution plans: If gains and losses are not included, determine how to handle the shortfall if the amount available at segregation is less than the amount awarded. Will the QDRO award the alternate payee 100 percent of the account balance in this event? How will the deficiency be handled?

Special consideration for defined benefit plans: If the participant is already receiving a monthly benefit, will the participant have to pay the alternate payee the portion of the benefit between the date of divorce and the date the plan starts paying the alternate payee directly? If so, specify how, using enforceable language.

Repeat if applicable.

9. Spousal Maintenance

Parties should not include any provisions deviating from chapter 8 of the Family Code unless they want to exceed the amount of monthly spousal maintenance or the duration of spousal maintenance that a court may order without an agreement. Parties wanting to deviate from the termination grounds set forth in section 8.056 of the Family Code should use the alimony provisions instead, as that deviation may cause a court to find that the postdivorce support is not spousal maintenance, despite what the parties call it.

[[Name of party A]/[name of party B]] will pay spousal maintenance to [[name of party B]/[name of party A]] of [number] dollars ($[amount]) per month for [number] months, beginning on [date], with each payment being due and payable on the [day of month] of each month. The maintenance obligation will terminate earlier on the first occurrence of an event set forth in section 8.056 of the Texas Family Code.

The parties stipulate that under chapter 8 of the Texas Family Code, without an agreement of the parties, the maximum monthly spousal maintenance obligation the Court could order [[name of party A]/[name of party B]] to pay [[name of party B]/[name of party A]] is [number] dollars ($[amount]) and the maximum duration of a spousal maintenance obligation the Court could order [[name of party A]/[name of party B]] to pay [[name of party B]/[name of party A]] is [number] months. [Include if applicable: The parties understand that the Court may not enforce by contempt or income withholding any provision of an agreed order for maintenance that exceeds the amount of periodic support the Court could have ordered under chapter 8 of the Family Code or for any period of maintenance beyond the period of maintenance the Court could have ordered under that chapter.]

This spousal maintenance obligation will be governed by the provisions of chapter 8 of the Texas Family Code and may be modified, enforced, or terminated only in accordance with those provisions.

10. Alimony

Select one of the following.

[[Name of party A]/[name of party B]] will pay contractual alimony to [[name of party B]/[name of party A]] of [number] dollars ($[amount]) per month for [number] months, beginning on [date], with each payment being due and payable on the [day of month] of each month. The alimony obligation will terminate earlier on the occurrence of one of the following events:

Or

[[Name of party A]/[name of party B]] will pay contractual alimony to [[name of party B]/[name of party A]] of [number] dollars ($[amount]) per month until the earliest event set forth below, beginning on [date], with each payment being due and payable on the [day of month] of each month. The alimony obligation will terminate on the occurrence of one of the following events:

Continue with the following. The listed items are examples.

1. Death of [name of party A];
2. Death of [name of party B];
3. Remarriage of [[name of party A]/[name of party B]]; or
4. Cohabitation by [[name of party A]/[name of party B]] with another person with whom [[name of party A]/[name of party B]] has a dating or romantic relationship in a permanent place of abode on a continuing basis.

This alimony obligation is contractual in nature and will not be governed by the provisions of chapter 8 of the Texas Family Code and may not be modified, enforced, or terminated in accordance with those provisions.

11. Liabilities

1. [Name of party A] will pay the liabilities listed in Schedule C.
2. [Name of party B] will pay the liabilities listed in Schedule D.

12. Parenting Plan

The parties agree to the terms and provisions contained in the parenting plan required under Texas Family Code section 153.603, which is incorporated in this agreement as Exhibit [exhibit number/letter] attached to this agreement. [See form 16-1.]

13. Attorney's Fees and Costs

1. [Name of party A]'s attorney's fees will be paid by [[name of party A]/[name of party B]].
2. [Name of party B]'s attorney's fees will be paid by [[name of party A]/[name of party B]].
3. Costs will be paid by [[name of party A]/[name of party B]].

14. Other Provisions

The provisions of this Mediated Settlement Agreement shall be effective immediately as a contract, shall supersede any temporary orders or other agreements of the parties with respect to the subject matter of this agreement, and shall serve as a partition of all property set forth in this agreement to the person to whom such property is awarded. All income from any property awarded in this agreement is partitioned to the person to whom the property is awarded. All earnings from each party are partitioned to the person providing the services giving rise to the earnings. These partitions are to be effective pursuant to section 4.102 of the Texas Family Code, and each party waives further disclosure of property and debts of the other pursuant to section 4.105 of the Texas Family Code.

The parties acknowledge that they each understand their right to have accountants, business and property evaluation specialists, appraisers, and other qualified people to further determine the nature and extent of their property and the property rights and values associated therewith, and their liabilities and amounts thereof, and to conduct discovery through sworn inventories and appraisements, depositions, interrogatories, requests for admissions, requests for document production, obtaining any appraisals, expert opinions, and expert reports, or any other judicial remedies available.

The parties each represent that they are sufficiently aware of the property and liabilities of the marital estate to make an informed decision regarding settlement [include if applicable: , and they waive their right to further determine the nature and extent of the property and liabilities of the marital estate and to conduct discovery].

The discovery obligations of each party shall immediately cease on the execution of this Mediated Settlement Agreement, including the requirement for either party to respond to outstanding discovery requests or supplement any discovery responses.

[Specify any other provisions of agreement.]

15. Release

Each party releases the other from all claims, demands, and causes of action each may have against the other, save and except those covenants, duties, and obligations set forth in this agreement.

Include 16. if applicable.

16. Full Disclosure

Each party represents that [he or she/he/she] has made a fair and reasonable disclosure to the other of the property and financial obligations known to [him or her/him/her].

17. Final Documents

1. The terms of this agreement will be incorporated in a decree and agreement incident to divorce that will follow the forms published in the current edition of Texas Family Law Practice Manual. The attorney for [[name of party A]/[name of party B]] will prepare the documents.

2. Other closing documents will be prepared by the attorney for the party who will benefit thereby, with such documents to follow the forms published in the current edition of Texas Family Law Practice Manual.

18. Disputes Regarding This Agreement

If any dispute arises with regard to the interpretation or performance of this agreement or any of its provisions, including the necessity and form of closing documents, the parties agree to try to resolve the dispute by phone conference with the mediator who facilitated this settlement.

ANY DISPUTES ARISING FROM THE DRAFTING OF THE DECREE OR CLOSING DOCUMENTS OR THE INTERPRETATION AND CLARIFICATION OF THIS AGREEMENT THAT CANNOT BE RESOLVED BY PHONE CONFERENCE AS SET FORTH ABOVE SHALL BE DECIDED BY BINDING ARBITRATION WITH [name] SERVING AS ARBITRATOR. Parties and/or counsel agree to notify [name], in writing, of their request for [his/her] services at least seven days prior to a court entry date and will deposit an additional [number] dollars ($[amount]) per party toward the cost of those services before any arbitration services are rendered.

Any disputes regarding drafting shall be resolved whenever possible by reference to the current edition of Texas Family Law Practice Manual.

19. Representation

Each party signing this Mediated Settlement Agreement has entered into the settlement agreement freely and without duress.

[Name of party A] has [consulted with an attorney of [his/her] choice/had the opportunity to consult with an attorney of [his/her] choice but has declined to do so]. [Name of party B] has [consulted with an attorney of [his/her] choice/had the opportunity to consult with an attorney of [his/her] choice but has declined to do so].

Each party has been advised by the mediator that the mediator is not the attorney for any party and that each party should have this agreement approved by that party's attorney before executing it.

20. Place of Performance

This agreement is made and is performable in [county] County, Texas, and must be construed in accordance with Texas law.

21. Court Appearance

Forms 18-21 through 18-30 are reserved.

Form 18-31

This form is to be used to enforce a prior agreement to arbitrate. If the case is already pending, the pleading would be a motion and the filing party a movant. If there is not a pending action, the pleading would be a petition and the filing party a petitioner. For a response based on Tex. Fam. Code § 6.6015 or § 153.00715, see form 18-32.

Include the following notice if this is a petition, if a minor is named in the caption, or if the document contains other unredacted sensitive data. See § 6 of the Introduction in volume 1 of this manual concerning protection of sensitive data in filed documents.

[Petition/Motion] to Compel Arbitration

[Name of petitioner or movant], [Petitioner/Movant], requests the Court to compel arbitration by enforcing the prior agreement of the parties to arbitrate disputes. In support, [Petitioner/Movant] shows:

Include the following paragraphs 1. and 2. only in a petition.

1. Discovery in this case is intended to be conducted under [level 2/level 3] of rule 190 of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure. If level 3, see form [5-1.]

2. [The last three numbers of [name of petitioner]'s driver's license number are [numbers]./[Name of petitioner] has not been issued a driver's license.] [The last three numbers of [name of petitioner]'s Social Security number are [numbers]./[Name of petitioner] has not been issued a Social Security number.]

3. Movant is the [petitioner/respondent] in this case. [Name of respondent] is the [respondent/petitioner].

Select one of the following only for a petition.

3. Respondent, [name of respondent], should be served with process [include if applicable: at [address, city, state, zip code]].

Or

3. No service on [name of respondent], Respondent, is necessary at this time.

Continue with the following.

4. The parties previously agreed to arbitrate future disputes as set forth in language contained in the parties' [Premarital Agreement/Postnuptial Agreement/Agreement Incident to Divorce/Agreed Decree of Divorce], attached to this [petition/motion] as Exhibit [exhibit number/letter], executed on [date]. This document requires arbitration of future disputes and states in part as follows: [quote applicable provisions].

A controversy under this document has arisen related to the following issues: [specify]. The controversy has not been resolved by the parties and therefore should be submitted to arbitration.

[Name of respondent] has refused to submit the disputed issues to arbitration in accordance with the terms of the document described above. Therefore, this Court should compel [name of respondent] to arbitrate. The document in which the parties agreed to arbitrate future disputes requires the arbitration to be [binding/nonbinding].

Arbitration is in keeping with the Texas policy to encourage the peaceable resolution of disputes and early settlement of pending litigation through voluntary settlement procedures, as stated in section 154.002 of the Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code.

If this case proceeds to trial, substantial additional time and expense will be incurred. A full trial of the case is likely to be unnecessarily burdensome for all involved. A decision should be rendered in arbitration, thereby preserving substantial amounts of money that would otherwise be spent on attorney's fees and costs of trial.

5. [Name of petitioner or movant] requests that the Court order the parties to participate in the arbitration in good faith, that the Court order payment of attorney's fees, and that the costs of arbitration be levied against any party who does not cooperate in the arbitration.

6. It was necessary to secure the services of [name], a licensed attorney, to preserve and protect the rights of [name of petitioner or movant] [include if applicable: and preserve the best interests of the child[ren]]. [Name of respondent] should be ordered to pay reasonable attorney's fees, expenses, and costs through trial, and a judgment should be rendered in favor of this attorney and against [name of respondent]; or, in the alternative, [name of petitioner or movant] requests that reasonable attorney's fees, expenses, and costs through trial be taxed as costs and be ordered paid directly to [name of petitioner or movant]'s attorney, who may enforce the order in the attorney's own name. In addition, [name of petitioner or movant] requests that, if an appeal or application for writ of mandamus results from this motion, [name] be awarded further judgment against [name of respondent] for attorney's fees incurred thereby, or alternatively that the additional fees be taxed as costs and ordered paid directly to the attorney.

7. [Name of petitioner or movant] prays that the Court order arbitration procedures according to the terms and provisions of the parties' [Premarital Agreement/Postnuptial Agreement/Agreement Incident to Divorce/Agreed Decree of Divorce] executed on [date] and direct the parties to participate in the arbitration in good faith. [Name of petitioner or movant] prays that attorney's fees and costs of arbitration be levied as requested above. [Include if applicable: Petitioner prays that citation and notice issue as required by law.] [Name of petitioner or movant] prays for general relief.

Re: [style and cause number of case]

[Salutation]

In response to your inquiry about my availability to serve as arbitrator, I suggest that we meet in my office at a mutually agreeable time and have a preliminary conference about the parties and the nature of the case. This discussion will enable us to set the rules and procedures for arbitration and to determine whether there is any present or potential disqualification for me to serve as arbitrator.

Arrangements concerning my fees and disbursements should be made and agreed on before the employment begins. To that end, I am enclosing the Arbitrator's Fees and Disbursements Agreement that establishes the terms and conditions for my compensation if you and your clients decide to employ me. If the terms and conditions are acceptable to you and your clients, please have your clients sign the agreement and tender their respective checks for the appropriate retainer.

For preliminary information to your clients, I am also attaching a copy of my resume.

If the fee contract is approved and signed by your clients, it will be incorporated as an integral part of the Family Law Arbitration Agreement.

I will contact you to set the date of our preliminary meeting.

Sincerely yours,

The parties agree to pay the arbitrator [number] dollars ([$amount]) per hour, to pay the arbitrator's assistant [$amount] per hour, and to pay all out-of-pocket expenses.

A retainer of [number] dollars ([$amount]) will be paid to the arbitrator to cover the estimated time and the arbitrator's anticipated out-of-pocket expenses. If the case is settled or terminated for any reason, the arbitrator will be paid for the arbitrator's time and expenses incurred. The balance of the retainer, if any, will be refunded to the parties in proportion to their contributions. If the case is settled or terminated for any reason before the arbitrator renders a decision, the arbitrator will retain the greater sum of [number] dollars ([$amount]) per day or partial day, for time actually expended, or a minimum of [number] dollars ([$amount]), plus actual expenses incurred, from the retainer deposit and will return the balance, if any, to the party or parties making the deposit in proportion to their contributions.

Unless otherwise agreed in writing, each party executing this agreement is jointly and severally liable for any unpaid arbitrator's fees and expenses not covered by the retainer. Allocation of ultimate fees and expenses will be set out in the arbitration decision and award.

If the initial retainer is exhausted before conclusion of the arbitration or rendition of the decision and award, it is agreed that an additional retainer will be paid on notice by the arbitrator to the attorneys for the parties. The parties understand and agree that the arbitrator is to be paid for all services and expenses before the arbitrator incurs them. At the arbitrator's sole election, the proceeding may be postponed until the additional retainer is deposited with the arbitrator.

Family Law Arbitration Rules

Scope and application of rules: If there is any conflict among these rules, the parties' arbitration agreement, and the applicable state arbitration statutes, the parties' arbitration agreement shall control.

1. Definitions

- a. Final and Binding Arbitration. The hearing and determination of one or more issues in a family law case or controversy by an arbitrator instead of a judge. The arbitrator's award, unless modified by the court, is final and binding. The term award may be used interchangeably with the term decision if the context requires.
- b. Arbitrator(s). An attorney certified as a family law arbitrator or a panel, with at least one attorney certified as a family law arbitrator, chosen by the parties to conduct the hearing and determination of a family law case or controversy.
- c. Family Law Arbitration Agreement. A written contract between the parties that meets the criteria in section 2.b. of these rules.
- d. Disputed Issues. Issues that the parties cannot agree on between themselves that are material to resolution of the family law case or controversy.
- e. Award. The document containing the findings of fact, conclusions, and award of the arbitrator.
- f. Subpoena. A document requiring someone to appear at a hearing.

- g. Subpoena Duces Tecum. A document requiring someone to appear at a hearing and to bring certain papers or records to the hearing.
- h. Day. If the last day by which an act in these proceedings must be accomplished falls on a weekend or a holiday, the act shall be accomplished on the next regular working day.

2. Commencement of Procedures

- a. Subject of Arbitration. Arbitration in a family law case shall begin with the execution of a Family Law Arbitration Agreement between the parties and their attorneys or by a demand for arbitration provided for in a premarital, marital, or divorce agreement between the parties. Except for the issue of granting a divorce, any matters arising from a family law case, as well as postjudgment matters involving modification or revision of judgment, may be submitted to arbitration. The arbitrator can decide only the issues that are specifically identified in the Family Law Arbitration Agreement or covered by the premarital, marital, or divorce agreement.
- b. Terms of Agreement. The Family Law Arbitration Agreement is a written contract that must contain at least the following:
 - i. A provision that the proceedings shall be in accordance with the provisions of the Texas Alternative Dispute Resolution Procedures Act (chapter 154 of the Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code); the Texas General Arbitration Law (chapter 171 of the Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code); applicable provisions of the Texas Family Code, including but not limited to sections 6.601 and 153.0071(a) and (b); and the laws of the state of Texas.

- ii. A provision that the proceedings shall be governed by these rules.
 - iii. A provision regarding whether a record is to be made of the proceedings.
 - iv. A specific statement of each disputed issue to be decided by arbitration.
If arbitration is demanded by one party under the terms of a premarital, marital, or divorce agreement, a copy of the agreement shall be attached to the arbitration demand.
 - v. Notice that there are limited statutory rights to change, vacate, and modify the award under Texas law.
- c. Time of Arbitration. The arbitration process may occur before or after the family law action is filed, at a time agreed to by the arbitrator and the parties.
- d. Continuances. Except by stipulation of the parties or for good cause shown, no continuances or postponements of the date initially set for hearing shall be granted by the arbitrator. If one of the parties fails to appear for the hearing(s), the arbitrator may proceed to determine the controversy. However, this provision does not prevent the arbitrator from granting adjournments that in his or her judgment may be required to permit a full and fair presentation of all material facts to facilitate resolution of the issues presented.
- e. Qualification of Arbitrator. Any arbitrator appointed under these rules shall be neutral and impartial. The arbitrator shall disclose to the parties any circumstance likely to affect impartiality, including any bias or financial or personal interest in the result of the arbitration and any past or present business or professional relationship with the parties or their counsel. The arbitrator will conduct the proceedings with dignity and fairness. The arbitrator's communication with the parties and with their attorneys shall avoid any appearance of impropriety.

Any attorney serving as an arbitrator hearing a family law case (except a panel where there shall be at least one attorney) shall be an attorney certified as a family law arbitrator, licensed to practice law in the state of Texas, or have prior judicial experience in determining family law matters. In controversies involving a single issue requiring special expertise, the parties may stipulate to arbitration of that limited issue by a nonattorney expert.

- f. Arbitrator's Fees and Costs. As part of the Family Law Arbitration Agreement, the parties and the arbitrator shall agree in writing on reasonable fees and costs and on an amount to be paid in advance and credited against fees and costs incurred. How the arbitrator's fees are to be paid, and by whom, shall be agreed in advance by the parties. The arbitrator may assess fees or costs against a party or counsel obtaining a continuance or adjournment or failing to comply with these rules.
- g. Representation by Counsel. Any party may be represented by counsel. A party intending to be represented shall notify the other party and the arbitrator of the name and address of counsel. Counsel shall personally notify the arbitrator and the opposing party or counsel immediately on undertaking representation in a pending arbitration proceeding.

3. Discovery and Prehearing Procedures

- a. Prehearing Conference with Arbitrator. The parties or their attorneys shall confer with the arbitrator and each other as soon as practicable after the arbitrator's selection to consider and establish all the following matters:

- i. The scope and extent of the issues submitted.
 - ii. The time, date, and place for the hearing.
 - iii. The experts, if any, who will testify and a schedule for exchange of reports of all experts, or a summary of testimony of all expert witnesses, unless the expert's deposition has already been taken. The parties may notify the arbitrator before the hearing that by agreement the report of an expert may be considered by the arbitrator without cross-examination; in that case, the expert need not testify.
 - iv. Any witnesses other than the parties who are to be called, their full addresses and phone numbers, and a brief statement of the expected testimony.
 - v. All exhibits or documents each party considers material to his or her case in chief and a reasonable schedule for production and/or exchange of those items.
- b. Discovery
- i. Each party is entitled to reasonable access to information in the possession of the other party that is material to resolution of the issue(s) submitted. Reciprocal exchange of information is essential to orderly resolution of the proceedings. Therefore the parties are required to exchange the documents and information that the arbitrator establishes at a prehearing conference and that are required by rule 3.c.
 - ii. All discovery shall be completed before the date of the hearing. Any objections to use of any document so exchanged shall be made before the hearing or shall be deemed waived.

- c. Document Exchange. Documents that are to be exchanged before the hearing include (1) a full, complete, and accurate sworn Inventory and Appraisement in the form and detail prescribed by the current edition of Texas Family Law Practice Manual if property division is at issue; (2) complete copies of federal income tax returns for at least the three years before the hearing; (3) a full and complete copy of all custody investigations and evaluations; (4) if a postjudgment matter, copies of all court orders and a complete statement of gross and net incomes (including assets and debts) of the parties, together with copies of each party's applicable income tax returns; (5) each party's statement of proposed resolution of each issue in controversy; and (6) any other agreed documents or documents requested by the arbitrator.
- d. Communication with Arbitrator. If counsel or a party corresponds with the arbitrator, a copy of all the correspondence shall be contemporaneously mailed to the opposing party or to counsel if one appears of record. There shall be no ex parte communications between the parties or their counsel and the arbitrator, except for such purposes as arranging ministerial matters such as times, dates, and physical arrangement of hearings and the like.

4. Hearing Procedures

- a. Interpreters. Any party wishing an interpreter shall make all arrangements directly with the interpreter and shall notify the other party and the arbitrator of the arrangements before the hearing. Initially, the requesting party shall pay all costs of the interpreter, subject to assessment of the expense by the arbitrator as part of the award.
- b. Attendance at Hearing. Hearings are private. The parties are required to attend all hearings. Unless otherwise agreed, the arbitrator shall require all actual or potential witnesses, except the parties, to be excluded from the hearing room, except during the testimony of that witness.

- c. Oaths. The arbitrator shall require each witness to swear or affirm the truth of his or her testimony. The arbitrator is authorized to administer the appropriate oath or affirmation.
- d. Record
 - i. The parties shall agree in the Family Law Arbitration Agreement whether there should be a transcript of the proceedings. However, the arbitrator may determine on application of a party that all or part of the proceedings shall be transcribed and how to allocate the transcript cost.
 - ii. If and when the arbitrator's award has been confirmed by the court, unless ordered otherwise by the court, all evidence and exhibits shall be returned to the attorney or party who provided them.
 - iii. The proceedings may be tape-recorded by the arbitrator, solely for the arbitrator's review and reference.
- e. Subpoenas. The arbitrator shall have the right to use the subpoena process as provided by Texas law. All parties shall be given a copy of a subpoena when it is issued. Parties are encouraged to produce witnesses and present proofs to the fullest extent possible without resort to the subpoena process.
- f. Power to Direct Appearances and Production of Documents. The arbitrator is empowered to direct the appearance of any person or the production of any records properly subject to process in the jurisdiction where the arbitration occurs. Unless the arbitrator directs otherwise, the party requesting the appearance of a person or the production of documents under this section shall bear all reasonable costs of the appearance or production.

- g. Order of Proceedings and Evidence. The order of proceedings shall be determined by the arbitrator. The arbitrator shall have broad discretion about how testimony and evidence shall be received. Hearings may be informal. In addition to direct testimony from parties and witnesses, the arbitrator may receive as evidence documents and affidavits, if previously exchanged as required by the prehearing conference or exchange in rule 3.c. Unless specifically otherwise agreed to, the arbitrator need not strictly adhere to the Texas Rules of Evidence, to the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, or to any statutory or case law concerning the presentation or receipt of evidence as long as all parties have a fair opportunity to present evidence on their own behalf and respond to evidence offered by the other party.
- h. Arbitrator's Right to Interview a Child in Custody-Related Matters. The arbitrator is authorized to interview a child privately, out of the presence of the parties and their counsel, to ascertain the needs and wishes of the child about custody arrangements, physical placement, visitation, and the like. The arbitrator, in conducting such an interview, shall make every effort to avoid placing the child in a position where the child is encouraged or required to make a choice between parents or to reject one parent in favor of the other. A stenographic or tape-recorded record of the interview may be made. If a guardian ad litem has been appointed, he or she shall be present during each interview.
- i. Closing the Hearing. When all the evidence is concluded, the arbitrator shall specifically inquire of each party whether he or she has any further witnesses to be heard or evidence to offer; if not, the arbitrator shall declare the hearing closed. If further documents are to be filed, the hearing shall be declared closed as of the final date set by the arbitrator for submission of the documents.

- j. Waiver of Oral Hearing. The parties may, by written agreement, waive any oral hearing and agree to resolution of the case or controversy based solely on written evidence and arguments. The agreement shall provide the procedure to be used by the arbitrator, subject to agreement by the arbitrator.

5. Professional Opinions about the Best Interests of the Child. If the arbitrator believes that the opinion of a mental health professional is necessary or helpful, the arbitrator shall encourage the parties to mutually agree on an evaluator. If the parties cannot agree on a specific mental health professional to conduct an evaluation or on the payment of costs, the arbitrator may enter an appropriate order for the appointment of a mental health professional, payment of costs, or both. A written report shall be submitted to the arbitrator and both parties before the hearing.

6. Inspection or Investigation. Any inspection or investigation of premises or property by the arbitrator shall occur only in the presence of the parties or their attorneys or after written notice by the arbitrator setting a time and place for the inspection or investigation. Any party or attorney who desires may be present at the inspection or investigation. If one or both of the parties or attorneys are not present at an inspection or investigation, the arbitrator shall make a written report of the inspection or investigation to the parties.

7. Reopening of Hearings. The hearing may be reopened before the award is rendered either in the discretion of the arbitrator, on agreement of the parties, or on application of a party for good cause shown.

8. Waiver of Rules. Proceeding with arbitration at any stage, after knowledge that a provision or requirement of these rules has not been fully complied with, and failure to make a timely written objection on knowledge that there has been a breach of these rules constitute a waiver of the right to object.

9. The Award

- a. Procedure. The arbitrator shall prepare and mail, fax, or deliver a copy of the award to the parties or attorneys within the time agreed on or set by the arbitrator, after the hearing is closed or the final briefs are submitted, whichever is later. This time may be modified by agreement of the parties and the arbitrator. If no party moves for correction or modification of the award within twenty days after the award is delivered, the arbitrator shall thereafter file the award with the court.
- b. Contents of the Award. The arbitrator's award shall set forth:
 - i. The court, cause number, and full case name, if any;
 - ii. The arbitration agreement;
 - iii. The stipulation(s) of the parties, if any;
 - iv. The findings of the arbitrator on each issue submitted, if requested by the parties;
 - v. The determination of the arbitrator on each issue submitted;
 - vi. The signature of the arbitrator and date of the award;
 - vii. The parties' relevant documents and any relevant evidence, worksheets, schedules, exhibits, or balance sheets.

If deemed appropriate, the arbitrator may issue a separate award on each of the separate issues submitted for arbitration.

- c. Change of Award by Arbitrator. On motion of a party, and in accordance with these rules, the arbitrator may modify or correct the award if:
 - i. There was an evident material miscalculation of figures or an evident material mistake in the description of any person, thing, or property referred to in the award;
 - ii. The arbitrator has awarded on a matter not submitted, unless it is a matter not affecting the merits of the award on the issues submitted; or
 - iii. The award is imperfect in matter of form not affecting the merits of the controversy.
- d. Motion for Modification or Correction. A motion for modification or correction, including all supporting affidavits, shall be served on all other parties and filed with the arbitrator within twenty days after the award is filed or delivered. A party opposing the motion for modification or correction shall file with the arbitrator and serve on all other parties written opposition to the motion and supporting affidavits no later than ten days after the date the motion is filed and served. The arbitrator shall decide any such motion solely on the motions and affidavits submitted. Any modification or correction of the award must be mailed or delivered to the parties or their attorneys within ten days of the expiration time for arbitrator's receipt of the final submission. The modified or corrected award shall supersede the original award and be the award filed with the court for confirmation.

10. Motion to Vacate Award. The award of the arbitrator may be vacated by the court in accordance with section 171.088 of the Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code, which includes in part the following circumstances for vacating an award:

- a. The award was procured by corruption, fraud, or other undue means;
- b. There was evident partiality, misconduct, or willful misbehavior by the arbitrator;
- c. The arbitrator exceeded the arbitrator's powers.

11. Filing of Award with Court. The arbitrator's final award shall be filed with the court five business days after the expiration of all relevant time periods stated in these rules.

12. Appeal of Award. If, in their arbitration agreement, the parties reserved a right of appeal on the merits of the case and a party desires to appeal the award, the appeal shall proceed in the manner provided in the arbitration agreement or by statute.

- a. The execution of a vendor's lien note in the principal sum of [number] dollars ($[amount]), bearing [percent] percent interest per year, payable over a period of [number] months, in equal installments of [number] dollars ($[amount]).
- b. The assumption of the remaining balance of the mortgage to [name of mortgagee].

- c. The execution of a deed of trust to secure the vendor's lien note described in (a.) above and the execution of a deed of trust to secure the assumption of the mortgage described in (b.) above.

4. Personal Property

1. [Name of party A] will own the property listed in Schedule A.
2. [Name of party B] will own the property listed in Schedule B.

5. Motor Vehicles

1. [Name of party A] will own the [specify] motor vehicle and will pay the remaining balance of any lien debt on it.
2. [Name of party B] will own the [specify] motor vehicle and will pay the remaining balance of any lien debt on it.

6. Money

1. [Name of party A] will receive the following bank accounts: [specify].
2. [Name of party B] will receive the following bank accounts: [specify].

7. Life Insurance

1. [Name of party A] will receive all policies of insurance on [her/his] life.
2. [Name of party B] will receive all policies of insurance on [his/her] life.

8. Retirement

[[Name of party A]/[name of party B]]'s retirement benefits at [employer] that have accrued through the date of divorce will be divided [percent] percent to [name of party A] and

[percent] percent to [name of party B]. A QDRO will be submitted to the Court for entry that contains the following particulars regarding the division of benefits: [specify—see instruction box below].

All terms of the division should be included in the agreement; if they are not included, they are not awarded. See section 2.B.6. in form 23-6 in this manual. The language there presents examples only and must be modified for the actual division and different plan.

The following must be included:

- the full and accurate plan name (note that, for example, unless the participant works for Fidelity, “Fidelity 401(k)” is NOT the plan name);
- the precise method of division;
- the date of division (typically the date of the ISA or the divorce);
- all features (e.g., loans, survivor benefits) awarded; and
- who is responsible for the QDRO preparation and submission and all associated fees.

Special consideration for defined contribution plans: If gains and losses are not included, determine how to handle the shortfall if the amount available at segregation is less than the amount awarded. Will the QDRO award the alternate payee 100 percent of the account balance in this event? How will the deficiency be handled?

Special consideration for defined benefit plans: If the participant is already receiving a monthly benefit, will the participant have to pay the alternate payee the portion of the benefit between the date of divorce and the date the plan starts paying the alternate payee directly? If so, specify how, using enforceable language.

9. Spousal Maintenance

Parties should not include any provisions deviating from chapter 8 of the Family Code unless they want to exceed the amount of monthly spousal maintenance or the duration of spousal maintenance that a court may order without an agreement. Parties wanting to deviate from the termination grounds set forth in section 8.056 of the Family Code should use the alimony provisions instead, as that deviation may cause a court to find that the postdivorce support is not spousal maintenance, despite what the parties call it.

[[Name of party A]/[name of party B]] will pay spousal maintenance to [[name of party B]/[name of party A]] of [number] dollars ($[amount]) per month for [number] months, beginning on [date], with each payment being due and payable on the [day of month] of each month. The maintenance obligation will terminate earlier on the first occurrence of an event set forth in section 8.056 of the Texas Family Code.

The parties stipulate that under chapter 8 of the Texas Family Code, without an agreement of the parties, the maximum monthly spousal maintenance obligation the Court could order [[name of party A]/[name of party B]] to pay [[name of party B]/[name of party A]] is [number] dollars ($[amount]) and the maximum duration of a spousal maintenance obligation the Court could order [[name of party A]/[name of party B]] to pay [[name of party B]/[name of party A]] is [number] months. [Include if applicable: The parties understand that the Court may not enforce by contempt or income withholding any provision of an agreed order for maintenance that exceeds the amount of periodic support the Court could have ordered under chapter 8 of the Family Code or for any period of maintenance beyond the period of maintenance the Court could have ordered under that chapter.]

This spousal maintenance obligation will be governed by the provisions of chapter 8 of the Texas Family Code and may be modified, enforced, or terminated only in accordance with those provisions.

10. Alimony

Select one of the following.

[[Name of party A]/[name of party B]] will pay contractual alimony to [[name of party B]/[name of party A]] of [number] dollars ($[amount]) per month for [number] months, beginning on [date], with each payment being due and payable on the [day of month] of each month. The alimony obligation will terminate earlier on the occurrence of one of the following events:

Or

[[Name of party A]/[name of party B]] will pay contractual alimony to [[name of party B]/[name of party A]] of [number] dollars ($[amount]) per month until the earliest event set forth below, beginning on [date], with each payment being due and payable on the [day of month] of each month. The alimony obligation will terminate on the occurrence of one of the following events:

Continue with the following. The listed items are examples.

1. Death of [name of party A];
2. Death of [name of party B];
3. Remarriage of [[name of party A]/[name of party B]]; or
4. Cohabitation by [[name of party A]/[name of party B]] with another person with whom [[name of party A]/[name of party B]] has a dating or romantic relationship in a permanent place of abode on a continuing basis.

This alimony obligation is contractual in nature and will not be governed by the provisions of chapter 8 of the Texas Family Code and may not be modified, enforced, or terminated in accordance with those provisions.

11. Liabilities

1. [Name of party A] will pay the liabilities listed in Schedule C.
2. [Name of party B] will pay the liabilities listed in Schedule D.

12. Attorney's Fees and Costs

1. [Name of party A]'s attorney's fees will be paid by [[name of party A]/[name of party B]].

2. [Name of party B]'s attorney's fees will be paid by [[name of party A]/[name of party B]].
3. Costs will be paid by [[name of party A]/[name of party B]].

13. Other Provisions

The provisions of this Informal Settlement Agreement shall be effective immediately as a contract, shall supersede any temporary orders or other agreements of the parties with respect to the subject matter of this agreement, and shall serve as a partition of all property set forth in this agreement to the person to whom such property is awarded. The parties each represent that they are sufficiently aware of the property and liabilities of the marital estate to make an informed decision regarding settlement of this matter [include if applicable: , and they waive their right to further determine the nature and extent of the property and liabilities of the marital estate and to conduct discovery].

The discovery obligations of each party shall immediately cease on the execution of this Informal Settlement Agreement, including the requirement for either party to respond to outstanding discovery requests or supplement any discovery responses.

[Specify any other provisions of agreement.]

14. Release

Each party releases the other from all claims, demands, and causes of action each may have against the other, save and except those covenants, duties, and obligations set forth in this agreement.

Include 15. if applicable.

15. Full Disclosure

Each party represents that [he or she/he/she] has made a fair and reasonable disclosure to the other of the property and financial obligations known to [him or her/him/her].

16. Final Documents

1. The terms of this agreement will be incorporated in a decree and agreement incident to divorce that will follow the forms published in the current edition of Texas Family Law Practice Manual. The attorney for [[name of party A]/[name of party B]] will prepare the documents.

2. Other closing documents will be prepared by the attorney for the party who will benefit thereby, with such documents to follow the forms published in the current edition of Texas Family Law Practice Manual.

17. Disputes Regarding This Agreement

If any dispute arises with regard to the interpretation or performance of this agreement or any of its provisions, including the necessity and form of closing documents, the parties agree to try to resolve the dispute by phone conference.

ANY DISPUTES ARISING FROM THE DRAFTING OF THE DECREE OR CLOSING DOCUMENTS OR THE INTERPRETATION AND CLARIFICATION OF THIS AGREEMENT THAT CANNOT BE RESOLVED BY PHONE CONFERENCE AS SET FORTH ABOVE SHALL BE DECIDED BY BINDING ARBITRATION WITH [name] SERVING AS ARBITRATOR. Motion for Separate Peremptory Challenges

This Motion for Separate Peremptory Challenges is brought by [name of movant], [party designation], in accordance with rule 233 of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure. In support, [name of movant] shows:

1. [Name of movant] is not aligned with either of the other parties and has asserted separate and distinct claims for relief.
2. The claims of [name of movant] are antagonistic to those of the other parties for the following reasons:

Assert the differences between the parties. For example:

[Name] seeks recovery against both Petitioner and Respondent for an unpaid debt. [Name]'s claim is adverse to both Petitioner and Respondent because recovery is sought against the community estate.

Or

Although [names] are the parents of Petitioner, [names] assert that neither Petitioner nor Respondent should be appointed managing conservator of the children.

3. To align [name of movant] with any other party in this case would deprive [name of movant] of the right to make peremptory challenges as provided in rule 233.
4. The proper alignment and equalization in this case would result in each party's having six peremptory challenges.

Objections to Jury Charge

[Name], [Petitioner/Respondent], through [his/her] counsel of record and in accordance with rules 272 through 279 of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, [include if applicable: dictating to the court reporter in the presence of the Court and opposing counsel] before the charge is read to the jury, presents to the Court the following individual and separate objections to the charge:

Select 1.–12. as applicable.

1. The charge has not been signed by the judge as required by rule 272 of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure and is therefore not a part of the record of this case.
2. The charge has not been filed with the clerk as required by rule 272 of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure and is therefore not a part of the record of this case.
3. The charge has not been presented to counsel for inspection as required by rule 272 of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure and is therefore not a part of the record of this case.
4. A reasonable time has not been given to counsel in which to examine and present exceptions to the charge as required by rule 272 of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, and the charge is therefore not a part of the record of this case.

5. Objection is made to Question [number] because there are no pleadings to support the submission of the question, in that [specify].

6. Objection is made to Question [number] because there is no evidence to support the submission of the question, in that [specify].

7. Objection is made to Question [number] as being defective because it duplicates Question [number], which is already included in the Court's charge, in that [specify].

Select as applicable.

it is a mere shade or phase of Question [number], which is already included in the Court's charge, in that [specify].

it improperly places the burden of proof on [name].

it advises the jury of the effect of its answer, in that [specify].

it is not apparent from the evidence that one or the other of the conditions or facts inquired about necessarily exists so as to warrant a disjunctive submission, in that [specify].

there is no showing that this is a special proceeding in which the pleadings are specially defined by statutes or procedural rules that would entitle [name of other party] to an affirmative submission of the issue by general denial, in that [specify].

8. The instruction [specify] is defective in that [specify], and [name of objecting party] has previously requested, tendered, and been refused a substantially correct instruction.

9. The definition of “[term]” is defective in that [specify]. “[Term]” should, in fact, be defined as [specify].

10. [Name of objecting party] objects to the Court’s failure to submit a question on [specify subject, e.g., cruel treatment on the part of John Doe]. [Name of objecting party] has pleaded [specify ground, e.g., cruel treatment], and there is sufficient evidence to support the submission of the question in that [specify]. [Name of objecting party] has previously requested, tendered, and been refused a substantially correct question on [specify ground, e.g., cruel treatment].

Include 11., if applicable, to avoid deemed finding under Tex. R. Civ. P. 279.

11. [Name of objecting party] objects to the Court’s failure to submit a question on [specify subject], which is an element of the ground of recovery for [name of other party].

12. [Name of objecting party] objects to the Court’s failure to submit a [definition/instruction] on [specify subject], in that [specify]. [Name of objecting party] has previously requested, tendered, and been refused a substantially correct [definition/instruction] on [specify subject].

Motion for Judgment Non Obstante Veredicto

This Motion for Judgment Non Obstante Veredicto is brought by [name of movant], [party designation], who shows in support:

1. The Court submitted this case to the jury on questions, and the jury returned its findings on those questions. The jury's findings were received by the Court and filed and entered in the minutes of the Court. The questions submitted to the jury and the findings on those questions are incorporated in this motion as if recited verbatim. The Court erred in submitting the case to the jury because no material issue of fact was raised by the evidence and a directed verdict for [name of movant] would have been proper on the grounds stated below.

Include the following if legal insufficiency of evidence is a ground.

2. The Court should enter judgment for [name of movant] notwithstanding the verdict because [specify reason, e.g., the evidence proves conclusively as a matter of law that [name of movant] is entitled to judgment as a matter of law/there is no evidence that [specify essential element]].

4. Arbitration. Intervenor and [Petitioner/Respondent] entered into an agreement to arbitrate future disputes as set forth in the engagement contract attached as Exhibit [exhibit number/letter], executed on [date]. The engagement contract requires the parties to submit all future disputes to [binding/nonbinding] arbitration. A controversy under the engagement contract has arisen related to payment of legal fees and expenses incurred under the engagement contract, and [Petitioner/Respondent] has refused to submit the dispute to [binding/nonbinding] arbitration. Accordingly, this Court should stay this proceeding and order that it be referred to [binding/nonbinding] arbitration for resolution.

5. Breach of Employment Contract. [Alternatively,] Intervenor pleads for damages for breach of contract. On [date], Intervenor and [Petitioner/Respondent] executed a written employment contract, in which Intervenor agreed to provide legal services in this case and [Petitioner/Respondent] agreed to pay for any legal services rendered. A copy of the contract is attached as Exhibit [exhibit number/letter] and incorporated in this pleading. Intervenor has performed necessary legal services as required by the contract, but [Petitioner/Respondent] has not paid for those legal services as agreed. A list of the legal services performed is attached as Exhibit [exhibit number/letter] and incorporated in this pleading. [Petitioner/Respondent]'s failure to pay for the legal services rendered by Intervenor under the contract constitutes a breach of the contract. As a result of that breach, Intervenor sustained damages of $[amount] in unpaid attorney's fees.

If a copy of the client's bill is attached, be sure to redact it to avoid disclosing privileged matters.

6. Quantum Meruit. [In the second alternative/Alternatively], Intervenor requests recovery for the reasonable value of the services Intervenor performed. These legal services were rendered directly to [Petitioner/Respondent]: [list specific services rendered, e.g., original petition was drafted and filed, discovery was conducted, and so forth]. Rendition of these legal services conferred a benefit on [Petitioner/Respondent], in that legal assistance was provided toward [Petitioner/Respondent]'s goal of [specify]. [Petitioner/Respondent] accepted the benefit of Intervenor's services; specifically, [describe specific facts showing acceptance of benefits or knowledge of and consent to the benefits].

The reasonable value of the legal services provided was $[amount], a reasonable and customary fee for an attorney of Intervenor's experience practicing in [county] County, Texas. Intervenor reasonably expects to be paid for [his/her] services because [he/she] has provided similar services to others in the community and been paid for them. [Petitioner/Respondent] will be unjustly enriched in the amount claimed by Intervenor if allowed to retain the benefit conferred by Intervenor without paying for the value of the legal services. Intervenor's damages became fixed on [date of termination].

7. Suit on Sworn Account. In the [third/second] alternative, Intervenor pleads for relief by suing on a sworn account. Intervenor provided legal services to [Petitioner/Respondent] on an open account. [Petitioner/Respondent] accepted the legal services and became bound to pay Intervenor its designated charges, which were reasonable and customary for an attorney of Intervenor's experience practicing in [county] County, Texas. The account, sworn to in accordance with rule 185 of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, accurately describes the legal services that Intervenor provided to [Petitioner/Respondent] and represents a transaction or series of transactions on which Intervenor has kept a systematic record in the ordinary course of business. A copy of the account is attached as Exhibit [exhibit number/letter] and incorporated in this pleading.

The client's bill should be redacted to avoid disclosing privileged matters. This pleading must be supported by affidavit stating that the claim is, within the affiant's knowledge, just and true; that it is due; and that all just and lawful offsets, payments, and credits have been allowed. See Tex. R. Civ. P. 185.

After allowing for all just and lawful offsets, payments, and credits, the principal balance due Intervenor on the account is $[amount]. Intervenor has demanded that [Petitioner/Respondent] pay this amount, but [Petitioner/Respondent] has not done so.

8. Attorney's Fees. [Petitioner/Respondent]'s nonpayment has made it necessary for Intervenor to employ [name of attorney] to file this intervention. Intervenor presented this claim to [Petitioner/Respondent] on [date] by [method of presentation]. More than thirty days have passed since the demand was made, but payment of the just amount owed has not been tendered. Intervenor seeks reimbursement for [his/her] reasonable attorney's fees as provided by section 38.001 of the Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code.

Prayer. Intervenor prays [include if applicable: that the Court refer this proceeding to [binding/nonbinding] arbitration and alternatively] for judgment of $[amount] against Petitioner and Respondent, jointly and severally; for reasonable attorney's fees and expenses through final judgment after appeal; for prejudgment and postjudgment interest as allowed by law; and for all other relief the Court deems just and appropriate.

Form 20-2

Prove-Up of Attorney's Fees

My name is [name of attorney]. I am an attorney licensed to practice law in the state of Texas, and I have been licensed to practice law in Texas since [year]. [Describe board certifications, special recognitions, and other relevant achievements.]

I have represented clients in family law cases since [year] and have the experience and the ability to handle family law cases similar to this one. [Mark and offer C.V. into evidence.]

On [date], [name of client] hired me and my law firm to represent [him/her] in this case. At that time, [name of client] signed an employment contract with my firm that contained the firm's billing rates. [Name of client] agreed to pay me at the hourly rate of [number] dollars ($[amount]) [./and] a legal assistant at the hourly rate of [number] dollars ($[amount]) [include if applicable: , and other attorneys in my law firm with hourly rates ranging from [number] dollars ($[amount]) to [number] dollars ($[amount])]. [Mark and offer employment contract into evidence.]

In addition to me, other attorneys and legal assistants employed by the law firm worked on this case. The names of the other attorneys who worked on this case are [names]. Each attorney who worked on this case is licensed to practice law in the state of Texas. [Specify licensing date and describe qualifications for each attorney.]

The name of the legal assistant who worked on this case is [name of legal assistant]. This legal assistant is qualified by experience and training to perform the services provided in this matter. [Describe qualifications.] This legal assistant performed work under the supervision of an attorney. The work performed by this legal assistant was the type of work that would traditionally be done by an attorney, such as [describe work].

I am familiar with the fees customarily charged in this locality for legal services in family law cases. The rates charged in this case that are reflected in the employment contract entered into evidence as Exhibit [exhibit number/letter] are usual and customary in [county] County, Texas, for family law cases like this one.

All the work performed by the lawyers and legal assistants during the representation is described in my law firm's billing records, which I have marked for identification purposes as Exhibit [exhibit number/letter].

These billing records marked for identification purposes as Exhibit [exhibit number/letter] were generated by my firm during the representation contemporaneously or reasonably close to the time that the work was performed.

The billing records marked as Exhibit [exhibit number/letter] were prepared and maintained in the regular course of business of [name of law firm]. It is the regular practice of [name of law firm] to have these records prepared and reduced to writing. The billing records marked as Exhibit [exhibit number/letter] were either prepared by an employee or representative of [name of law firm] who has personal knowledge of the information contained in them or, at least, prepared from information transmitted by an employee or representative who had personal knowledge of the events and conditions described in the billing records. The entries contained in the billing records marked as Exhibit [exhibit number/letter] were prepared at or near the time of the events and conditions described in the records or, at least, reasonably soon thereafter.

These billing records provide a detailed description of each task performed during the representation, identify the attorney or legal assistant who performed each task, state the amount of time taken to complete the tasks, and show the amount charged for the tasks that were performed. These billing records also reflect all expenses incurred in connection with the representation.

These billing records have been redacted to remove privileged information but still contain sufficient detail to allow for a meaningful review to determine the reasonableness and necessity of the fees charged. The fees reflected in these billing records are only for claims for which attorney's fees are recoverable, and all attorney's fees that were incurred in connection with any claims for which attorney's fees are not recoverable have been segregated from this fee request.

Include the following if applicable.

These billing records reflect legal fees only in connection with the [specify type of proceeding, e.g., modification]. These billing records do not reflect legal fees incurred in connection with any other proceeding that was pending at the same time [specify other proceeding, e.g., enforcement]. All legal fees and expenses incurred in connection with other related proceedings were kept under a separate client-matter number and are reflected in separate invoices.

Continue with the following.

Mark and offer redacted billing records into evidence. Have unredacted billing records available in the event the Court sustains objection to the redacted version.

In this case, [name of attorney] spent [number] hours on this litigation, which, multiplied at the hourly rate of [number] dollars ($[amount]), equals [number] dollars ($[amount]) in attorney's fees incurred. [Repeat for additional attorneys if applicable.]

Additionally, [name of legal assistant] spent [number] hours on this litigation, which, multiplied at the hourly rate of [number] dollars ($[amount]), equals [number] dollars ($[amount]) in legal assistant fees incurred in this matter.

At this time, I would offer into evidence what has been marked for identification purposes as Exhibit [exhibit number/letter], which is a [Petitioner/Respondent]'s Summary of Attorney's Fees, Legal Assistant Fees, and Expenses as an aid to the Court.

Pursuant to this summary marked as Exhibit [exhibit number/letter], the total amount of attorney's fees, legal assistant fees, and expenses incurred in this matter is [number] dollars ([$amount]). This amount is reasonable and necessary, taking into account the time and labor required, the novelty and difficulty of the questions involved, and the skill requisite to perform the legal service properly; the fees customarily charged in the locality for similar legal services; the amount involved and results obtained [explain as applicable]; the time limitations imposed by the client or by the circumstances [explain as applicable]; the nature and length of the professional relationship with the client; the experience, reputation, and ability of the lawyer or lawyers performing the services [explain as applicable]; and the uncertainty of collection before the legal services have been performed. Furthermore, by accepting employment in this case, I was precluded from accepting employment in other matters [explain as applicable].

Your Honor, at this time we request that the Court award [name of client] a judgment for attorney's fees in the amount of [number] dollars ([$amount]).

This concludes the Standard Possession Order.

If properly requested, state specific reasons for all deviations from the standard possession order. Tex. Fam. Code § 153.258. (See form 26-9 for written request.) Also see Tex. Fam. Code §§ 153.004, 153.191, and 153.193 for specific reasons (including family violence) for restricting or denying visitation.

The standard possession order is designed to apply to a child three years of age or older. Tex. Fam. Code § 153.251. When a child is under three years of age, the court shall enter an order appropriate under the circumstances. Tex. Fam. Code § 153.254. Tex. Fam. Code § 153.256 lists factors for the court to consider.

Because of the complexity of attempting to deal with children under three years of age (e.g., a newborn breast-feeding child as contrasted with a 2-1/2-year-old child), no possession language has been drafted for those situations. The court shall also render a prospective order (presumptively the standard possession order), to take effect on the child's third birthday (in the absence of other factors—see Tex. Fam. Code §§ 153.004, 153.191, and 153.193). Tex. Fam. Code § 153.254. In that case, the language set forth below should be added to the decree.

10.H.2. Prospective Order—Child under 3 Years
§ 153.254

The Court further ORDERS that until a child of this marriage reaches three years of age, Possessory Conservator shall have possession of and access to that child as follows: [specify periods of possession of and access to the child for each party and the general terms and conditions that apply to these periods].

The Court further ORDERS that when a child reaches three years of age, Possessory Conservator shall have possession of and access to that child as set forth in the preceding Standard Possession Order.

For provisions covering certain religious and cultural holidays, see form 56-16.

10.H.3. Duration

The periods of possession ordered above apply to [the/each] child the subject of this suit while that child is under the age of eighteen years and not otherwise emancipated.

Include 10.H.4.–10.H.7. as applicable.

10.H.4. Noninterference with Possession

Except as expressly provided herein, IT IS ORDERED that neither conservator shall take possession of the child[ren] during the other conservator's period of possession unless there is a prior written agreement signed by both conservators or in case of an emergency.

10.H.5. Electronic Communication

For purposes of this order, the term “electronic communication” means any communication facilitated by the use of any wired or wireless technology via the Internet or any other electronic media. If there is a finding of family violence in the order, include the following if applicable.

The Court finds that, even though it has [made a finding of family violence/imposed supervised visitation between the child[ren] and [name]/made a finding of family violence and imposed supervised visitation between the child[ren] and [name]], the parties have agreed to periods of electronic communication between [name] and the child[ren]. IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that, pursuant to the parties' agreement, [name] shall have electronic communication with the child[ren] as follows: [set out times and general conditions of electronic communication with each applicable child in bold-faced, capitalized type, including any specific restrictions relating to family violence or supervised visitation required by other law to be included in a possession or access order].

Continue with the following.

IT IS ORDERED that each conservator shall—

1. provide the other conservator[s] with the e-mail address[es] and other electronic communication access information of the child[ren] within [number] [hours/days] after the Court signs this order;
2. notify the other conservator[s] of any change in the e-mail address[es] or other electronic communication access information not later than twenty-four hours after the date the change takes effect; and
3. if necessary equipment is reasonably available, accommodate electronic communication with the child with the same privacy, respect, and dignity accorded all other forms of access, at a reasonable time and for a reasonable duration subject to any limitation provided in this order.

10.H.6. *Restricted Periods of Access—Family Violence
§ 153.004(d)(1), (d–1)

The Court finds that [name] has a history or pattern of committing family violence during the two-year period preceding the filing of this suit or during the pendency of this suit. The Court further finds that awarding [name] access to the child[ren] would not endanger the child[ren]'s physical health or emotional welfare and would be in the best interest of the child[ren]. IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED as follows:

Select as applicable.

After each recalculation, [name of obligor] may decrease the amount of the death benefit of the insurance policy to an amount equal to or greater than the most recently recalculated Unpaid Child Support. If after any recalculation the death benefit of the life insurance policy is less than the recalculated Unpaid Child Support, within thirty days of that recalculation [name of obligor] is ORDERED to increase and maintain the death benefit to an amount equal to or greater than the most recently recalculated Unpaid Child Support.

Within thirty days of any change of the death benefit or of any beneficiary of the life insurance policy or of any written request by [name of obligee] [mailed to [name of obligor]'s last known mailing address/e-mailed to [name of obligor]'s last known e-mail address/sent by text message to [name of obligor]'s last known mobile telephone number/[other method of communication]], [name of obligor] is ORDERED to provide [name of obligee] at [name of obligee]'s last known [mailing/e-mail] address the documentation from the life insurance company showing the policy's current death benefit and the policy's current beneficiary designation(s). If [name of obligor]'s death occurs before the termination of [his/her] child support obligation, the proceeds of the life insurance policy shall fund the [trust/annuity] and shall be distributed as ordered by the Court in accordance with the Texas Family Code. If the proceeds of the life insurance policy are insufficient to satisfy [name of obligor]'s child support obligation as determined by the Court, any unpaid child support obligation shall be an obligation of [name of obligor]'s estate. If the proceeds of the life insurance policy exceed [name of obligor]'s child support obligation as determined by the Court, [name of obligor], through the terms of the [trust/annuity], shall determine the disposition of those excess funds after [name of obligee] is paid a sum equal to the child support obligation.

IT IS ORDERED if any person or entity other than the insurance-funded [trust/annuity] described above receives proceeds of the life insurance policy [name of obligor] is ordered to maintain under the terms of this portion of the decree before both the Court orders the distribution of those proceeds and those proceeds are distributed in accordance with that order, that person or entity shall be designated a constructive trustee of those funds for the benefit of [name of obligee] to the extent the court orders those funds to be paid to [name of obligee] to satisfy [name of obligor]'s child support obligation.

10.K. Settlement of Future Disputes

The Court finds that the parties agree to the following, as evidenced by their signatures below.

Select one of the following.

a. Collaborative Model

Include the following paragraph if the matter was settled using collaborative law.

The parties agree that if a future disagreement arises regarding the child[ren], unless the parties agree otherwise or in the event of an emergency, the parties will attempt to resolve this disagreement, within sixty days of the date of written notice given by a parent to the other of the nature of the child-related issue, by using the collaborative law model in substantial conformance with the agreements made in the Collaborative Law Participation Agreement that the parties signed on [date] in their divorce, a copy of which is on file with the Court. The parties agree that a child psychologist, on whom they can mutually agree, shall act as the neutral child consultant to help the parties resolve the disagreement by recommending to the parties resolutions that are in the best interest of the child[ren]. The parties will hire individual collaborative lawyers to represent them in the collaborative model. The parties understand and agree that they are not mandated to come to an agreement regarding this dispute; however, if they are unable to agree within the collaborative law process, their collaborative lawyers shall withdraw as their counsel, and then the parties are free, if they desire, to hire trial counsel. The parties further agree that the neutral child consultant may not testify in any subsequent lawsuit, nor may his or her opinions be utilized by any other expert, unless the parties agree in writing otherwise. The parties will share equally the total costs for the neutral child consultant. If an agreement regarding the dispute is not reached after the signing of the collaborative law participation agreement and at least one four-way meeting, either party may withdraw from the collaborative process and proceed to litigation, or, if agreed, the parties may continue to work through the collaborative law process until resolution is achieved or either or both parties withdraw from the collaborative law process. The parties may use the mediation process, if agreed, in connection with the collaborative law process. The obligee of child support shall not be required to use the collaborative law model to enforce a child support obligation, nor shall the obligor be required to use the collaborative law model before filing a petition to decrease child support.

Or

b. Mediation/Arbitration

Tex. Fam. Code §§ 153.133(b) and 153.134 strongly urge the use of alternative dispute resolution procedures. The following language is intended to cover issues of conservatorship and support.

This requirement does not apply to actions brought to enforce this Final Decree of Divorce or to enforce any subsequent modifications of this decree. It is agreed that the party wishing to modify the terms and conditions of conservatorship, possession, or support of the child[ren] shall give written notice to the other party of a desire to mediate the controversy. If, within ten days after receipt of the written notice, the parties cannot agree on a mediator or the other party does not agree to attend mediation or fails to attend a scheduled mediation of the controversy, the party desiring modification shall be released from the obligation to mediate and shall be free to litigate [the/a] suit for modification.

Include the following if the parties agree to arbitrate future claims or controversies.

The parties agree that any claim or controversy arising out of this Final Decree of Divorce that cannot be settled by direct negotiation or mediation will be submitted to binding arbitration as provided in chapter 171 of the Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code. Include the first four paragraphs of 10.Q. unless an exception exists under Tex. Fam. Code § 105.006\(c\).

Tex. Fam. Code § 105.007\(c\) provides for waiver of the requirement of notice of change of information on motion by a party if the court finds the giving of notice would be likely to expose the child or the party to harassment, abuse, serious harm, or injury. See also Tex. Fam. Code § 105.006\(c\).

EACH PERSON WHO IS A PARTY TO THIS ORDER IS ORDERED TO NOTIFY EACH OTHER PARTY, THE COURT, AND THE STATE CASE REGISTRY OF ANY CHANGE IN THE PARTY'S CURRENT RESIDENCE ADDRESS, MAILING ADDRESS, HOME TELEPHONE NUMBER, NAME OF EMPLOYER, ADDRESS OF EMPLOYMENT, DRIVER'S LICENSE NUMBER, AND WORK TELEPHONE NUMBER. THE PARTY IS ORDERED TO GIVE NOTICE OF AN INTENDED CHANGE IN ANY OF THE REQUIRED INFORMATION TO EACH OTHER PARTY, THE COURT, AND THE STATE CASE REGISTRY ON OR BEFORE THE 60TH DAY BEFORE THE INTENDED CHANGE. IF THE PARTY DOES NOT KNOW OR COULD NOT HAVE KNOWN OF THE CHANGE IN SUFFICIENT TIME TO PROVIDE 60-DAY NOTICE, THE PARTY IS ORDERED TO GIVE NOTICE OF THE CHANGE ON OR BEFORE THE FIFTH DAY AFTER THE DATE THAT THE PARTY KNOWS OF THE CHANGE.

THE DUTY TO FURNISH THIS INFORMATION TO EACH OTHER PARTY, THE COURT, AND THE STATE CASE REGISTRY CONTINUES AS LONG AS ANY PERSON, BY VIRTUE OF THIS ORDER, IS UNDER AN OBLIGATION TO PAY CHILD SUPPORT OR ENTITLED TO POSSESSION OF OR ACCESS TO A CHILD.

FAILURE BY A PARTY TO OBEY THE ORDER OF THIS COURT TO PROVIDE EACH OTHER PARTY, THE COURT, AND THE STATE CASE REGISTRY WITH THE CHANGE IN THE REQUIRED INFORMATION MAY RESULT IN FURTHER LITIGATION

TO ENFORCE THE ORDER, INCLUDING CONTEMPT OF COURT. A FINDING OF CONTEMPT MAY BE PUNISHED BY CONFINEMENT IN JAIL FOR UP TO SIX MONTHS, A FINE OF UP TO $500 FOR EACH VIOLATION, AND A MONEY JUDGMENT FOR PAYMENT OF ATTORNEY'S FEES AND COURT COSTS.

Notice shall be given to the other party by delivering a copy of the notice to the party by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested. Notice shall be given to the state case registry by mailing a copy of the notice to State Case Registry, Contract Services Section, MC046S, P.O. Box 12017, Austin, Texas 78711-2017.

Include the following paragraphs in all orders.

NOTICE TO ANY PEACE OFFICER OF THE STATE OF TEXAS: YOU MAY USE REASONABLE EFFORTS TO ENFORCE THE TERMS OF CHILD CUSTODY SPECIFIED IN THIS ORDER. A PEACE OFFICER WHO RELIES ON THE TERMS OF A COURT ORDER AND THE OFFICER'S AGENCY ARE ENTITLED TO THE APPLICABLE IMMUNITY AGAINST ANY CLAIM, CIVIL OR OTHERWISE, REGARDING THE OFFICER'S GOOD FAITH ACTS PERFORMED IN THE SCOPE OF THE OFFICER'S DUTIES IN ENFORCING THE TERMS OF THE ORDER THAT RELATE TO CHILD CUSTODY. ANY PERSON WHO KNOWINGLY PRESENTS FOR ENFORCEMENT AN ORDER THAT IS INVALID OR NO LONGER IN EFFECT COMMITS AN OFFENSE THAT MAY BE PUNISHABLE BY CONFINEMENT IN JAIL FOR AS LONG AS TWO YEARS AND A FINE OF AS MUCH AS $10,000.

THE COURT MAY MODIFY THIS ORDER THAT PROVIDES FOR THE SUPPORT OF A CHILD, IF:

(1) THE CIRCUMSTANCES OF THE CHILD OR A PERSON AFFECTED BY THE ORDER HAVE MATERIALLY AND SUBSTANTIALLY CHANGED; OR

(2) IT HAS BEEN THREE YEARS SINCE THE ORDER WAS RENDERED OR LAST MODIFIED AND THE MONTHLY AMOUNT OF THE CHILD SUPPORT AWARD UNDER THE ORDER DIFFERS BY EITHER 20 PERCENT OR $100 FROM THE AMOUNT THAT WOULD BE AWARDED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE CHILD SUPPORT GUIDELINES.

10.R. Warnings to Parties

§ 105.006(d)

WARNINGS TO PARTIES: FAILURE TO OBEY A COURT ORDER FOR CHILD SUPPORT OR FOR POSSESSION OF OR ACCESS TO A CHILD MAY RESULT IN FURTHER LITIGATION TO ENFORCE THE ORDER, INCLUDING CONTEMPT OF COURT. A FINDING OF CONTEMPT MAY BE PUNISHED BY CONFINEMENT IN JAIL FOR UP TO SIX MONTHS, A FINE OF UP TO $500 FOR EACH VIOLATION, AND A MONEY JUDGMENT FOR PAYMENT OF ATTORNEY'S FEES AND COURT COSTS.

FAILURE OF A PARTY TO MAKE A CHILD SUPPORT PAYMENT TO THE PLACE AND IN THE MANNER REQUIRED BY A COURT ORDER MAY RESULT IN THE PARTY'S NOT RECEIVING CREDIT FOR MAKING THE PAYMENT.

FAILURE OF A PARTY TO PAY CHILD SUPPORT DOES NOT JUSTIFY DENYING THAT PARTY COURT-ORDERED POSSESSION OF OR ACCESS TO A CHILD. REFUSAL BY A PARTY TO ALLOW POSSESSION OF OR ACCESS TO A CHILD DOES NOT JUSTIFY FAILURE TO PAY COURT-ORDERED CHILD SUPPORT TO THAT PARTY.

All terms of the division should be included in the decree; if they are not included, they are not awarded. The language below presents examples only and must be modified for the actual division and different plan.

- all features (e.g., loans, survivor benefits) awarded; and
- who is responsible for the QDRO preparation and submission and all associated fees.

Special consideration for defined contribution plans: If gains and losses are not included, determine how to handle the shortfall if the amount available at segregation is less than the amount awarded. Will the QDRO award the alternate payee 100 percent of the account balance in this event? How will the deficiency be handled?

Special consideration for defined benefit plans: If the participant is already receiving a monthly benefit, will the participant have to pay the alternate payee the portion of the benefit between the date of divorce and the date the plan starts paying the alternate payee directly? If so, specify how, using enforceable language.

(1) All to One Spouse

Division of retirement benefits depends on the type of retirement plan. See chapter 25 of this manual.

(6) *Other Employee Benefits—
Portion of Other Spouse's Benefits Awarded*

Caution: Provisions for apportioning income, gains, losses, deductions, and credits and tax liability between the parties will not override the Internal Revenue Code and will not prevent the IRS from collecting taxes from a party in accordance with applicable law. Such provisions, if not consistent with applicable law, will give the client protection only to the extent that the provisions are enforceable by contract.

The following paragraphs provide formulas for determining the portion of the tax liability of one party required under the decree to be paid by the other party for the year of divorce, i.e., one party required to report for tax purposes 50 percent of all predivorce period community income and other party required under the decree to pay reporting party's taxes on that predivorce period community income. The allocations in these paragraphs are very complicated examples. Practitioners are strongly advised to consult with tax professionals when using these formulas. The remarriage of a party during the year of divorce, for example, may affect how well these formulas work in ways the parties may not have anticipated.

If 11.K.3.b. is used, select one of the following three paragraphs for allocation of tax liability between the parties. These are not filing methods. Then include 11.K.3.b.(4) concerning the independent calculation of the tax allocation under those paragraphs.

11.K.3.b.(1) Allocation—Actual Effective Rate

IT IS ORDERED AND DECREED that, for the calendar year [year of divorce], [name of party A] shall be responsible for and shall timely pay [name of party B], and hold [name of party B] and [name of party B]'s property harmless from, the portion of federal income taxes required to be paid by [name of party B] as shown on the federal income tax return of [name of party B] for the calendar year [year of divorce] equal to an amount (not less than zero) determined by the independent calculation of [(X times Y) minus Z], where X (the effective rate of federal income tax) is the quotient of the income tax liability (before tax credits) as shown on [name of party B]'s federal income tax return for the calendar year [year of divorce] divided by the taxable income as shown on [name of party B]'s federal income tax return for the calendar year [year of divorce]; Y is the hypothetical amount of taxable income that would be required to be shown on [name of party B]'s federal income tax return for the calendar year [year of divorce] if the only taxable income of [name of party B] were the predivorce period income, gains, losses, and deductions allocable to [name of party B] under this decree; and Z is an amount equal to the predivorce period tax credits allocable to [name of party B] under this decree. The amount required to be paid by [name of party A] to [name of party B] shall be paid within [number] days after the independent calculation is made. Taxable income shall be determined in accordance with the I.R.C. The term "predivorce period" means the period during the calendar year [year of divorce] prior to the date of divorce.

11.K.3.b.(2) *Allocation—
Hypothetical Marginal
Rate (Bottom)*

IT IS ORDERED AND DECREED that, for the calendar year [year of divorce], [name of party A] shall be responsible for and shall timely pay [name of party B], and hold [name of party B] and [name of party B]'s property harmless from, the hypothetical amount of federal income taxes that would be required to be paid by [name of party B] as shown on a federal income tax return of [name of party B] for the calendar year [year of divorce] equal to an amount determined by the independent calculation of [(hypothetical federal income tax computed on X) minus Z], where X is the hypothetical amount of taxable income that would be required to be shown on [name of party B]'s federal income tax return for the calendar year [year of divorce] if the taxable income of [name of party B] were only the predivorce period income, gains, losses, and deductions allocable to [name of party B] under this decree and Z is an amount equal to the predivorce period tax credits allocable to [name of party B] under this decree. The amount required to be paid by [name of party A] to [name of party B] shall be paid within [number] days after the independent calculation is made. Taxable income shall be determined in accordance with the I.R.C. The term “predivorce period” means the period during the calendar year [year of divorce] prior to the date of divorce.

11.K.3.b.(3) *Allocation—
Hypothetical Marginal Rate (Top)*

IT IS ORDERED AND DECREED that, for the calendar year [year of divorce], [name of party A] shall be responsible for and shall timely pay [name of party B], and hold [name of party B] and [name of party B]’s property harmless from, the hypothetical amount of federal income taxes that would be required to be paid by [name of party B] as shown on a federal income tax return of [name of party B] for the calendar year [year of divorce] equal to an amount determined by the independent calculation of [(hypothetical federal income tax computed on X) minus Z], where X is (a) the actual taxable income amount as shown on the federal income tax return of [name of party B] for the calendar year [year of divorce] minus (b) the hypothetical amount of taxable income that would be required to be shown on the federal income tax return of [name of party B] for the calendar year [year of divorce] if the taxable income of [name of party B] were only the income, gains, losses, and deductions allocable to [name of party B] for the postdivorce period and Z is the amount of tax credits shown on the income tax return of [name of party B] for the calendar year [year of divorce] minus the amount of such tax credits allocable to the postdivorce period. The amount required to be paid by [name of party A] to [name of party B] shall be paid within [number] days after the independent calculation is made. Taxable income shall be determined in accordance with the I.R.C. The term “postdivorce period” means the period of the calendar year [year of divorce] on and after the date of divorce.

If 11.K.3.b.(1), 11.K.3.b.(2), or 11.K.3.b.(3) is used, include
11.K.3.b.(4).

11.K.3.b.(4) *Allocation—
Independent Calculation*

The parties are ORDERED to employ by [date] [name of accountant] to prepare the independent calculation described above and shall direct [name of accountant] to submit the independent calculation to each party by [date].

[Name of party B] is ORDERED to provide [name of accountant] with [name of party B]’s tax return and any other information reasonably required by [name of accountant] by [date]. After [name of accountant] delivers the independent calculation to each party, IT IS ORDERED that each party shall have [number] days to review and object to the independent calculation in writing to [name of accountant] and the other party, specifying the basis for that party’s objection to the independent calculation.

If neither party timely objects to the independent calculation, or if the parties are able to resolve any objections within fourteen days of the objection, IT IS ORDERED that the fees of [name of accountant] for the preparation of the independent calculation shall be paid as follows: [specify manner of payment by each party].

If a party objects to the independent calculation and the parties are unable to resolve these objections within fourteen days of the objection, IT IS ORDERED that the parties shall submit the independent calculation to binding arbitration in accordance with Texas arbitration law. The Court finds that in this event, each party expressly waives any right to trial by a court or trial by a jury regarding the determination of the independent calculation. The parties are ORDERED to appoint an arbitrator, in the manner provided below, who shall be either an attorney board certified in tax law by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization or a certified public accountant licensed in Texas and specializing in tax law. IT IS ORDERED that the arbitrator's decision shall be binding in all respects.

IT IS ORDERED that the party who first objected to the independent calculation shall designate in writing the name of an arbitrator not later than twenty-one days after the date of that party's objection, and that not later than seven days after that designation, the other party shall designate in writing the name of an arbitrator. IT IS ORDERED that if the parties cannot agree on an arbitrator within seven days after the second party's designation, the two designees shall select a qualified arbitrator within [number] days thereafter, who shall be designated the sole arbitrator of the dispute. IT IS ORDERED that each party shall submit to the arbitrator in writing the disputed issues relating to the independent calculation with supporting documents and authorities by the date the arbitrator sets. If the parties cannot agree on the ground rules and procedures to be followed during the arbitration proceedings, IT IS ORDERED that the arbitrator shall have the sole authority to establish the ground rules and procedures to be followed during the arbitration proceeding. If the arbitrator determines that a hearing is necessary, the parties are ORDERED to attend the arbitration hearing on the date and at the time and place set by the arbitrator. Absent agreement to the contrary, either party may furnish a court reporter, but none shall be required. The parties are ORDERED to pay both the cost of arbitration and [name of accountant]'s fees for the preparation of the independent calculation as the arbitrator directs. IT IS ORDERED that the award of the arbitrator shall be binding and conclusive on the parties. The parties agree that the arbitrator may deliver the arbitrator's award by e-mail to the parties or to their designated representatives. Any court of competent jurisdiction may enter a judgment confirming the arbitration award.

11.K.3.c. Treatment/Allocation—
Partition of Taxable Income to Pre-Date of Divorce

The following provision partitions, for tax purposes, between the parties as of January 1 of the year of divorce the income, gains, losses, deductions, and credits of the parties for the period January 1 of the year of divorce through the date of divorce with the intent that each party pay tax only on that party's income, etc., for tax purposes.

The Texas Family Code requires a court to confirm an agreed partition or exchange of the income and earnings from a spouse's property, wages, salaries, and other forms of compensation received on or after January 1 of the year in which the suit for dissolution of marriage was filed or that were received in another year during which the spouses were married for any part of the year. Tex. Fam. Code § 7.002\(c\). It is unclear whether the Internal Revenue Service or the courts will recognize the retroactive effect of such a partition to a calendar year before the year of divorce. The wise practitioner will advise the client to consult with a certified public accountant or tax attorney before relying on this statute.

For the purposes of determining income tax liability, the parties agree and hereby partition, as a party's sole and separate property beginning January 1 of the calendar year of [year of divorce] and prior to the date of divorce, 100 percent of the income, gains, losses, deductions, and credits attributable to or derived from—

- a. that party's personal earnings;

- b. the property awarded to that party as that party's sole and separate property in this decree;
- c. the property confirmed as that party's sole and separate property in this decree; and
- d. the property in that party's sole name, whether community or separate property, that was owned by that party during the calendar year [year of divorce] and prior to the date of the divorce and that was disposed on or after January 1, [year of divorce], but before the date of divorce.

Include the following paragraph if applicable.

Notwithstanding the allocations in item d. above, the parties further agree and hereby partition, as that party's sole and separate property during the calendar year [year of divorce] prior to the date of divorce ("predivorce period"), [percent] percent to [name of party A] and [percent] percent to [name of party B] of the income, gains, losses, deductions, and credits attributable to the following property that was disposed during the predivorce period:
[describe property held in both parties' names or in one party's sole name during the predivorce period].

Continue with the following if 11.K.3.c. is used.

The partition described above further assigns to a party estimated tax payments and withholding taxes made by, in the name of, or for the benefit of that party from January 1, [year of divorce], through the date of divorce, as if the same were that party's sole and separate property. The parties agree and IT IS ORDERED AND DECREED that, for the purposes of determining each party's income tax liability, the property referenced above in items b. and c. for that party and each such property that was disposed on or after January 1, [year of divorce], and before the date of divorce, to the extent the income, gains, losses, deductions, and credits attributable to the property are partitioned to that party, shall be deemed to have been partitioned to that party and have been that party's separate property as of January 1, [year of divorce], or the date of the property's acquisition, if later.

IT IS ORDERED AND DECREED that for the calendar year [year of divorce], each party shall file a federal income tax return in accordance with the I.R.C. and this decree.

11.K.3.d. Treatment/Allocation
 26 USC § 66(a)—
Community Income—
Living Apart

The following alternative method of allocating between the spouses and reporting community income for the year of divorce may be used if the parties satisfy the requirements of Internal Revenue Code section 66(a) and the treasury regulations thereunder. To qualify—

1. the spouses must have been married to each other during any part of the calendar year;
2. the spouses must have lived apart (separate residences) for all of that calendar year and must have not filed a joint return for that calendar year;
3. one or both of the spouses must have earned income for the calendar year that is community income; and
4. there must have been no transfers (directly or indirectly) of earned income between the spouses during that calendar year other than de minimis amounts and transfers for the benefit of children.

Warning: Payments of financial obligations of one party with the other party's earned income may violate item 4. above regardless of whether those payments were made under a court order.

Earned income is defined in I.R.C. § 911(d)(2) as amounts received as compensation for personal services.

The Court finds that the parties have lived apart at all times during the calendar year of [year of divorce], that [name[s] of party[ies]] [has/have] earned income that is community income during that calendar year, and that there have been no transfers of earned income between the parties from January 1, [year of divorce], through the date of divorce. IT IS ORDERED AND DECREED that each party shall file a federal income tax return in accordance with I.R.C. sections 66(a) and 879(a) for the entire year ending December 31, [year of divorce].

IT IS ORDERED AND DECREED that each party shall be solely liable for the tax liability shown on [his or her/his/her] return and shall timely pay and hold the other party and the other party's property harmless from any liability of the reporting party for federal income taxes for the calendar year [year of divorce].

There are major differences in the allocation of income between the general rule (see 11.K.3.b.) and I.R.C. § 66(a). The parties should be advised by a qualified tax adviser about the proper allocation of income when filing under this code section.

IT IS ORDERED AND DECREED that each party shall use as a credit against that party's income tax liability for [year of divorce] 100 percent of all estimated tax payments and withholding taxes made by, in the name of, or for the benefit of that party, 50 percent of the prior year tax overpayment carryforward of the parties to the calendar year [year of divorce], and 50 percent of all estimated tax payments made in the names of both parties for the period prior to the date of divorce.

IT IS ORDERED AND DECREED that, if the Internal Revenue Service disallows the reporting of community income in accordance with sections 66(a) and 879(a), allocation of tax liability shall still be made in the same proportions as though the income tax were calculated under section 66(a) and each party shall pay or reimburse the other party for the amount of income tax paid by the other party in excess of the amount of income tax the other party would have paid if I.R.C. section 66(a) had applied.

Continue with the following.

11.K.4. Indemnification

IT IS ORDERED AND DECREED that for the calendar year [year of divorce], each party shall indemnify and hold the other party and the other party's property harmless from any tax liability associated with the reporting party's federal income tax return for that year unless the parties have agreed to allocate their tax liability in a manner different from that reflected on their returns.

11.K.5. Preparation of Returns for

Each party is ORDERED to allow the other party access to these documents, information, and records as reasonably necessary for the determination of that party's tax liability or to respond to an examination or audit by the Internal Revenue Service or other governmental agency within a reasonable time after receipt of written notice from the party requesting access to the documents, information, and records. 11.K.7. Payment of Taxes Not Income

IT IS ORDERED AND DECREED that all payments made to the other party in accordance with the allocation provisions for payment of federal income taxes contained in this Final Decree of Divorce are not deemed income to the party receiving those payments but are part of the property division and necessary for a just and right division of the parties' estate.
